They talk to me of others, As fair they say as thou; With eyes as darkly glorious, With such a god-like brow; They speak of wealth and statio 'Tis all is vain to me; For while they talk of others, I think alone of thee.

They tell me time is fleeting, And youth will soon be o'er; They bid me seize the present, And nurse the past no more; They point to me the future— "So lone as it must be"— They know not that my spirit Is linked for aye to thee.

They cannot, cannot move me; My purpose is my own; To'outward-sys it may be I walk the world alone; My inward world is peopled With thought and feeing free; And life can no'er be lovely While I may think of thee.

SIR, —I have just painted a new Ship with your Metallic fron Paint, and I have much pleasure in stating that I never painted a Ship with so small a quantity of Paint and Oil, and look so well. From its adheevice qualities and the manner it covers the wood, I have so doubt but it will be more durable and much cheaper than any other paint used for sach purposes, and would recommend it to the public generally.
