

A TICKET TO WIN.

Hon. F. P. Thompson, John Anderson, W. T. Whitehead and John A. Campbell.

CHOSEN AS THE GOVERNMENT STANDARD BEARERS IN YORK COUNTY.

At a Convention Composed of over Two Hundred Representative Electors of the County.

HON. MR. BLAIR WAS PRESENT AND RECEIVED AN OVATION.

The convention of the friends of the local government in York county held in temperance hall yesterday afternoon was one of the largest and most representative gatherings of the kind ever convened in this county. The men who composed it came from almost every section of the constituency representing its intelligence, energy and respectability, and the nominations made will be hailed with approval by the party everywhere.

The Herald was not able to obtain the names of all the general present, but an actual count showed the number to exceed over two hundred of the solid yeomanry of York.

The delegates included:

Down to Business.
Mr. Wilson in calling the convention to order, said it was very pleasing to the members for the county to find such a large gathering of electors in response to their call for a convention to nominate candidates for the pending election. He would move that Dr. Coburn, of Bright, be called upon to preside over the convention, and it was carried unanimously. As Dr. Coburn came forward he was warmly cheered. He thanked the convention for the confidence reposed in him and suggested that the business of the afternoon be proceeded with at once.

L. C. Macmillan was elected Secretary. The Chairman asked the meeting how it was proposed to proceed, and on motion of Mr. Wilson, it was resolved to elect two delegates from each parish of the county and each ward of the city to nominate the candidates. The committee was then elected as follows:

- Southampton—Leonard Miller, Geo. S. Ingraham, Wm. Colter, Wm. Graham, Douglas—Geo. Seymour, Cornelius Hagerman, St. Marys—Elihu VanWart, James E. Simmons, Queensbury—Ludlow Cliff, Whitnall Cliff, Stanley—John Malone, Havelock Kelly, Kingsclear—Geo. Strange, A. E. Cliff, Manners-Sutton—John Mowatt, William Murphy, Prince William—Wm. Henry, Jared Smith, North Lake—Leonard Gould, Hugh McMillan, Canterbury—Dr. Dow Coburn, G. F. A. Jamieson, Dumfries—Geo. Ebbett, Archie Henry, Fredericton—Wellington ward—Alex. Calder, St. Ann's—Alfred Turner, Ludlow Verxa, Carleton—P. Farrell, Jacob Hazleton, Queens—J. H. Hawthorn, W. A. Gibson, Kings—Jas. Rowan, M. Neville, Marysville—Horace Pugh, City and county at large—Odhar Dunphy, Nashwak—Geo. A. Hughes, Fredericton; Geo. Pugh, Douglas; Albert Kilburn, Bright, Elijah Estabrook, Fredericton.

Before the committee retired, the chairman called upon

HON. A. G. BLAIR

to address the convention, and the Premier was received with a most hearty and spontaneous outburst of applause. He said he had stood on this platform many times before to receive his party's nomination for the legislature, and he could scarcely realize that events have changed and that he is not here in a similar capacity. Three years ago his old constituency had voted to change the representation of the county, and he was compelled to seek another seat. He did not leave this county of his own free will, but under a momentary impulse, the electors thought that their interests would be better served by somebody else. He had been obliged to say good-bye to his old county, and he was not here seeking a nomination. But the opportunity has now arrived when he can reverse the verdict of 1892. He did for a little while hesitate whether to come here or not, in view of the splendid outlook for the government throughout the province, but he concluded there is still a warm feeling in the county for him and his administration, and he came here to ask the electors of York to nominate him to redden the standing which this county lost in the legislature when the county rendered its verdict of 1892. During his public career he had made the interests of the county the thing nearest to his heart, and he felt he still possessed the confidence of the great majority of the people. You know a religious cry was raised in this county, and people of different denominations living as neighbors, would have been set at each other's throats if the men who were responsible for the agitation could have managed it, but the people were scarcely prepared to see a reversal of this act so early in this campaign.

It was charged that we were untrue to the Protestants of this country, but since this campaign has opened, the Bathurst School Question has been declared a dead issue by these same parties. It was a live issue when it could be used by these people, but it now suited them to declare it dead. So far as the government is concerned, it has never deterred one iota from its position of 1892 on the Bathurst school question. The electors were deceived in 1892 on that question, and many of them were deceived at the same time by the cry that the government was to be defeated in the country. You know that was the cry, but no sooner were the ballots counted than it was seen we were returned by a larger majority of the house than we ever received before. Men had been led to withdraw their allegiance because it was declared the government would be defeated; they had been led to reject men who had stood faithfully in the county's interests. What is the evidence in the present contest? Is there the speck of a cloud which indicates the defeat of the government in the country? No, all the evidence shows that on the 10th inst., the government was stronger in the new legislature than in the old. We have been attacked on all hands but the result of investigations in the legislature shows the opposition have been unable to fasten any one of the charges on us, and our supporters increased in each successive house. You were told that if the opposition were returned in this county, their investigations would prove something against the government. But what is the volume of the services these gentlemen have rendered since 1892?

Seeing then, gentlemen, that the opportunity is offered you of reversing the verdict of 1892, I ask you to nominate four men who will successfully carry the standard of the government in this constituency. It is the first time in the history of this county that it has not had a potent voice in the councils of the province, and the chance is now presented to have that voice—recovered the standing you lost three years ago. We regretted he had to leave by the train at 10 o'clock, but he felt that he would be forgetful of kindness extended to him during the many years he had the honor of representing this county. A round of applause greeted the Attorney-General as he resumed his seat. The committee retired and shortly afterwards through their chairman, J. E. Simmons, reported the nomination of Hon. A. G. Blair, Wm. Wilson, John Anderson, and Thos. H. Colter.

The report was put to the meeting and carried amid applause, and took the platform. He referred to his past victories in 1885, 1886, 1890, 1891, and to his defeat of 1892, and thanked the electors for the confidence they now expressed by their nomination to-day. He had carefully reviewed, however, that as he had run many elections that in justice to himself and to his family he would have to decline the nomination, unless it is absolutely necessary for him to go into the fight. A determined attack had been made upon him in this county, and in consequence of the slanders which had been circulated regarding him, he would always feel grateful to the electors for the confidence they had so many times placed in him, and if he could ever be of service to them they had but to command him.

MR. T. H. COLTER

said it had been circulated in the county that Colter was to be unloaded, but the action of this convention gave him the lie to that slander. In the last campaign a member of the present opposition had said it abroad that Colter had sold out the Orangemen by running on the government ticket. What do we find to-day? Down in Kings county the past grand master of the Orangemen, Mr. Fowler, is a government candidate, and in St. John the present grand master is friendly to the administration. Referring to the nomination of Mr. Blair, he said for personal reasons he would have to decline it. But if it was necessary that he should go into the contest, if this convention failed to secure the men they desired, he would not refuse to again join a ticket to victory in the present contest.

MR. ANDERSON

in a pleasant speech also declined the nomination, but if the party could not make a better selection John Anderson is with you. (Applause.) It had been stated in a section of the press that John Anderson was to be dropped, but the convention's action showed him that he still had a warm place in the regard of his old friends and supporters.

MR. WILSON

on behalf of the Attorney-General, thanked the convention for nominating Mr. Blair, but he knew that that gentleman had already accepted the nomination in Queens. He therefore, on behalf of Mr. Blair, thanked the convention for the expression of its confidence and respectfully declined for him the proffered nomination. The committee again retired and after consultation, Mr. Simmons reported to the convention that they had nominated

- John Anderson
Hon. F. P. Thompson
W. T. Whitehead
John A. Campbell.

The report was received with great applause by the meeting.

MR. ANDERSON

then took the platform, and while regretting some other gentleman had not been chosen for the nomination, he would leave nothing undone to secure the election of the entire ticket. The announcement was received with rounds of applause, showing the strong feeling Mr. Anderson had on the electors present.

HON. MR. THOMPSON

was given a grand ovation as he ascended the platform. He said it was not the first time he had been nominated. He had been elected and he had been defeated, and he knew both ends of it. He hoped the Gleaner reporter who was present a few minutes ago, would represent this convention just as it was, and a splendid representation of the intelligent electors of York. He believed the county would be redeemed from the snap verdict of 1892. The opposition ticket now nominated would not serve as a plaster to heal the wounds inflicted by the sectarian agitation of the last campaign. He would accept the nomination and would go into the contest to win. (Great applause.) He had been vilified in the press, but there is no man in this constituency to whom he cannot go and ask him if his character would not at least bear a favorable comparison with the men who had cast reflections on his personal reputation. We have a short time to canvass the constituency, but we will get there on the 10th. (Loud applause.) Mr. Thompson spoke with great energy and eloquence, and every word met a responsive echo from the audience.

MR. WHITEHEAD

was received with round after round of applause. He assured the committee that the nomination had been a great surprise. He had never had aspired to political life, but he claimed to possess some business capacity and integrity, and if this convention thought he was a suitable candidate in this contest his services were at their disposal. (Great cheering.) Mr. Campbell was not present, and on motion of Mr. Wilson, Dr. Coburn, Mr. Thompson, Geo. A. Hughes, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Whitehead, were appointed a committee to await on him and ascertain his decision, and if he does not accept, to name some gentleman to take his place on the ticket.

On motion of Geo. A. Hughes the following resolution was unanimously passed by the committee:—
Resolved, That this convention hereby place on record its hearty appreciation of the valuable services to the party and county rendered by Mr. Blair, Whitehead, Colter, and each of them, and express its confidence in their ability and integrity as public men with the hope that their services may be used in the near future again as called into use.

Mr. Colter brought up the charges made against him in the Gleaner regarding the management of the by-ones money and characterized them as slanderous and unfounded. He challenged the closest scrutiny and investigation into the matter. He was prepared to meet his accusers anywhere, and to convince the people that he is not the vile creature which a section of the press had represented him to be. Adjourned.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

The Nuptials of Miss Jennie Logan and Dr. J. Darley Harrison celebrated Thursday.

A wedding which has been looked forward to with unusual interest took place at 1 p. m. Thursday, when Miss Jennie Logan, eldest daughter of Mrs. Thomas Logan, and Dr. J. Darley Harrison, of Edmonton, N. W. T., eldest son of Dr. Harrison, Chancellor of the University of New Brunswick, were married at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. W. F. Fowler's, Regent Street. Miss Logan was one of our most worthy and popular young ladies, one who enjoyed the esteem of a large circle of personal friends for her many excellent traits of character, and was an energetic, spirited, and intelligent young lady, full of good works, a pillar in the Methodist church organization and societies, and always willing to lend her aid to any deserving work. In the hospital aid society of young ladies, who have done so much to help along a deserving institution, Miss Logan was one of the most active and useful members, and her play will be hard to fill. Adorable, courteous, gentle, possessing all the qualities which mark a perfect lady, it is not too much to say that the bride of Thursday was one of Fredericton's favorite young ladies. It was fitting that she should unite her matrimonial fortunes with a young gentleman so highly esteemed as Dr. Harrison. The bridegroom, who is a Fredericton boy, born, bred and educated here, has a promising career before him in the medical profession. He graduated in arts at the University of N. B., took his medical course at McGill University, and in the past three years has established a large practice in Edmonton, a thriving town in the North West. Rev. Mr. Tippett performed the ceremony—in a perfect bower of green. The bride and groom stood in a bay window, which was backed up with ferns and other plants, and smiles trailed over the curtains, around the walls and in the parlors, and the rooms looked radiant with light. The bride wore a brilliant wedding party who had come to wish long life and happiness to the Doctor and his bride. The invited guests included: Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Brecken, Dr. and Mrs. Coulthard, Dr. and Mrs. Coburn, Hon. A. G. and Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Edgecombe, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edgecombe, the Misses Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Taylor, A. G. Harrison of Edmonton, Professor Stockley, Dr. and Mrs. Harrison, Prof. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Gill, Miss Smith; the Misses Blair, Lewis, Brown, W. Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bell, Miss Moore, Eddie Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trites, Mr. and Mrs. Barbour, Ernest Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay, Miss Logan, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Phipps, of St. John; Mr. Z. Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Currie, Frank Currie, of Woodstock; Miss Stevenson, Dr. and Mrs. Evans, Hampden, the Misses Thompson, Mrs. Thorne, the Misses Thorne, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. F. Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Coulthard, Miss Sayre, Miss Bessie Babbitt, Miss Aggie Nell, Chas. E. Nell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edney, Mr. and Mrs. David, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weidell, Dr. and Mrs. Fisher, Marysville, Miss Mackay, B. F. Mackay, Dartmouth.

The bride wore a very pretty costume of white satin, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She looked charming indeed. Her sister, Miss Bessie Logan, was bridesmaid and was very effectively gowned in yellow silk with yellow velvet sleeves. The bridesmaids were Misses Bessie Logan, Miss Aggie Nell, Chas. E. Nell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edney, Mr. and Mrs. David, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weidell, Dr. and Mrs. Fisher, Marysville, Miss Mackay, B. F. Mackay, Dartmouth.

After the ceremony a superb luncheon was served and Dr. and Mrs. Harrison left in the evening for the train for Edmonton, receiving a lively send-off at the depot. They will stop off at Montreal and Calgary on the trip. Mrs. Harrison's traveling costume was navy blue, with tan vest and blue hat.

The number and elegance of Mrs. Harrison's presents were very much admired by the guests at the wedding, but the bride's modesty forbids a newspaper description of them. The presents included, among others, both Dr. and Mrs. Harrison have moved so far from their friends in Fredericton, joins in the general wish of the community for their happiness and success in their western home.

Belonged to Nashwak.

William Sutherland, postmaster at Woodville, Montana, died very suddenly on the 20th September. He was 64 years of age and went to Montana about 14 years ago. In the account of his death it is stated that he has a wife and two children living on the Nashwak, about 30 miles from Fredericton, and his only known relative in Montana is a Mrs. John McLaughlin of Butte. A search was made by the coroner for his effects, and a certificate of deposit for $2,000 on the First National Bank of Butte, dated Sept. 11, 1895, and $14.50 in cash in his pocket-book, which was concealed in his bed. About $45 was also found in the post office desk. The coroner took possession of the money and the dead man's watch until they can be turned over to the public administrator.
