Give the Miller His Due, Mrs. Housewife

If he selects his wheat—

Washes, brushes and scours it—

It is fair to you and fair to him that you specify his flour.

That's why we tell you of Gold Medal Flour.

We do it to better your baking—to give you more for your money—and to win a bigger place.

The South African Fight.

To the Editor Evening Telegram.

The accompanying extracts of a letter from my brother Harold may prove of interest. He had been through the campaign after DeWet and had previously had a narrow escape from being captured by Maritz when the latter rebelled.

My second brother, Bert, is with the King Edward Horse and is now probably in France though we have no definite news, whilst I am trying "to do my little bit" as a musketry instructor with the McGill Regiment here.

Yours,

E. S. GALLOP.

Extracts From Letter Received From
Sergt. Major H. Gallop, an Active Service, at Walsh Bay, South Africa.

After referring to his movements through the Orange Free State after De Wet with Botha's column, he says: "After the rebellion was squashed I was again sent to Frisla and on to Uptington, only to be immediately sent back to Cape Town en route for G. S. W. A. by boat. After about three weeks at Three Anchor Bay, where I was in charge of a depot, we were sent on here on the 21st December, 1914. In consequence we spent Xmas Day on the sea where the officers of our boat put us up a good spread, and under the circumstances we had a good time. On the voyage up I slept on the boat deck of what was once a German cargo boat of about 6,000 tons and one of the worst rollers I have ever seen—in fact with our heavy deck cargo she rolled dangerously at times. We landed here on the 26th December.

Our first impressions were anything but favourable. One fellow described the place, and aptly enough, as a deserted Esquimaux camp. The settlement consists of a couple of dwelling houses, several fishing stages and a flag mast. In fact with a setting of Newfoundland rocks and a few bushes, instead of a sandy waste for a back ground, it might easily be taken for a Terra Nova fishing harbour. There is a splendid beach here, just like Nuizenberg in fact, but we have been warned against sharks, so cannot venture out far. I have, as a matter of fact, just come back from a dip (9.30 p.m. and as dark as Egypt). Had intended bathing in the day but was too busy checking biscuits, jam, rice, etc. All the water we get here is condensed and we are only served with a gallon per diem each for drinking and washing purposes so we look upon our bath as a "cleanser" more than anything. An experimental sea water soap has been dished out to us for the purpose, and although not a great success we are, with a good deal of patience and plenty of application, able to get a bit of lather on.

There is a tremendous amount of work to be done before we are through with this G. S. W. A. campaign. First of all a railway has to be built to Swakopmund to link up with the Windhoek line—some 25 miles I understand through shifting sand. Swakopmund is too shallow and open to allow of steamers riding at anchor for any length of time. With a force of 6,000 which have already been landed and another 14,000 to come, you will imagine and appreciate the difficulty of feeding such a force in an absolute desert. When once we get through the sandy belt of about 80 miles no doubt the conditions will improve. At any rate it must be surmised that fodder for horses will be obtainable when once inside, if what we hear about its being an ideal stock country is true. We have only one small pier here so it is a matter of great difficulty getting all the stuff landed—particularly engineering material necessary for railway construction, and pumping and boring engines where-with to obtain water.

Patrols of Germans have come closer during the past few days, but we are prepared for all emergencies. I think, and expect the Germans know it, too, for no great force has appeared at any one time. It may be a matter of some months—say 9 or 12—but the Union forces must predominate in the end. We all have great faith in Botha who will probably join us in the field after Parliament meets towards the end of the month, when an advance forward will be possible. I hope I shall be able to go right through to Windhoek. It will be a trying job but the country from the Uptington and Kakamas side is much the same so I know what to expect. At the present moment I boss the "buck nags" (niggers) and superintend the landing of our stuff at the pier.

I am delighted to hear how Newfoundland has come forward with volunteers and with such an interest taking like this, it is doubtful if our Newfoundland unit would be mentioned in despatches. Speaking of the Rebellion—"To tell the truth, I prefer not to think of it. It will be a slur against South Africa for many a long day, although in reality it may be a good thing for the country generally. It certainly ought to encourage immigration, and the Britisher will have a better chance for all the rebels are more or less earmarked and the Government are pretty alert these days, although personally I think that if the majority of Dutchmen (I don't mean the "Back Velders") thought there was a ghost of a chance of getting their country back, even under German regime, they would again rebel. If they do by any chance, they will give no quarter this time. Maritz is still pretty active and I doubt if we shall ever capture him. He proved himself a funk during the Boer War by running away when it came to scrapping, but of course this is one of the secrets of guerilla warfare. He is another "slim kerel" and may give a lot of trouble with German troops and ammunition. He is certainly "for it" if he gets "cop-ped."

When I was in Cape Town I was offered a commission but like Mr. Micawbar "I'll never desert my friends."

("Slippery customer.")

Monday's Lecture.

Under the auspices of the T. A. Club, Mr. H. F. Shortis will lecture on "Our Heroes of the past, and what they have done for the Empire," on Monday night next. The subject is a well chosen one, and at the present time should prove most interesting. Mr. Shortis is well known for his ability as a lecturer, and his past efforts in this direction have been greeted with crowded calls. His close study of history and his reminiscences of our earlier days have given him vast funds of information from which he will draw on Monday night next.

TO THE PUBLIC.—On behalf of the City Poor, kindly keep Thursday night, April 8th, free of engagements, when, under the patronage of their Excellencies the Governor and Lady Davidson, St. Thomas's Glee Singers will render a Concert in the Methodist College Hall. Local talent. Proceeds for the above laudable object. Particulars later.—feb25,eod,tif

Egg-shells need not be wasted. You break many eggs a week, and throw the shells in a rubbish heap. If you were to keep all these shells, wash them and store them in a box, you would have material for cleaning glass bottles of cruet, etc. Take the shells out as wanted, crush them very finely, partly fill the bottles with them, pour in hot soapsuds, and shake the bottles well. Rinse out in clean water, and the glass will be clear and bright. Egg-shells are also good for cleaning coffee and jelly.
