TERMS ON TIGRIS DEMORALIZED.

LONDON, To-day. The Turkish gunboat Marmaris, sunk and the transport Mosul, captured, according to an official statement given out this evening by the British Government. The action took place in the Persian Gulf region. The text of the statement follows: Fuller reports of our advance up the Tigris River and the occupation of Amara show that as a result of the action of May 31 and June 1, the enemy's force which had been threatening Kurnah some time became completely demoralized. No resistance appears to have been offered to the small party pursuing by the river, the Turks trying to escape as fast as they could in small steamers. The former surrendered being overtaken, while the Turkish gunboat Marmaris was sunk and the transport Mosul captured. Although the strength of the force which arrived at Amara, the Comet (a British destroyer), and some small launches, were quite insignificant, the entire garrison which numbered over 1,000, surrendered, including the Turkish civil Governor of Amara, and Halim Bey, Commandant of the force recently opposing us at Kurnah. Said Tiliak, Commandant of two fire battalions, shortly after our occupation of Amara, the advanced guard of the troops of the Baghdad column which retreated from Kherka Valley, entered the town and were captured. The remainder of this force is estimated at about 2,000 fled, leaving heavy guns in our hands. The remnants of the enemy who so far have escaped capture are retreating in a state of disorganization, having discarded their arms.

WRECKED LABORATORY.

QUEBEC, To-day. An explosion, the cause of which has not yet been established, completely wrecked at noon yesterday, a small laboratory of the Dominion Arsenal, on the Plains of Abraham. The damage is said to be slight. Two men were slightly injured.

DEATH-BLOW OF GERMANIC POWER.

LONDON, To-day. One of the most decisive events in the world conflict is what the Evening Star calls the resignation of Secretary of State Bryan. Coming after the heroic decision of Italy to draw the sword in defense of liberty and public law in Europe, the Star says: "It is a death-blow of Germanic power. It means America has crossed the Rubicon. It means the greatest democracy on earth has resolved to be true to itself and its ideals. It means America will omit no act which is necessary to cleanse the seas of the Prussian wolves and tigers who prey upon women and children."

THE LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day. The resignation of Bryan and the nature of the American Note to Germany which brought it about, bearing on interest all else, bearing on the war. The London papers give Bryan's letter of resignation and President Wilson's reply the most prominent place. These are followed by long despatches from American correspondents and articles on Bryan's career which emphasize the advocacy of the settlement of international disputes by arbitration, and draws the conclusion that the Note must be very strong to have brought about his retirement. "America stands firm," or similar expressions, are the most favored, and also the text of editorials commenting on the latest developments of American-German relations. Even the news of another German submarine being sunk and the announcement by Balfour of a change in the British policy respecting the treatment of German submarine prisoners, had to take second place in the day's events. This change of policy had been expected for some time. When Churchill, the former First Lord, announced on March 8, that prisoners rescued from German submarines would not be accorded honourable treatment extended to other prisoners, a number of the members of the Commons expressed disapproval, and the anticipated reprisals which the Germans took against British officers imprisoned in Germany. Steps will be taken through the American Embassy to inform the German Government of this change of British policy in the hope that British officers suffering solitary confinement will be given the same treatment as other prisoners.

Another important announcement in the Commons which attracted much attention, was that of the Premier, who stated that the casualties among the British expeditionary forces on the Continent and Mediterranean amount to more than a quarter of a million. There are still the casualties suffered by the Navy and the Naval division to be added to this total. So far as the battles are concerned, that of Galicia holds the centre of the stage. The capture by the Austrians of the South African rebellion against Great Britain, pleaded not guilty to a charge of high treason, but guilty to a charge of sedition, at the opening yesterday of his trial at Bloomsfontein, says a despatch. The indictment against him is a long one, covering alleged rebellious acts and seditious utterances. Attorney General Degrager is prosecuting the case and three judges are sitting.

Supreme Court.

Court met at 11 a.m. to-day pursuant to adjournment. Present the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Emerson.

Bishop, Sons & Co., Ltd. vs Joseph Benning.—By consent of Foote and Morine, K.C., for Plaintiff and Dett., respectively, this case is adjourned until the fall session.

The King vs. Dewey Day.—This is an indictment for murder. The Grand Jury are present and retire at 11.30 a.m. to consider the indictment. The Grand Jury return at 2.15 p.m. and through their foreman Mr. Patrick Kavanagh, announce that they had not yet agreed upon their finding, and wished to adjourn for lunch until 3 p.m.

Wanted It Done Quickly

The blacksmith, who was pretty good at his trade, but ignorant of medical lore, sprained his wrist one afternoon and lost no time in hustling to the surgery of a doctor.

The doctor examined the wrist, and then took a small bottle from a shelf, but found it empty.

"James," said he, turning to an assistant, "go upstairs and bring me down a couple of those phials."

"What's that?" exclaimed the patient, suddenly showing large signs of emotion.

"I was merely asking my assistant to bring me down a couple of phials from up stairs," answered the doctor.

"Phials!" cried the blacksmith, with a lack of determination. "No, you don't. If that hand has got to come off you will use an axe or a saw!"

BOYCOTT BY GERMAN MASONS.

They Sever all Relations with Italian and French Lodges.

Berlin, June 3.—The German Grand Lodge of Free Masons have adopted the following declaration:

"In view of the attitude of the Italian Free Masons, who inspired by French sympathizers, took part in the political struggle, leading to the war, and thereby violated the cardinal principle of freemasonry expressly forbidding such methods. The German Grand Lodge hereby severs all former relations with Italian and French freemasonry.

"Toward freemasons in other hostile lands, the Grand Lodge reaffirms the decision adopted at an earlier date that all relations of various grand lodges be suspended from the outbreak of hostilities."

Kitchener Conceals Movements of Troops Throughout England.

Soldiers, Marching Out of Any Camp, May be Off to Transport.

LONDON, May 27.—Spring is witnessing a movement of troops all over England, some leaving for the front and others moving from the towns where they have been billeted to encampments in the open country. But when a battalion is ordered to move not even its officers know its destiny.

On any of the main highways of England troops may be seen on the march, generally in brigades. Kitchener's army looks well seasoned and as it is for active service as the men at the front, but most of it has not been six months in training.

To conceal the movement of troops, constant practice marches in full equipment are held, and the men do not know whether they are returning to camp until they are actually back there. Often they march to some point, entrain, and in the course of a few hours find themselves on board a transport. If their quarters are crowded, they may be sure it is only to cross the channel. But if bunks are provided and ample deck room, it means Egypt, the Dardanelles or some far point.

Every farewell a soldier takes of family and friends he expects in any case to be his last until his return from war. So secret and so complicated are the movements of the new forces in England that no authentic information could possibly be collected for the enlightenment of the enemy. But it may be assumed that the volunteer system has not disappointed Lord Kitchener.

Ever Ready Hot Water, Night and Day.

HOT WATER FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

When "Spring cleaning days" engross the busy housewife then the convenience of an unlimited supply of hot water on the upper floors is brought home to her with special force.

But at all times—apart from convenience—a gas water-heater makes an irresistible appeal to the housewife from the point of view of dealing with the domestic problem. Gas Water-heaters, whether of the instantaneous or Circular type, offer the convenience of available hot water "upstairs, downstairs, and in my lady's chamber,"—without any labour at all—Independently of the state of the kitchen fire.

The cost is reasonable. The master of the house has hot shaving water and a hot bath whenever he wishes without delay or trouble. "The bath ready for baby, when baby is ready for the bath" should be an adage of every housewife—who should also keep in mind that any trouble saved to the nurse makes for a well-ordered, contented household.

Gas Water-heaters, whether of the instantaneous or Circular type, offer the convenience of available hot water "upstairs, downstairs, and in my lady's chamber,"—without any labour at all—Independently of the state of the kitchen fire.

The comfortably furnished porch always has a table for magazines and papers, with a good heavy paper weight to keep the latter from blowing away.
