The Churches
Denounce Local Press.

A number of the city churches yesterday the preachers took occasion to denounce the press in connection with the present political campaign, in a certain sound. We regret that we cannot do justice to any one of them. We should have liked to be able to report verbatim the able sermons delivered in all cases, but we were unable to arrange for same. At St. Peter's, Rev. Mr. Bugden, the pastor, preached in the evening from the text found in Isaiah, chap. 26, verse 2. The subject was, "Righteousness exalteth a nation." He instanced three great factors in the life of a nation which should tend to uplift it and make it righteous, as they were three great factors of public opinion, viz., the press, the pulpit and the press. He dwelt principally on the latter, and thought that no man in the city could say that the Press of St. John's was what it should be. On the contrary, during the past few days, utter gravity had been witnessed in its columns. The Press should not be used for any small, mean or immoral purpose. One very apt quotation used was "that had money always drives money out of circulation." That might happen with the Press of St. John's if we were not very careful. The preacher elaborated on this with very great acceptance. He thought that in the political warfare, as it appears to politicians and the press, the rule should be to play the game, not the man. The reverse, he thought was the rule in some cases here. The Press played the man and not the game. He had no hesitation in saying that the papers printed in St. John's lately were unfit for children to read, and not decent enough to come into respectable people's homes. He called upon all to be worthy of our heritage, and to see to it that the three great agencies named be kept clean and good. It was a eloquent and timely sermon, and splendidly delivered, considering the rev. gentleman is suffering from a severe cold.

At St. Thomas's, we understand, the Rev. Mr. Jones, preached from the subject, "The Flaming Eyes of God," and also denounced the unclean press of the city, and asked that it be suppressed.

At the Congregational Church, Rev. Mr. B. Ashford read the letter from the Council of the Board of Trade, as published by us on Saturday, and commented strongly on the same. He was glad that such a body as the Board of Trade had taken the matter up, and said that no country that he had visited or knew, would such writings be tolerated as those which have been appearing during the present election campaign, and he called upon his people to turn it down.—News.

From King's Point.

The Liberal Progressive members, MacKay, Moore and Short, arrived here 5.30 p.m. Tuesday. They held a most successful meeting in the Orange Hall. Mr. John Gillard acted as chairman and also made a strong address. The speeches from members were heard with great enthusiasm. Mr. MacKay made a great impression on the people, and I feel sure that every voter will mark his ballot for MacKay, Moore and Short.

Nova Scotia Apple Crop

Estimates of the apple crop in the Annapolis Valley have varied greatly and it is very difficult to arrive at even an approximate figure. It seems, however, that our September figure of 1,250,000 barrels for export is now too low and that the total crop will about equal that produced in 1911. Allowing for local consumption and for fruit used by evaporators, canning factories and cider mills, there is probably sufficient fruit on the trees to warrant our estimating the surplus available for shipment out of the Province at almost 1,500,000 barrels. This increase during the past few weeks has been due to the remarkable growth of the fruit, encouraged by favorable weather conditions. Gravensteins are badly spotted and few orchards have more than 50 per cent of No. 1 grade of this variety. Ben Davis are also badly spotted, but of good size and color. Ribston, King, Russet, Baldwin, and Nonpareil all have heavy crops; Stark, Blenheim, and Gravenstein are lighter. The heavy purchases of the lower grades for evaporating and cider-making purposes have been of the greatest help in raising the standard of packed fruit, and have also done much to relieve the threatened scarcity of barrels. The fruit is coloring well and with the exception above noted is of fair quality. In all cases, however, where thorough spraying has not been done the effects of apple scab are much in evidence.—From Fruit and Vegetable Crop Report for October.

Mrs. McClellan Was So Run-Down She Could Hardly Walk Around The House—Restored By Tanlac.

"I have taken many different kinds of medicine during the past nineteen years trying to find something that would relieve me of my suffering, but Tanlac is the only thing I have yet found that has done me any good at all," said Mrs. Mary McClellan who lives at 23 Bauer street, Halifax, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"My entire nervous system has been in bad condition for a long time," continued Mrs. McClellan. "It just seemed impossible for me to find anything that would give me any relief. My appetite was poor, and I just had to force what little I ate, and my stomach was in such bad condition that I would suffer terribly every time I ate anything. I never knew what it was to sleep well, and many times I would go through the whole night without even closing my eyes for sleep. Why, the least noise would upset my nerves and I would tremble like a leaf. I fell off a lot in weight, and finally got so weak and run-down I was hardly able to walk around in the house. I couldn't do my housework at all, and it would completely exhaust me to climb a flight of steps.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac, I had reached the point where I had actually given up hope of ever getting rid of these troubles. Well, Tanlac was just the medicine I needed, for I commenced to improve soon after I began taking it, and I have been getting better ever since. I have taken three bottles so far, and it is simply wonderful the way I have picked up in every way. Why, all that nervousness has left me altogether, and I sleep like a child every night. I have a splendid appetite, and my stomach is in such fine condition that I can eat just anything I want without suffering the least bit afterwards. I have gained a lot in weight and strength and am still gaining. Tanlac is a wonderful medicine, and as long as I live I will praise it for the good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac Representative.—adv.

Liberal Progressive Meeting at Fox Harbor

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—A great meeting was held here yesterday by the winning trio, Messrs. Walsh, Sullivan and Sinnott of the Liberal Progressive Party. Flags flying from every available flagstaff in their honor.

What promised first to be a miserable day, was soon over and by the time the meeting commenced, the sun shone out gloriously. The spacious schoolroom was packed to the doors. Mr. Thos. McCue was selected as chairman, and in a few well chosen remarks introduced the speakers. Mr. Sullivan was the first to speak, and it was considered the best speech he ever made. He spoke for over an hour and a half and he was greeted with round after round of applause. Mr. Sinnott came next. His speech was short, as he is a new man, but he needed no speech, as he was sure of being on the winning side by the continuous cheering given him. On rising to speak, his remarks were well meant, and he will win. Then Mr. Walsh came next with his usual calmness. He certainly put home his words. Walsh need not worry, as he will get all the votes of the intelligent voters of Fox Harbor. After outlining Sir M. P. Cashin's manifesto, and what it meant to the fishermen and all concerned, the audience broke in one continuous roar of cheering for Sir M. P. Cashin and the Liberal Progressive Party. They left for Ship's Harbor at 2 p.m. amidst tumultuous cheering of the great crowd that lined the route to the pier.

Cashin will come back; no others need come here.

Yours truly,
VOTER.

Princesses Who Have Taken the Veil.

If the rumour regarding the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg has any foundation, she will only be following the footsteps of many other ladies of royal birth who have forsaken royal for the quiet of a convent.

The Russian Empress Eudoxia spent twenty years in the nunnery of the "Intercession of the Blessed Virgin," thankful to scrub floors, and to fare as poorly as the meanest of her sister nuns, to escape from the brutalities of her husband, Peter the Great.

Many another princess of Russia followed Eudoxia "behind the veil" before the Grand Duchess Elizabeth entered a Moscow nunnery a few years ago, after the assassination of her husband, the Grand Duke Sergius.

Princess as Porter.

The widow of the former King Miguel, who reigned six years over Portugal, became a Benedictine nun at Solesmes a score of years ago; and when the community was banished from France she went with the rest of the sisters to a convent in the Isle of Wight, where, among other royal companions, she has one of her sisters, a princess of the House of Lowenstein-Wertheim-Rosenberg.

It is said there are in various European convents more than thirty princesses, members of many of the great ruling houses of Europe, who are wearing the veils of nuns, and are spending their lives in prayer and fasting and good works.

In the very heart of the Black Forest, in an environment of mountains and woods, far remote from the haunts of men, is the Abbey of Seckau, every inmate of which is of royal or noble birth. Among them are the Princesses Philip and Constantine of Hohenlohe, who a few years ago were cutting splendid figures at the Courts of Europe. Men of brilliant gifts and achievements, they seemed to be the spoiled children of fortune, when, to the amazement of the world, they vanished mysteriously to the seclusion of the Black Forest, one to act as cook and the other as porter to the monks of Seckau.

Sacrificed Riches and Luxury.

Among others who are engaged in the most menial offices of the brotherhood are Prince Edward Schenburbg-Hartenstein, once noted as soldier and courtier; Count de Memptance; Baron Von Oer, one of the chief ornaments of the wealthiest and most high-born of Baden nobles; and many other noblemen and princes who have sacrificed rank and riches and luxury to lead Spartan lives, completely shut off from the world.
