imports to-date for 1923 are 9.852 barrels as compared with 7,098 last year of this date.

Petatoes—The importation of potatoes continues heavy, nearly all coming from Charlottetown, P.E.I. in 90 lb sacks, which are selling at the wholesale stores here $2.25 to $2.40 per sack. The 180 lb sack seems to have disappeared, as the smaller one is found to be more saleable and more convenient for purchasers. The market is firmer this week in P.E.I. and the quotation is likely to rise on scarcity before the new potatoes are on the market. The sale of home-grown stock is now negligible as nearly all what the farmers had have been what the farmers had have been planted for seed.

This practically prohibits the opening of new credits in London against documents and that all transaction while would, in the course of a few days, this decre eremains in operation will have to be on the basis of cash against locuments in Portugal. It is said that the decree will only be in force about two months. The measure is intended mand lately in this market for shore fish and, owing to the cessation of arrivals, the stocks in stores have been considerably reduced and the quantity considerably reduced and the quantity remaining is said to be not half of that which was on hand the same period last year. We are therefore hopeful that all last year's shore fish will be cleaned out by the time the new fish arrives in Spain. We are afraid, however, that there will be little improvement in a priors for some time As rement in prices for some time. As regards "Labrador" there has been litgards "Labrador" there has been little sold during the past month, but we expect improvement after August; meantime considerable stocks must remain in cold storage. Italy.—I am glad to inform you that most of the stocks of Labrador and Shore fish have been cleared off though the realization to shippers gives a poor return. For some parcels of newly arrived fish, Prime First Class Gaspe, shippers are asking 49-to 50-c.if., but we understand that business has since been done in the neighbourhood of 45-. Greece,—There is practically nothing to report from this market other than regarding Exchange, which since our last report has fluctuated enormously, Many firms have been ruined by recent purchases of merchandize, but we understand that many contracts have been cancelled and the goods returned to England many contracts have been cancelled and the goods returned to England as the buyers are unable to pay for them. If the Greek Exchange can steady itself and can remain at the present quotation when the new season commences there should be good prospects of business in Labrador fish, but at present nothing definite can be said in this respect as the movements of exchange are so large that buyers can make no calculations at all. Exchange is now nominally 140 drachmas to the pound.

England—In England Labrador is still selling at 25 to 26, according to quality. THE STAR MOVIE Newfoundland's Leading Picture House
