Twenty-five Million Poppies

Poppy Day will be held by the British Legion on November 10. Its aim is to alleviate distress in ex-Servicemen and at the same time to keep alive the spirit of comradeship. Twenty-five million Poppies have been made, the bulk of them at the Legion's Factory in the Old Kent Road, where eighty disabled men are kept employed the whole year round. The Poppies will be sold in all parts of the Empire at minimum prices of threepence, sixpence, and a shilling. Eighty ocean liners are co-operating in the movement. In London there will be sellers in the streets, hotels, clubs, and stores. It is hoped, too, that the collections in the churches and chapels, on Armistice Day, will be given to the fund. Temporary Poppy Day Headquarters have been established at 34 Lowndes Square, S.W.

Will Draw Prizes in Mount Cachel Lottery

At a meeting of the Mount Cachel Silver Jubilee Committee, held last night in the B.I.S. Club Rooms, arrangements were made to hold the drawing for prizes in this Lottery at the Prince's Rink on Nov. 16th. The Mount Cachel Band will be present, and will render a select programme of music. Those holding cash or stubs are asked to turn them in to Mt. Cachel or at the store of C. J. Ellis, not later than noon on Tuesday, the 13th inst. The Committee also wish to state that anyone holding books of tickets, the stubs of which have not been returned by that date, will not share in the drawing.

Three Men in a Boat

ADVENTUROUS VOYAGE OF 14,000 MILES.
With a crew of three, a tiny craft called The Shanghai, of 37 tons, has left Cape Town on a 6,000 miles voyage to Europe. This is merely a part of an adventurous voyage of 14,000 miles which the trio set themselves to write a special correspondent from Johannesburg.

At the beginning of this year six Danish officers of the Great Northern Telegraph Company in Shanghai had concluded their contracts and were due for leave. The ordinary steamers were available, but the men preferred to buy this small craft and to spice their voyage home to Copenhagen with a little adventure.

The Shanghai is only 47 feet long, with a beam of 18 feet and a draught of 7 1/2 feet. When she reached Durban her crew declined to have her towed in, and, under the power of her little 10-h.p. engine, she made her own berth at the wharf. The six men aboard her made light of the 8,000 miles of their journey which they had then accomplished.

First a Revolver at the Steersman. Scarcely out of Shanghai on February 7, they were forced by bad weather to leave to, and while in this position a Chinese junk with a large crew came out from the island and made as if to board the little craft. The helmsman of the junk fired a revolver at the steersman of the ketch, but missed, and the appearance of the rest of the Shanghai's crew, armed with shotguns, was enough to persuade the "private" that business was meant. The junk drifted away.

At Batavia three of the six decided that they had had enough adventure and left to return by ordinary steamer. There were thus only three left—Homburg, Ingwersen, and Vauman—and they continued the voyage. Between Mauritius and Durban the weather they encountered was so bad that they made only 30 miles in nine hours. Their 3,000 miles to Durban took a little over six months.

Mount Cachel Band at the Majestic

DISCOURSES BEAUTIFUL PROGRAMME OF SELECTIONS.

The Mount Cachel Band under the direction of their leader Mr. Arthur Bulley were present at the Majestic Theatre last night, and discoursed a programme of classical and popular selections which was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present. During the past year or two this splendid combination of youthful talent, has gone ahead with leaps and bounds, and is to-day a well known musical attraction. Their accompaniments to the screen interpretation of Longfellow's immortal poem, "The Village Blacksmith" were very appropriately delivered.

In the monster production William Fox has provided a thrill that will steel the hardest heart and make gooseflesh appear in profusion. It is a real honest-to-goodness train wreck. In line with the Fox policy of providing every element of the motion picture in each production, the train wreck was devised. New York critics have acclaimed it as one of the greatest thrill scenes ever seen on the silver screen.

Several flashes are shown of the speedy Sunset Limited, travelling at a rate of sixty miles an hour. The local train which stops at way stations is shown. It is apparent that the local train which stops, on the crossing is certain to be hit by the express which is travelling with lightning celerity. Attempts are made to flag the express, but—too late. The trains come together with a terrific crash, and when the debris is cleared away the injured body of the eldest of the "Village Blacksmith's" sons is found pinned under the wreckage. Although severely injured, he is given immediate medical attention and soon recovers.

The wreck is one of the most realistic ever shown on the screen. One train of six cars and another of four were used. Both trains were utterly destroyed.

Harold Lloyd's 7-Act Comedy Coming

LOYD GETS IDEA IN A FLASH FOR NEW COMEDY.

Ideas for comedies are rare. For the type of feature comedies that Harold Lloyd makes, they are "rarer than rare."

The happy thought that led to the making of the spectacular comedies' latest and longest feature, "Safety Last," a seven-reel Pathe comedy, came like a flash out of a sky.

One day, about a year ago, Harold Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, were walking on a downtown street in Los Angeles. It so happened that at the Roslyn Hotel that day, "Bill" Strother, known the world over as the "human-fly," was putting his skill against the intricacies of the Roey's granite walls.

Immediately the idea hit Harold that it might be a good plan to make a thrill picture, and to fill it with just such daring and hilarious situations as he made in "Never Weaken," and "High and Dizzy," outstanding successes in Lloyd's early achievements.

The idea was not long in the crystallization stage, for it was put into concrete form by Hal Roach, Sam Taylor, Tim Whalen and Harley M. Walker—the last three on the Lloyd scenario staff—and the filming began after the completion of "Dr. Jack" Strother, himself, was engaged to play the part of Lloyd's pal, and to, incidentally, climb one building for the benefit of the camera.

"Safety Last," will be seen on Monday next at the Nickel Theatre, and it is declared to be filled to the brim with thrills. The funny situations are there in abundance, and with Mildred Davis, Harold also demonstrates that he can take his place with the foremost Romeos of the screen.
