BREAD PRICES AT VARIOUS POINTS IN THE DOMINION

Calgary Is One of the Lowest of Several Cities Quoted;
W. F. Connor Making an Investigation

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Mr. W. F. Connor, K.C., acting commissioner on the cost of living in Canada, has issued an interim report to the minister of labor giving some figures on the cost of production of bread in Canada. Mr. Connor has been conducting an investigation during the past six months into the milling industry in Canada, on which he will make an exhaustive report to the minister of labor shortly.

Mr. Connor's report to the minister is in part as follows: A report concerning the milling industry of Canada is approaching completion and expect to deliver it to you very shortly. In the meantime, however, the investigation into bread costs and prices is sufficiently advanced to enable the delivery of the following interim report.

Many of the producers of bread throughout Canada have, in the course of the past six months, by means of an educational effort, on my part, been induced so to provide that they could make returns to actual cost of production, with the result that I am now able to cite precise costs in the various zones within Canada where, if any variance in cost does exist, the same ought to be apparent. For immediate purposes I subjoin a table (No. 1) showing bread costs as of this day, in six Canadian cities extending from coast to coast. This table is based upon the broad production of one barrel of flour at today's price of flour. The bakers usually mix first and second patents, so the table is prepared upon the basis of today's cost of one-half barrel of first patent and one-half barrel of second patent flour. I take into consideration the cost of flour for one pound of bread, the ordinary ingredients, the cost of baking, of delivery, management and depreciation per pound. No other elements, so far as the reports of the bakers show, enter into the production and delivery of a pound of bread.

Composite Cost.
The figures shown are the composite cost as made up from all the reports received from the particular cities mentioned in the table. I am absolutely satisfied of the correctness of the returns made so far as they deal with materials and ingredients, and I have no reason to doubt, though I am not as well able to judge, as respects any other particulars thereof. The returns as to materials and ingredients have been compared with a formula of cost of material, which to my knowledge, is that used by the baking trade generally. The formula is based upon a yield of 240 pounds of bread, per barrel, that being the yield which experience has shown is ordinarily to be anticipated as realizable from one barrel of flour. This formula when applied to the current price of flour to bakers in our lots or mixed car lots, namely $11.40 a barrel for first patents and $10.90 a barrel for second patents in Ontario and varied according to price of flour in different sections of Canada, and on the current wholesale prices of the various ingredients to bakers, shows a proper cost as of today, per pound of bread, for flour and ingredients of 4,396 cents in Ontario, and approximately 4.88 cents in Montreal and Quebec, 4.8 cents in the maritime provinces, 4.8 cents in Port William and the western provinces, and 4.84 cents in Vancouver.

For obvious reasons I do not include the formula within this report, but I retain it for the purpose of checking all future returns.

I have worked out the results on a pound basis. In cities where the ordinary loaf is one and a half pounds or two pounds by reference to the table the proper cost of such a loaf in such cities can be easily ascertained.

I do not undertake, in this interim report, to deal with selling prices. Having furnished a statement of true cost per pound of bread, right up to the minute, it will be easy for any buyer anywhere situated to know about what bread is costing delivered at his door.

The costs shown are fair examples of those which ought to prevail in the immediate locality of the cities mentioned in the table.

(Note—One barrel of flour makes 240 pounds of bread.)

For Montreal the average cost of flour per barrel used in baking during July was $9.81 and in August $10.84. Manufacture and delivery cost of one barrel of flour was $2.61 in July and $2.64 in August. Average cost of purchased flour was $2.29 in July and $2.34 in August.

For Winnipeg the average cost per barrel of flour used in baking during July was $10.30 and in August $11.41. Cost of manufacture and delivery in July was $2.61 and in August $2.64. Average cost of purchased flour was $2.29 in July and $2.34 in August.

For Calgary the average cost of flour per barrel used in baking during July was $9.81 and in August $10.84. Cost of manufacture and delivery in July was $2.61 and in August $2.64. Average cost of purchased flour was $2.29 in July and $2.34 in August.

For Vancouver the average cost of flour per barrel used in baking during July was $10.30 and in August $11.41. Cost of manufacture and delivery in July was $2.61 and in August $2.64. Average cost of purchased flour was $2.29 in July and $2.34 in August.

The following table shows the cost of a barrel of flour based on the fixed price of wheat, namely, $2.21 at Port William, as shown by the returns of the largest milling companies in Canada:

Cost of a barrel of flour, 4.87
Bushels at $2.21 $10.22
Approximate cost of manufacture 1.05

Total $11.27

The cost of manufacture is calculated as follows:

Expenses, 20c; Fuel, 3c; Interest and exchange, 9c; traveling expenses, 3c; and other expenses, 1c. Total, 36c.

In this calculation of the cost of flour allowance is made for the receipts from offals.

THEATERS

NOT WISELY, BUT TOO WELL

A youthful couple who love not wisely, but too well, are the stars of the big human story of "Her Unborn Child," a powerful drama dealing with the subject of birth control.

The attraction at the Grand for the remainder of the week.

The play comes here with the endorsement of medical societies, non-sectarian clubs and thinking men and women everywhere, for it touches one of the greatest lessons humanity has to learn.

Because of the sacredness of motherhood and the duty of the mother to her child, the matinee performances of "Her Unborn Child" will be reserved exclusively for the ladies. Gentlemen will be admitted on other performances. No one under 18 years of age will be admitted.

LIBERTY

"His Father's Son," a Metro wonder-play, containing powerful dramatic action, will be seen at the Liberty theatre today and Saturday.

Lionel Barrymore and Irene Howley are co-stars in this five-part feature production, which was written by Channing Pollock and directed by George D. Baker.

Adam Barron, disguised because his son is a gambler, is seen at the Liberty Monday and Tuesday.

Discontinues his income and bets the young man $6,000 that he cannot hold a job for 48 hours.

The boy takes him up, and with his valet, start off in his racing automobile to look for work.

He begins to read the want ads. This is the beginning of the "His Father's Son."

It is just the kind of a story that Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf like to write.

George D. Baker likes to direct, that Irene Howley and Lionel Barrymore like to act, and that the public likes to see.

Dramatic incidents come into the picture when Barron is set to watch the great emerald known as "The Lady from the Sea," when he catches Lord Lawrence, known to the English police as "London Larry," trying to deliver it, when he locks him in the safe he has been trying to rob.

ORPHEUM

WOOD AND WYDE ORIGINATED

"BUNNY HUG"

Franker Wood and Miss Bunne Wyde, who are to be seen at the Orpheum Monday in their original skit, "That's All Right," claim to be the originators of the famous "Bunny Hug" ballet away in dancing circles for a long time and aroused a great deal of talk over its alleged naughtiness.

Miss Wyde, after whom the dance was named, is a doll-faced, flaxen-haired Danish girl, and look at her one feels convinced that she could never start anything naughty. People, who actuated against their dance, said Miss Wyde "saw it done improperly or else had evil minds."

"Circumstances forced us to create the dance," said Miss Wyde, "and we saw it done properly."

"We started it in San Francisco. It was about the time the 'heat' or 'bunny' was going on. The 'bunny' were so popular there, and in order to keep in the swim we simply had to have a new dance. So we worked on it. We used it and the next morning a newspaper came out with the description of our dance, which it called the 'bunny hug,' naming it after me. The 'bunny' dance spread like wildfire."

Albertan Automobile Contest Is Its Infancy

That the big prize contest is only in its infancy is plainly shown by the small vote of even the leaders in the list.

Yesterday's voting brought a number above the 100,000 mark, but a study of the schedule of votes will soon convince one that two or three yearly subscriptions, if new, will put a beginner right in the limelight.

Lots of people are watching this contest very closely, some with a view of entering and others figuring where to place their subscription payments where they will do the most good. The former see that it is not too late to enter the contest or to get busy if they have not taken it seriously so far. Subscribers want their support to go to a winner—one who has energy and staying qualities.

Contest Benefits Carrier Boys

The carrier boys lose nothing through paying in advance to a candidate. One boy phoned the contest department thus: "One of your candidates just called for a subscription and I hesitated to make an advance payment for I have such a good carrier boy and do not want him to lose anything in wages." The boys get their regular proportion for the papers they deliver, whether they collect the money themselves or payment is made in advance to a candidate. They are richer through the addition of new subscribers to their routes.

Second Payments

Subscriptions taken during the early part of the contest may be extended at any time during the contest period and votes will be given the same as if the payment had been made at one time. Be sure and mark these subscriptions "second payment." It is immaterial whether candidates make an addition to their own collection or to the collection made by another candidate. A subscription that is new early in the contest or any time, always draws the "new" vote when increased.

Extra Votes for Week Ending Next Tuesday

For each even $15 in subscriptions turned in for the week ending next Tuesday (October 9), candidates will receive 100,000 EXTRA VOTES (in addition to the regular schedule). Any surplus left over from last week's club offer will be included in the $15 club this week.

It is not necessary to hold back subscriptions until a full club is secured. An accurate account is kept of all subscriptions turned in, and as soon as one $15 club is reached, 100,000 extra votes will be issued. Candidates are not limited to one club. Fifteen dollars gets one 100,000 special club $20 gets 200,000 and so on. If you did not reach a club last week, make sure of at least one this week, if you correlated a club last week, make two or more this week. Let your subscription collections increase, and make sure of one of the aforesaid. And don't forget the $50 SPECIAL PRIZE for best work this week, next week and the week following.

$50 Special Prize

$50.00 IN CASH will be paid to the candidate in the Albertan automobile contest, regardless of residence or district location, who turns in the largest amount of money for subscriptions (both new and renewal) between the dates of Wednesday, October 3, and Tuesday, October 23—a period of three weeks.

Previous collections will not count—only the subscription money handed in or mailed to the contest department between the dates mentioned above.

All candidates who have already turned in subscriptions and those who have not, are both active in subscription getting.

This is a SPECIAL PRIZE, in addition to the regular prize at the close of the contest, and the candidate winning the $50 Cash Special Prize will be eligible to win any of the regular prizes at the close of the contest.

CANDIDATES IN THE CONTEST

The standing of the candidates, as shown below, includes such votes as were accepted for publication up to Wednesday noon. Votes will be added Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.
