A Queer Affliction.

Mr. Alf. Vick, the proprietor of the Central Rink, is suffering from a case without parallel in the medical annals of this city. A couple of weeks ago he began to expectorate blood, which at the time was thought to come from the lungs. A medical examination proved that to be not the case, and the doctors were puzzled to know where it did come from. The hemorrhage continued for a week, Mr. Vick becoming in the meantime very weak from loss of blood. At last it was found that the bleeding came from the lining of the throat. It was stopped there, and shortly after his side of his lips. Mr. Vick is rather better, but the blood still continuer to run slightly.

This forenoon the Supreme Court of Can-This forenoon the Supreme Court of Canada gave decision in the Vaudreuil, Quebec, Dominion election appeal. McMillan (Conservative) defeated Harwood (Liberal) in the bys-election last spring. The Liberals protested the election and McMillan was unseated. To gain time and hold the seat, McMillan appealed to the Supreme Court on technical objections. He was able to sit in the House until to-day because up till last week the Government failed to appoint a judge to the vacant seat on the bench caused by the death of Chief Justice Ritchie. To-day the court promptly dismissed appeal and a new election will have to be held. I hear there is good ground for the belief that Mr. Harwood will regain the seat.

T. R. Secord, superintendent of work on No. 4 division, Welland Canal, has been charged with serious irregularities. Superintendent Sherwood, of the Dominion police, returned to the city with a report on the subject to-day which the Government will consider.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The Michigan Central Withdraw from the City.

And Notify Their Local Employes That They Are No Longer Required-What a Member of the Syndicate Says.

A sensation was sprung to-day by the Michigan Central Railway authorities when word was received from the divisional superintendent at Detroit, saying that tomorrow the Michigan Central trains would cease running over the London and Port Stanley Railroad.

In connection with this every employe of the M. C. R. Company in the city, with the exception of two — Alex. Stewart, freight agent, and John Paul, city ticket egent—have been notified that their ser vices will no longer be required. This came like a thunderbolt to the men. They had not the slightest intimation of any such move. This will affect eleven employes at the freight sheds, four of whom are married men, in addition to the train hands, namely, one conductor one baggageman, one brakeman, one engin eer and one fireman. The latter, however, live in St. Thomas.

The news will be a surprise all round.

It was generally understood in the city that the Cleveland syndicate and city that the Cleveland syndicate and the M. C. R. had practically come to terms as to running powers over the L. and P. S. R. It is said by some that the London branch has not been a paying one, and it has been deemed wise to withdraw at this juncture, when circumstances partly afford

The dismissed men will probably be removed to other points as soon as places can be made for them. This, of course, will onsole them in the meantime.

It is believed by many citizens that this action has been partly caused by the vexatious delays interposed in the way of the Cleveland syndicate in completing the lease of the road from the city.

A SURPRISE TO THE SYNDICATE.

The news was "news" indeed to the The news was "news" indeed to the syndicate's representatives. "If they are withdrawing," said Mr. Bicknell, "it is on orders received from their own head-quarters and not at any order from us. THE PROPOSAL OF MARRIAGE.

(Now York Sun.)
Mr. Labouchere, of the Loudon Truth, suggests that the first step for women to take toward the acquirement of their rights should be the wresting from men of their traditional privilege of making the proposition of maring.

He argues that if women took the busi-He argues that if Women took the mess of proposing into their own hands there would be fewer of them unmarried, many men now being restrained from matrimony solely by their timidity about asking for the hands of the women on whom their attections rest. The selection must by made by the woman in any event, and Mr. Labouchere contends that she can best exercise the medical transfer the proposal in. bouchere contends that she can best exercise her privilege by making the proposal instead of merely accepting or rejecting a proposal which happens to come to her. He proceeds on the assumption that, as she has more self-poise and self-control in all social emergencies, she could perform the duty far more gracefully than the man is able to do.

It is very fruitful subject for discussion by the philosopher and the sociologist.

"You are always complaining," said the King of the Cannibal Islands to his wife, but I don't see but what, after all, you have as much as if you were civilized." "What makes you think that?" asked his wife. "Well, I have just been reading a lot of stories about American women, and there wasn't one of them who had a thing to wear."

Jagon says we never know how bad our friends can be till we see them in parlor theatricals.

"What do you think will be the biggest thing you will see at the world's fair?" said Mrs. Fucash. "My hotel bill," replied her husband.
