BARNATO DEATH DUTIES

British Government

London, Dec. 6 .- The death of Harry Barnato, whose estate is estimated at $25,000,000, is a fortunate windfall which is much needed by the chancellor of the exchequer. Harcourt's famous death duties laid a heavy toll on big estates, but the finance act of 1907 $5 65 per cwt. There was a carload was merciless regarding these big fortunes. Indeed, the complaint that it approaches confiscation seems justified, when it is realized that Barnato's estate, in one way or another, will be mulcted to the extent of nearly onefifth. The death duties will amount to $3,500,000, being 10 per cent on the first million sterling, and in case of estates of £3,000,000 and upwards, 15 per cent on the remainder. The legacy duty and succession duty will amount to some $1,000,000.

The late Lord Gleneske's estate will make another large contribution to the public funds. His income from the Morning Post is believed to have been $300,000 to $400,000 a year.
