THE WOMAN'S CORNER

DVERTISER PATTERNS BEAUTY PATTERN COMPANY.

1744—A Cool and Dainty Summer Style Lady's over-blouse, with body and sleeve in one, with tucker. This graceful model may be worn over a guimpe, or made with the tucker supplied in the pattern. As here shown figured foulard was used. The design is equally appropriate for lawn, chambray, messaline, opplin or cashmere. The body portions are finished with box plaits, and a deep dibson plait over the shoulder. The pattern is cut in six sizes 29 24 26 28 40 Gibson plait over the shoulder. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 12 inches bust measure. It requires 2% rards of 22-inch material for the over-slouse, and 1% yards of 32-inch material for the tucker. A pattern of this illus-tration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE ADVERTISER.

Please send above-mentioned pattern, as

Measurement-Bust

Age (if child's or misses' pattern)...... CAUTION-Be careful to inclose above illustration and send size of pattern want-When the pattern is bust measure. you need only mark it 32, 34, or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 26, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or in nostage stamps.

in postage stamps. PATTERN DEPARTMENT,

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: 1. How can inkstains be removed from table linen? 2. What is the best way to clean a after baking, else it will sweat and Battenberg traycloth? 3. What would be the best kind of dye to use for coloring a white linen coat black? MRS. R.

A.-1. Try soaking the stains in buttermilk, changing it frequently, as the color draws out; then wash out in warm water, using no soap; then sinse. Another good way is to apply lemon juice and salt to the ink spots and place in the sun; then wash in the same way as above.

2. Wash by itself with a good castile soap, rinse and blue, wringing out as dry as possible. Fold up in a piece of white cotton, and while still partially damp, spread on a thick cotton pad, and press out on the wrong side with a fairly hot iron.

3. A professional dyer would only charge about a dollar to dye it. This gives more satisfaction than making luck. experiments at home.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. Could you tell me a simple home remedy for cleaning a brown imitation suitcase? 2. Do you know of a nice way to crimp the front of a young girl's (16) straight, black hair, without making it fuzzy? Also a nice way to do it? N. M.

A.—Try rubbing in some vaseline with a piece of flannel; then rub with a oft cloth. A good tan shoe polish applied in the same way should also prove satisfactory.

2. Using the old-fashioned "tongs" should give the effect desired. I would suggest, however, that you do not wave it. A girl friend of mine, just your age, by the way, and whose "love like the disturbance the pebble made answer the description of the dark waters—only a ripple on the yours, wears it quite simply—parted surface of events. in the middle and tied at the neck with wide ribbon, leaving one or two braids hanging, and also tying these at the I walked back from the palace, feeling and becoming way I know of.

best taste style for a girl of 20 to do her hair? My hair is dark, fuzzy and soft, and falls within two inches of my waist. Do you think puffs, although fashionable, are the best taste for a girl who works.

INQUIRER. INQUIRER. girl who works A .- I think your hair would do up beautifully in the "figure eight" coil, and it is a more recent style than either puffs or turban.

THE DAILY MENU

BREAKFAST. Cereal and Cream Cherries. Creamed Fish on Toast. Coffee.

LUNCHEON. Corn Fritters Cold Ham.

Rolls. Stewed Gooseberies. Iced Tea. DINNER.

Green Peas Tomatoes. Raspberry Trifle.

Coffee. Devilled Eggs.

Hard boil a dozen eggs, place end of half an hour remove the shells, Cut the eggs carefully in half, extract the yolks, and rub these to a paste with half a tablespoonful of made mustard, three tablespoonfuls of salad oil, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a dash of paprika, two or three drops of Tobasco sauce, and salt to taste Form this paste into balls, put the balls back into the halved whites and fit the whites into place. Run a wooden toothpick through the two halves of each egg to hold them together. Wrap each egg in waxed or tissue paper to keep it from becoming dry. Serve cold with or without mayonnaise dressing.

MARY'S COOK BOOK

Canned Mushrooms.-Open the can and drain the mushrooms, melt one tablespoon of butter in a saucepan, and when it boils shake in a little flour, add one cup of cream, salt, pepper and mushrooms. Heat thoroughly without boiling, remove from the fire and stir in the beaten yolk of an egg. This may be served on thin slices of buttered toast, or noured over broiled beefsteak. As canned mushrooms are cooked, they only require to be heated before serving.

Lemon Sponge Cake.-First beat three eggs, then add one and one-half cups sugar. Add one cup of flour sifted with one teaspoon cream of tartar three or four times. Add juice onehalf lemon, one cup cold water with one-half teaspoon soda, then another cup of flour, and a pinch of salt. Bake in three layers. To make the filling, LONDON ADVERTISER cook in double boiler one cup sugar, one cup hot water three teaspoons of cornstarch, yolk of one egg. After this

> Oranges carefully peeled and quarered, then dipped in melted gelatine and rolled in powdered sugar, make a dainty sweet.

Always leave the oven door open

William Tillinghast Eldridge.

rust.

He passed the question by.

"Take it for what you think it's worth,'
he said. "You had better go."

I thanked him for his interest, but said thought I should stop awhile. "I've no doubt you will if you so cide," he agreed.

"I've said I would." 'Then I'll tell Pepper Box he'd as well "If he meant it for me he may, mos

He meant it for no one else." "He didn't say, you know."
He looked at me again and laughed. "Well, we'll be against each other," he said, holding out his hand. "I wish you

I had heard that Heinrich of Vankle was without honor or trust, yet I liked the fellow well what little I had seen of so I took his hand.

"I'll not wish you luck," I said.
"No?" he asked. "If we run counter," I explained, "my shes would not be true."
"You're quite particular."
"Careful, at least."

He laughed again, waved his hand, and turned back the way he had come, I watched his graceful figure pass down the corridor. He was tall, well built, and looked like a man of strength and courage. That I would have a chance to test his good and bad points, I had no doubt. I went down the steps and out the court, the two sentinels saluting; then through the sally-port, and as I crossed the bridge kicked a pebble into the moat. As far as I could see my interview was

CHAPTER XI.

PLAYTIME STORIES

(Copyright, 1910, Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Lazy Bee.

A lazy bee! Think of it! The bees! you have heard about have always been busy ones, haven't they? Now, I am going to tell you about a lazy bee that started out one morning with all the other little bees to get honey to take back to the hive.

They went to a field of pretty white tlover, and, oh, that makes such nice all day long. honey! But this naughty, lazzy bee, instead of getting the sweetness from blossoms, was just swaying back and forth on the stem of one of the be. vers. It didn't want to work, and it just decided it wouldn't Now, this field was beside a schooluse, and the lazy bee could hear the lidren saying their lessons. Now, ey were having their reading lesson, a what was it they were reading?

"How doth the little busy bee " Improve each shining hour? It gathers honey all the day From every open flower."

First one read it, and then another. And then the teacher talked to them about it and told them how they ought to be ashamed to ever be idle in school, and fail in their lessons, when the little bees worked so hard

The children went back to seats and began to study so hard, and ends. I think this is the most girlish and becoming way I know of.

* * *

Dear Miss Grey: Would you please tell me which is the prettiest and the best taste style for a girl of 20 to do whether or not I remained in the city?

interruption. interruption.

The meal fairly started, I began to tell him of my interview with Zergald, and my later talk with Heinrich of Vankle.

When I finally finished he leaned back

"I'll promise you they're puzzled now." "We learned as much as they," I said.
Karl nodded. "And now he's asking himself beyond a doubt who you are, and sking it harder than before."
"To find that out and to bid me befor me."

"And now what do you do?" Karl asked.

"Wait for 'Pepper Box' to move again."

He laughed heartily, for I had told him how Heinrich had named his chief,

"You do not use the compartment, then?" he asked, when he ceased his gone was undoubtedly the reason he sen

If the papers are recovered before that hour," I answered.

I do not think he felt I would go, but I suppose it did him good to near me say. I would stay, for he praised me much for my loyalty to those of whom I knew so little and my disregard of the danger which he seemed to think was great. It was light talk in the excitement of the

But as he talked on thus he suddenly them in cold water, and at the stopped and leaned across the table.
end of half an hour remove the shells, "You only stay to aid the princess?" 'Assurely! To see her crowned."

"If you do not go you'll be of little I knew full well he was not thus to my face belittling my services, no matter how he might in his own mind regard them, and so I asked his meaning.

"He has the power to place you under

"To arrest me if I fail to obey?" "And unless I am mistaken—and I think know him well—he'll do it."
"What is to be will be, I suppose."
"Is it worth the risk? Had you not beter place yourself where he cannot reach

"I would not say that," Karl answer-l. "Yet will you gain anything by I turned to the lake to consider the matter. There would be little gained by my flying in the face of the impossible, yet I was loath to run away. Then my mind by chance ran back to that day upon the train when first I had seen upon the train when first I had seen Karl; to my sister's letter and the talk with her and Frank in London. Suddenly a name came to me, and turned to Karl, who waited for my an-

"You have a British Legation here? asked. He nodded The ambassador is Sir Charles-

"He ambassador is Sir Charles" something or other—"
"Bander," he nodded again.
"Right. And he has just come?"
"He has just arrived in his official capacity, though as a friennd of his late Majesty he was here a great deal few years." nodded now myself. "He is lately married?" I asked. "They tell me that he is, though I are never seen the lady."

"Then," I answered, for I had a plan, think I'll circumvent Duke 'Pepper

Karl could little see my meaning, and once I would not tell him what I had 22. Newark. in mind.
"We'll see," I said. "We'll see if I can has thickened, remove from the stove and add juice and rind of one lemon.

turn a trick to our favor."

And then, as if to end our talk, the tramp of heavy feet was heard in the hall and Lieutenant Barnsmurk stepped out upon the balcony.

"Her Royal Highness, the Princess Hilma von Cedra of Rulfburg, bids you attend her, captain, and to bring this

We both rose to our feet.
"At once, Barnsmurk?" Karl asked.
"This afternoon at your lelsure," "We'll come at once," I suggested to

We were about to turn from the bal-were unable to note the faces while we were unable to note the faces of its occupants, we could see there were but two men aboard. They stopped the boat and dropped a small box overboard, which floated where it was left. Then turning, ran out from the shore and stopped again, the box of line between the balcony and the Suddenly a puff of smoke sprang up from the boat, and the sharp sound of a rifle came to us. We watched the bullet strike the water. shot was fired. "Such a thing is and then in quick succession two more, ing in the West Shore terminal at The first two bullets struck the water Weehawken, N. J. A cry of "police" ried well on and struck the beach at the bottom of the garden.

Karl grasped my arm and I turned to him. His face was white and set. Before lookout was felled by the night-stick we could move two more puffs of smoke of a patrolman, and he is now locked Canals, compared with the fiscal year report the bullets struck about us.

A cup on the table flew into bits, and splinters of wood from the railing struck

The next instant Karl with an dragged me inside the door. Two more shots followed, each striking near the table on the balcony.

As we stood there neither spoke, but waited for the report of the rifles again. No sound followed, and we looked out to find the launch on its way down the lake the box still floating on the waves. "It may have been an accident," I said.
"It may have been," Karl answered.

have been," Karl answered, with a bitter smile. "However, it was very careless," "I think," he said slowly, "it is mean you should take the compartment."
"Then there was no danger, if their marksmanship was good," I suggested.
"None now. Wait, though, until after helf-nest ten temperare" half-past ten tomorrow.' The landlord came running to us down the hall, and Karl explained briefly that some careless fellow had been shooting at a mark.

"Bring in what's left of your china.
Get some putty and some paint and say nothing," he cautioned, and the landlord, with another look, went back.

When he was gone out of hearing Karl turned to me.

"I did not think it would come to this. I have led you into too great danger."
"I chose to come," I answered, "and, "I chose to come," I answered, and, besides, no harm is meant. It is only the barking; there'll be no bite."
"You do not know Zergald."
"He does not know me."
He looked at me as if not understand-ng what I meant.

"We'll mind the princess' summons," "We'll mind the princess summons, said, as if to end the matter, "and there nothing will be said."
"I must speak to Kurimurt."
"Aye, do, but not to her."
"He nodded and led the way to the front of the inn, where we called a cab.

On the drive through the town few words passed between us. I put the inciwords passed between us. I put the inci-dent of the launch to one side as of no consequence, for beyond a doubt it had no meaning unless it was a second hint, as Karl had suggested, that I had best

Alice Bessling could help me, I felt sure, and when my eyes fell on her I was out of the cab in an instant.

"Drive round for half an hour," I called to Karl. "I'll be back."

He looked at me as if I had lost my senses, but I hurried forward without another word, for across the square Lady Bander's Victoria stood by the curb. If I left him in astonishment I certainly caused my old friend the same sensation when I stepped up to her carriage as she was about to drive on. she was about to drive on.
"Well, from where in the world! John

"Well, from where in the world! John Converse," she exclaimed, when she found her voice.

Remembering my appointment with the princess, I sprang to the seat at her side without a word of explanation beyond asking her to drive home.

She gave the order and then turned to me with a "Well!" that in tone easily matched the surprise in her face. I suppose it seemed as if I had dropped ily matched the surprise in her face. I suppose it seemed as if I had dropped from the sky.

"Allow me to offer my best wishes, Lady Bander," I said, remembering she had been married since I last saw her. and it was due to me to speak of it.

"Explanations! John, explanations! Yourself now. Where is Polly? Are you here alone or is she with you?"

I answered briefly, telling her as we drove on how I had met a friend and so had come with him to Zakbar; that Polly was almost anywhere, as far as I knew, and that, above all, I wanted an introduction to her husband.

"Business, Alice," I said, "important business, believe me!"

"Business! You!" she exclaimed in hardly a complimentary tone.

I took no notice, but simply nodded.
"Business of a very important character."

'I'll have to introduce you, I suppose, but when will you call on me?
"What are your days?" "Days!" she answered scornfully. "Since

"Days!" she answered scornfully. "Since when have you grown so formal?"

I laughed, but before I had need to answer we stopped before a large house, over which floated the English flag.

We found Sir Charles within, and before three minutes slipped by I had him to myself, for Alice withdrew with great discretion There was precious little formality about me just then, and I cannot well say what Sir Charles thought of me that lay. But he was equal to my mood. "There is no objection because you are not an Englishman," he answered to a

"Then you'll do it?" I asked.
""Pon my word, it's most extraordinary." he said. "It is," I agreed, "but Lady Bander will vouch for me."
"I've heard of you," he answered.
"If your knowledge comes from my sister, you'll not be surprised at anything I do."

He laughed throwing back his head

He laughed, throwing back his head, "It's a lark," he said.
I nodded, content that he should think what he pleased, so long as he did what I asked of him. "Well, I can't for the life of me it out," he said, "but it's yours." by Hieronymus, from the same library, Suiting the words, he made out a huge official document which I signed and swore to. This he handed to me, and in another instant I was off, telling him would come back later and explain

(To Be Continued.)

TWO GIRLS DROWNED IN RARITAN BAY

Taken Down by Treacherous Currents, Though Good Swimmers. New Brunswick, N. J., July 24.-The treacherous currents of Raritan Bay complete as to the identity of the sucked down two young sisters to counterfeiter. their death Saturday afternoon, outbattled their escort when he tried to game between the prisoners in the fight his way to their rescue, and ex-hausted a third girl of the party.

Deputy Warden Nathan Allen, who hausted a third girl of the party.

Rescued-Helen White, 20, New The young people were camping out near here, and rowed out for an afternoon swim. A hundred yeards out convict who had given it to the man the Princess they dived overboard together. Silverthorne had not gone far when he heard Anna Hill scream for help. She went down before he could reach her Silverthorne then seemed to slacken his the strokes, and was soon splashing wild-

Meanwhile Harry Bloodgood put out from shore in another rowboat, and in question on his fellow-convict. we were about to turn from the bal-cony when I noted a launch coming got Edith Hill and Miss White aboard. down the lake and stopped to see it ap-| but not before Silverthorne sank. He was unconscious when hauled into the It ran quite close up to the shore, and boat. Physicians worked over all three, but only Miss White was revived.

BOLD ROBBERY OF EMIGRANTS

Train on West Shore Held Up and Looted in Sight of New York.

New York, July 24.—Within sight of the lights of Manhattan, four men neld up a coachload of immigrants ast night at the point of the pistol, and robbed them of perhaps $500 in ash, while their train was still stand-"They're firing at the box!" I said.

"They're firing at the box!" I said.

Karl was watching the men closely.

"It's strange," he said slowly, as anlast night at the point of the pistol, and robbed them of perhaps $500 in cash, while their train was still standfrom the lookout gave the gang warning, who were able to mingle with the

> There were perhaps a hundred immigrants in the car. The order for "all aboard" had been given and many had their hands outside the windows waving good-bye to friends, when two men stepped on the rear end of the last car of the train and two on the front platform.

All four whipped out revolvers and shouted "Hands up," "Shell out." Most of the immigrants did not understand the language, but the revolvers were wholly intelligible. The four men walked down the middle aisle of the car from either end, taking toll in jewelry and cash. They might have go more if a trainman had not stepped to the rear platform, and taking in the satuation at a glance, he ran to th station, yelling to the police.

RARE BOOKS AT RARE PRICES

American and Old Menastic Tomes Sold at Sotheby's. London, July 24.-Valuable old and nodern books were sold at Sotheby' These were some of the prices realized: J. M. W. Turner's "Liber Studorium," original issue, $950; Shakespeare's poems, 1640, a rare edition with many pieces falsely attributed to Shakespeare, $530; a quarto, "Horae Beatae Mariae Virginis ad Usum et Secundum Consuetudinem Ecclesiae Saris-Buriensis cum Calendario," English, richly illuminated manuscript on vellum, $2,900; Capt. John Smith, "The Generall Historie of Virginia, New England and the Summer Isles," 1624, $240; a number of pamphlets on America of about the time of the revoylution, $27 50; "The History of the Province of New York From the seats and began to study so hard, and were just as quiet and busy as could be.

Then, how do you suppose that lazy little bee felt? Why, it was just as ashamed as could be, and it started right in and worked so hard that before night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to fore night it had gathered just as I put my head out the cab window to five directions that we should be driven to the British Legation, I caught sight of the one person I had need of.

The Exceptional Money-Saving Offerings of Our Great July Clearance Sale

Are well exemplified in the tempting lines of Hosiery, in pretty lace effects and in colors to match your summer dresses, to be placed on sale tomorrow at greatly reduced

Black Embroidered Hose

Black Embroidered Lisle Thread Hose, with lace ankle. Regular 50c pair, Tuesday's price, 3 pairs for...... $1.00

We are offering also another line similar in style but superior in quality and design. Worth 75c a pair, selling Tuesday

Soft "Maco" Lisle Hose

Lisle Thread Hose, in lace and plain styles, full range of colors, including tan with polkadots. Regular price 29c a pair. Tuesday .....

Ladies' and Children's Hose

Ladies' and Children's Hose, in black, tan and white, a special line of fine quality. On sale Tuesday, 2 pairs for..... 25¢

Ladies' Summer Parasols

A choice assortment of dainty Summer Parasols, worth to $1.50, including choice designs in white and colored gingham, linen and pure silk. These are priced to clear 89c Tuesday at .....

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS.

GRAY & PARKE

150 DUNDAS AND CARLING STREET

Varia," $255. COUNTERFEITS IN CELL

Massachusetts State Prisoner Betrayed by Giving Inmate Bad Coin. Boston, July 24. - Someone has been making counterfeit half-dollars in the Charlestown state prison. Warden Benjamin Bridges admits that. But he won't tell who the man is. He says that the evidence is not yet On Saturday last, during the ball hausted a third girl of the party.

The dead—Anna Hill, 21 years old,
Highlend Park, N. J., Edith Hill, 15,
Highland Park; Gordon Silverthorne,
22. Newark. of the game. He sald he did the looks of the money. Allen took the piece of money the convict had, and showed it to He gave the name of the Bridges.

> who doubted its genuineness. The cell of this man was searched. In the cell were found some ticles of tin and lead and also a plas-The supposition is that the ter mold. suspect had manufactured half-dollars in this mold and passed the one Warden Bridges at once ordered hat the man in whose cell the mold was found be put in another cell. Then the warden notified Chairman Pettigrove, of the prison commission, and also United States Secret Service Agent Ahearn. Warden Bridges would not tell the manner in which the counterfeiter got the necessary heat to melt his metal for the plaster cast. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup

DECREASE IN SOO CANAL. Detroit, July 25.-The annual report of United States District Engineer Townsend, for the fiscal year ended June 30, shows a decrease of over 3,-800,000 tons of freight through the Soo ended June 30, 1909, which was considered a poor year.

After La Grippe

"I had suffered several weeks with LaGrippe. Had pains in my head and eyes. It felt as though there was a heavy weight on the top of my head, until it seemed that my brain would burst. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. When I dozed off I would awake with a sudden jerking of my whole body. Dr. Miles' Nervine, Heart Remedy and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. A number of friends have since realized the same benefits." MRS. ALVIN H. LOCKS.

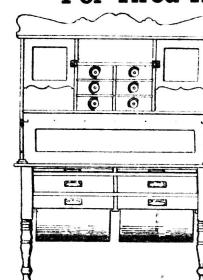

Seabrook, N. H. The after effects of LaGrippe are often more serious than the disease, as it leaves the system in a weakened condition that invites more serious troubles,

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine should be taken for some time to thoroughly restore nerve strength. Pripe $1.60 at your druggist. He should supply you. It he does not, send price to us, we ferward prepaid, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Toronto, such as pneumonia, etc.

The Half Has Never Been Told

About Our Patent Kitchen Cabinet For Tired Housekeepers

out day after day with unnecessary walking. Running here Our Patent Combination Cabinet will save many a weary step and miles of useless walking, because whatever you require is within easy reach. Contains one bake-board, one chopping-board, drawer, one cutlery drawer (in (capacity 60 pounds each), one double towel rack, six spice drawers, two-door cupboards, five cup or tin hangers, three open cabinets.

Made in solid maple, in light or golden colors finish, brass handles on drawers, mounted on easy running casters. Get Your Good Wife One. Price. Complete, $12.00

NO MORE, NO LESS. The same cabinet without top part, only Made in London by John Ferguson & Sons
174 to 180 King Street

POLISH

THE F. F. DALLEY CO., LIMITED, Hamilton, Ont., and Buffale, N.Y. Itching Scalp Ceases After One Application

ans foot comfort. It keeps leather soft and pliable - makes shoes last longer. Does not contain any Turpentine,

Acids, or other injurious ingredients. Brilliant and lasting—one rub does the trick.

ALL DEALERS, 10c.

WILLING TO GUARANTEE PAR-ISIAN SAGE BECAUSE THEY KNOW IT GIVES SATISFACTION TO ALL WHO USE IT.

Most druggists know that there is no hair preparation that gives so as Parisian Sage, which is now on sale all over Can-The reasons are ous bottle for 50 cents. The only hair tonic that is sure to kill the dandruff germs. A rigid guarantee to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching many.

A large, gener-

scalp in two weeks or money back. Keeps the scalp cool in summer and free from unpleasant odors.

Itch

BROKER KILLED.

Cincinnati, July 23.-William Roester, head of the brokerage firm of Thurig, the other CAIRNCROSS & LAWRENCE ARE 1 Will make any woman's hair bewitchingly charming in one week. Grows hair and makes it soft, brilliant and luxuriant.

And here's more proof "Some fourteen years ago I had typhoid fever. It caused my hair to nearly all fall out. I have since used and tried several hair tonics and renewers, but nothing ever made my hair grow in until I tried a bottle of Parisian Sage. The use of Parisian Sage cooled and cleansed the scalp, removed all the dandruff and left my hair silky and glossy in appearance, besides making the new hair grow in. Today I have an abundance of hair. hardly any grey hairs, and no dand-

"It is any wonder that I praise Parisian Sage?"—Mrs. Ann E. Moody, 1900 Bainbridge street, Manchester,

Va., April 2, 1909. Leading druggists everywhere sell Parisian Sage. Cairneross & Lawrence sell it in London for 50 cents, on the money-back plan. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. Mail orders filled by Giroux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont., sole Canadian makers. in a collision between his automobile and a street car on East Seventh and Main streets, yesterday. William F. Koester & Co., was killed machine, was not injured.

