WHITE SHRINE PLANS MAMMOTH BAZAAR

Mrs. Bert Logan General Convener of Event For Building Fund.

A bazaar on a mammoth scale is planned for the middle of November by the White Shrine of Jerusalem, in aid of the building fund. Mrs. Bert Logan has been appointed general convener of the event, and assisting her on committees are representatives of the three Eastern Star lodges in the city, which are deeply interested in the building project. These are members also of the White Shrine. The assistance is further deepened by the fact that the chapter members in Wingham, Listowel and some in St. Thomas, who are still identified with the work in London.

In addition to many other attractions, it is proposed to have an auction, standing speaker for the occasion. The following are the committees which have been appointed: Aprons, convener, Mrs. T. Cousins, assisted by Miss Boss, Mrs. Late and Mrs. Stewart; candy, Mrs. Bond, convener, assisted by Mesdames Newman, A. Wootton and Bert Thomas; home-cooking, Mrs. Ashton, convener, assisted by Mesdames Horner, Kreiser, Meehan, Shaw and Maud Ellis, St. Thomas; fish pond, Mrs. C. Pennington and Mrs. Campbell; country store, Mrs. Arthur Linnell, convener, assisted by Mrs. James Mills, Mrs. Toser, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. H. Herring, Mrs. J. P. Harrington and Mrs. Bernice of Listowel; tea room, Mrs. Leth, convener, assisted by Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Euskard, Mrs. Rhyn, Mrs. Ram and Mrs. Duncan Ross; miscellaneous, Mrs. Woems, convener, assisted by Mrs. Fred Heximer, Mrs. Lawson, Miss Susan Hill and Miss Cross; games, Mrs. Murdie, convener, assisted by Mr. John Staples, Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. C. Heaman; fancywork, Mrs. Arthur Borland and Mrs. Howie, convener, assisted by Mrs. Lemery, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Arthur Bentley; children's, Mrs. Charles Phillip and Mrs. J. Hill, convener, assisted by Mesdames Elliott, McLaren, McIntyre, McLaughlin and Walker; box booth, Mrs. Fred Tullett and Mrs. May Haldane; handkerchiefs, Mrs. John Fraser, convener, assisted by Mesdames Edwards, Wallace, Lewis, Lee and Clegg of Wingham; sewing house, Mrs. Charles Westman, convener, assisted by Mesdames Westman, Williams, Fred Simmons, Connor and Miss Gooderham.

Mrs. Jague of St. Thomas will be "the old lady in apron of brave hue, who had so many pockets she didn't know what to do."

It is proposed also to have a "Mystery Lady." Mrs. Fred Staples is worthy high priestess of the Palestine Shrine.

The monthly social evening was an enjoyable affair, with cards and dancing on Thursday.

Appeals To Cynthia For City Home.

DEAR Miss Grey,—I am a young girl fourteen years of age, a daughter of a war veteran, and I am quite anxious to obtain a home in the city in order that I may go to school. I am willing to work around the house after school hours in return for my keep, and will help in every way I can. I do hope you can find a home for me, Miss Grey, as I do not want to lose any time at school, as it means so much. If any of your city readers would take me, would they write to you, Miss Grey, for my address. Hoping that I will get good news soon, I am, A WILLING WORKER.

If any of the city boxes would take this little girl, who so anxious to get on in the world, into their homes, I am sure they would be doing a most charitable act. She would not be any trouble, as you can see by her letter she is willing to help in every way possible. Let me hear from some of the kind-hearted boxes right away, so that this child may be placed in a home.

FINISHED OR NOT MUST MOVE ON

Even if the object was a most serious one, to raise money for missions, the progressive supper party held on Thursday evening by the Women's Missionary Society of the Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church created much amusement.

Announced as "The Feast of the Seven Tables," one course of the bountiful meal was served at each of the first six, while payment was made at the seventh to Mesdames Jones, McComick and E. Durdon. Ten minutes were allowed for the guests at each table and when the bell rang they were obliged to move on, whether they had completed the course or not. Many a lesson was learned of the folly of talking too much while eating, when the remorseless marshals insisted there should be no loitering, and that places must be promptly vacated for the next in line. Scalloped potatoes and meat were served at the first or white table, in charge of Mrs. James Owen. Mrs. H. C. Couch had table two, Mrs. Henry Childs table three, Mrs. Frederick Mason table four, Mrs. Charles P. Myrick table five, and Mrs. R. B. Elliott table six. Each was decorated in a different hue, the autumn foliage and flowers with which the basement of the church was banked forming an attractive setting.

Two hours, from 6 to 8 o'clock, were allowed for eating, after which a program was given, consisting of an address of welcome from Mrs. Small, president of the W. M. S.; solos by Mrs. Self, Miss Miriam McCormick, Miss Lotta Fisher and Mr. Callard; duet, Miss L. Hoffman and Mr. Harry Hahn; violin solo, Mr. Neil Dowding; instrumental duet, Miss Doris Childs and Mrs. Cameron; readings, Miss Pearl Bendle and Miss Rodgers; address, Rev. J. McCormick, pastor of the church. Mrs. Harry Hahn was general convener.

Will Be Able To Buy S. C. H. Post Cards

The Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. E., is to have the distinction of issuing the first War Memorial Children's Hospital post cards. This new enterprise was decided upon at Thursday's meeting, and Mrs. B. Hookway, Mrs. J. Ferguson, and Mrs. Roy Cunningham appointed a committee to look after the printing of the cards. Arrangements were also made for a bridge and euchre in the near future, under the joint convener, Mrs. Gordon Edgecombe and Mrs. B. Elford.

Mrs. Gordon Zavitz, who is leaving to make her home in Goderich, was showered with good wishes and presented with a letter of introduction to the order in Goderich.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. Ferguson, Forward avenue, and one of the pleasures of the afternoon was a stroll round the beautiful grounds, which command a magnificent view. Afternoon tea was served, with Mrs. O. I. Cunningham and Mrs. Zavitz performing the duties of tea hostesses.

MADE RESOLUTIONS BUILT FOR BUSINESS

West Country and Canadian C. W. L. Convention Vividly Impress Mrs. McCann.

Mrs. Bernard C. McCann, newly-elected treasurer of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, has returned home from the national convention, just closed in Winnipeg, profoundly impressed with the vastness of her own country, the needs and opportunities in connection with immigration work and Canadianization.

"It was my first trip West," she said to the Women's Department of the Advertiser, "and I was quite unprepared for the magnificent reaches of country all the way through Northern Ontario and in Manitoba. It made me realize Canada as never before, just as meeting delegates from Atlantic to Pacific, from Halifax to Victoria, brought home the fact that Ontario isn't by any means doing all the nation building for Canada. I was quite unprepared for the fine streets of beautiful homes and public buildings of Winnipeg."

"In the convention, our second annual, much promise was given to discussion of immigration problems and Canadianization. One evening we had music from a Ruthenian choir of 24 voices, and I cannot ever remember listening to more beautiful harmony. One young girl of 15 or 16 had a wonderful voice."

"Commenting on this, Archbishop O'Leary drew attention to the great talent which the newcomers from other lands bring to our national life, but which are in danger of being lost through lack of recognition."

Where Do They Go?

"In connection with the subject of immigration, reports we heard gave us cause for serious thought. A Winnipeg priest told us that frequently newcomers disappear on their way to their destination, and that he has had many letters asking him to look up people who were supposed to go to Winnipeg, but who had failed to reach there. This does not say that anything else has happened to the missing, but it gives ground for a certain amount of apprehension. Some accurate follow-up system from the port of entry to destination would seem most desirable in order to adequately handle the immigration situation from this angle."

"We had splendid addresses on the Bay Scout and Girl Guide movement, and this work is being taken up enthusiastically by the sub-divisions. It was significant that there was scarcely a report presented which did not mention aggressive child welfare activities."

"The Sisters of Service is a new order, which will give valuable aid in connection with immigration and Canadianization work, especially in the West. Rev. Father Daly of Toronto spoke to us on this movement."

Better Organized.

"So far as the convention was concerned, we were much better organized for business this year. We are not such a new organization as we were a year ago. At the opening session, the archbishop warned against the danger into which many women's organizations fall in convention of making so many resolutions they cannot carry out. We followed his advice pretty much and proceeded along the lines of fewer resolutions, and the firm resolve to carry out those we did make."

Mrs. McCann referred to the fact that Miss Belle Guerin of Montreal, who was a guest of the first annual convention of the London diocese division Catholic Women's League a year ago, was elected president. "She was wearing two decorations," said Mrs. McCann, "one received from the pope when she attended the International League of Catholic Women in Rome, of which she gave a report. She is the only woman in Canada, by the way, who has been honored with this decoration. The other decoration was from the King of Serbia in recognition of her war work."

Mrs. McCann mentioned that Mrs. George Mawson of Exeter on Saturday, Sept. 23, at high noon, when their only daughter, Greta Margaret, was united in marriage to Elmore Tuckey of London, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Tuckey of the London road north. Rev. G. H. McAlister, M.A., pastor of Main Street Methodist Church, officiated.

An artistic array of evergreens and flowers formed a very pretty setting for the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a dress of white georgette and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. As she entered the parlor with her father, "The Bride's March," from "Lohengrin," was played by the church organ.

Annie Nichol of Parkhill, Little Miss Vivian Elliott, niece of the groom, dressed in pink satin, made a very pretty flower girl. She carried a basket of Sweetheart roses. During the signing of the register, Miss Bernice Tuckey, sister of the groom, sang very sweetly "The Crown."

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, the dining-room being decorated in pink and white. The guests numbered fifty.

The groom's gift to the planter was a bar pin; to the soloist a pair of earrings, and to the flower girl a ring.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti for Toronto, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo, before traveling in a navy blue tricot suit with black velvet hat, and gray squirrel choker. On their return they will reside in London.

WAKELING-ORCHARD.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, Siloam, by Rev. Mr. Love, when Mary Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orchard, Thorndale, was united in marriage to William J. Wakeling, London.

The pretty bride looked charming in a gown of navy canton crepe, with a corsage of Ophelia roses. Many beautiful presents were received by the popular bride. The gift of the groom was a handsome club bag, and the officiating staff of Northern Life, of which the bride was a member, gave her a shower, presenting her with four pieces of Community plate, Adam pattern, silver. The happy couple will reside in London.

REVINGTON-SIMPSON.

A very pretty wedding took place in Christ Church, McGillivray, on Wednesday, Oct. 4, when Alma, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Simpson, became the bride of Mr. Wesley Revington, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Revington, Lucan.

Rev. F. Whalen officiated. Mr. R. Neil presided at the organ, while Mr. Maurice Simpson acted as usher. The church was beautifully decorated with white asters, white wedding bells and autumn leaves.

The young bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess satin, draped with radium lace. Her wedding veil of embroidered tulle fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies and Ophelia roses. The only bridal attendant was little Eva Revington, the groom's young sister, who was dressed in a frilly frock of white satin and carried a basket of Sweetheart roses. During the signing of the register Miss Aleina Patrick sang very sweetly, "For You Alone."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where about sixty guests enjoyed a wedding breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Revington left on a motor trip to Detroit, and on their return will live on Main street, Lucan, in their new home which is almost completed. The groom's gift to the bride was a beaver fur neckpiece, and to the ushers and organist, gold cuff links, the soloist a gold bar pin with pearls, and the flower girl a gold locket and chain.

The bride traveled in a smart suit of navy tricot, and black velvet hat, with paradise plumes and silver trimming.
