"NOT GUILTY" SAY THE JURY

FRANK WILSON ACQUITTED ON THE CHARGE OF MURDER

There Was Not Sufficient Evidence to Prove That He Drowned His Wife—The Jury Deliberated Three Hours Before Deciding—The Evidence for the Defense Addressed by Counsel

A. S. SO had created the jury at the York Assizes in the case of Frank Wilson, who was charged with the murder of his wife near Kewick, returned a verdict of "Not Guilty."

The last day's proceedings were very weary looking yesterday morning at the Assize Court. He still, however, manifests as much interest as ever in the evidence, as adduced from the witnesses for the prosecution, and the first of the witnesses for the defense, Mrs. Susanna Wilson, mother of the prisoner, was called. She spoke to the effect that she had seen her husband on the morning of the murder, and that she had seen him in the witness box and sobbed audibly. The prisoner tried in vain to restrain his composure, and also wept when the various little scenes in which Cricket had participated were alluded to.

David G. Wilson, the husband of the last witness, spoke as to the compatibility of the temper of the young couple, stating that he never knew of any quarrel between them. Little Cricket was a most fascinating child and the father's partiality for her was plainly noticeable when the other two children were present.

Emma Armstrong, a sister of the wife, alluded to a quarrel which occurred between the two over a letter, and the husband, which had fallen into the wife's hands. The episode was from a Miss Compton and the contents displeased the wife very much.

Thomas J. Woodcock, who has greatly interested himself in the evidence, and in collecting any other evidence which might be of benefit to the prisoner, spoke of the heaviness of the larger of the two boxes, stating that it was impossible for one man to get it out of the boat-house.

The crown has endeavored to make a strong point throughout the case owing to the prisoner having used the smaller boat, but he has been able to show that the larger boat was used on the day of the murder.

Dr. John Caven stated that he had conducted between 200 and 400 post-mortem examinations, and that he had examined the body of the woman who had been submitted in the case. He stated that he had seen the body on the morning of the murder, and that he had seen it on the morning of the murder, and that he had seen it on the morning of the murder.

The cross-examination of this witness was long and searching, the doctors, who were called in to examine the body, were asked a number of questions, and the crown, in an endeavor to break down his testimony, the judge proved himself a most able interpreter of the medical terms used.

Mrs. Wilson recalled said that on the Friday preceding the murder her daughter had been taken from the boat and hurt her breast.

NEW EVIDENCE SAID TO BE AVAILABLE AGAINST HER.

They May Be More Newspaper Facts, and They May Have Facts to Sustain Them—A Despatch from Fall River, Which Casts Doubt on the Reports.

BORSTON, Oct. 10.—The Globe publishes a 15-column story from Fall River setting forth in detail new and startling evidence for the prosecution in the Borden murder case, which it says is in the hands of the police and is to be given by 23 new witnesses, who will testify for the state at the coming trial. The evidence is forthcoming from people who stand high in the community in which they live.

Briefly stated, the new evidence is as follows: John H. Murphy, who resides in Bedford-street, Fall River, will testify that he was standing on the bank close to the Borden house when Mr. Borden entered the yard about 1.40 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 4, and he saw him a minute later, when he was walking in the yard. He saw a window blind of the room in which Mrs. Borden's body was afterwards found, and he saw it open and close.

The next witness of importance is Gustave F. Ronald of Pawtucket, R. I. About 0.40 on the morning of the murder, he was wheeling his baby carriage at the Borden house, when she heard a terrible cry or groan. She looked up at the Borden house and saw a woman passing by a partially open window a woman whose head was in part covered by a rubber cap or hood, whose face she plainly saw at the distance was short. This window is the same as the one pointed out by Mr. Murphy. Mrs. Borden has identified the woman as the Peter Mahoney, the woman who had heard the groan, seen the woman at the window, who recognized her as the younger daughter of the Borden family, all members of which he knew well by sight.

Augustus Gunning, at the time a lodger in the Borden house, is said to have seen Lizzie Borden in the window at the same time and under the circumstances. These witnesses, The Globe says, Miss Borden at her mother's side at the same time and under the circumstances. The Ontario Q. C. Hon. E. Blake appeared before the Court of Appeal yesterday for discharges as to the case of the Ontario Government to appoint Queen's Counsel to be decided by the court. The matter was most ably balanced so up to this point everything had gone smoothly and pleasantly, all proceedings had been conducted in the most courteous and dignified manner.

A Story Which Is Exciting the Gossips of Glenwilliam.

GLENWILLIAM, Oct. 10.—Glenwilliam is the name of a small village situated about two miles from this town. Ordinarily it is a very quiet place, but just now the inhabitants are somewhat excited, and this is the reason: About one year ago Thomas McNeerney, a hotelkeeper of the place, mysteriously disappeared. His disappearance was the subject of much conversation at the time, and the general opinion at the time was that he had gone to the States, and the majority of the neighbors dismissed the matter from their minds. Mrs. McNeerney's sister, Francis Morrison, was placed in charge of the hotel and managed affairs until his death. It is alleged that he had been talking to her about his disappearance, and that he had been talking to her about his disappearance, and that he had been talking to her about his disappearance.

The matter stands at present, and it is probable that a search will be made tomorrow. The matter stands at present, and it is probable that a search will be made tomorrow. The matter stands at present, and it is probable that a search will be made tomorrow.
