COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—It is currently reported that the Hon. H. J. Boulton is to be the additional judge of this Court. Public opinion is almost unanimously opposed to the proposition. In addition to the other objections against the Hon. Gentleman, there are some grave charges affecting his professional character, which in the present position of affairs, would render the propriety of his being elevated to the Bench a more than questionable matter, hereference to one of these charges, the Chancellor remarked on Saturday. "I cannot bring my mind to look upon such an act in any other light than as one of the greatest violations of every thing honourable, and of such conduct as the Court have.

MR. RUTTAN'S VENTILATION.—We understand that Mr. Ruttan is now engaged in erecting two of his ventilators in St. George's Church in this city; all other means of warming the above church having failed. He is assisted by Mr. Kivas Tully, Architect, the Church Wardens having appointed him for that purpose, so that the principle may be fully and satisfactorily tested. Mr. Tully has been a zealous advocate of Mr. Ruttan's invention ever since its first trial here; and we believe we are the first to introduce Mr. This is the name of a new paper to be published in St. Cathanical every first trial the city was regularly excited by the intelligence that a number of prisoners had been brought down from the Mines; but as the embellishments of Madam Rumour were cleared away, it was discovered that Allan McDonnell, Esq., and two Indian Chiefs, old Shingwakonee and Nebenagoshin, and two half breeds, had come down in charge of Captain Frazer of the Gore, under a warrant from Captain Ironsides and Mr. Campbell (of the Bruce Mines), and were committed to gaol. It appears that Mr. McDonnell and the Chiefs arrived at the Sault Ste. Marie about the same time as the detachment of the Rifles under Captain Cooper. Mr. McDonnell waited on Captain C., and stated that they had come down from Mica Bay on purpose to surrender themselves, down from Mica Bay on purpose to surrender themselves, as they wished to bring the matter to a conclusion Capt. Cooper stated that he was under the direction of the Magistrates and had no power to accept their surrender. Mr. MacDonnell then applied to the above-named Magistrates, stating that he wanted to go across to the American shore, but that he had no intention of avoiding an investigation. After some consultation the Magistrates told Mr. McDonnell that he had better "consider himself under arhimself. Accordingly likey drew out a Warraht amagiste the three parties above-named in charge of Captain Frazer, having sworn him in as a special constable. In the afternoon of Monday, bail was accepted for all the parties by the Chief Justice, without the least hesitation. Mr. Sherwood has been detained for the accused. A preliminary investigation will take place to-day. The Gore had arrived at the gation will take place to-day. The Gore had arrived at the countered ice from four to five inches thick, and had to cut her way through it for four miles. Mr. McDonnell warmly advised Capt. Cooper not to proceed to Mica Bay. He assured him that if the Indians were left in quiet possession of the place, not the least injury to property would be sustained, but that they were determined, if the military or any other force were sent up, to set fire to the buildings and lumber, so that the soldiers would probably find themselves destitute both of shelter and all materials for forming it. It is well known that pending the arrangements with Mr. Bonner, one of the Chiefs became dissatisfied that they were not more speedily proceeded with, and urged his companions to "light their fires," (signal fires having been agreed upon in case of their wanting additional force), and it was not without some difficulty that he was dissuaded from so doing. We believe this was overheard by Dr. Newton. Of course Captain Cooper had no choice but to proceed, and an Ame-Captain Cooper had no choice but to proceed, and an Ame-Captain Cooper had no choice but to proceed, and an American propeller, the Independence, was chartered for two hundred pounds to take them from the Sault to their place of destination. We understand the Gore received the same sum, so this little expedition has cost five hundred pounds merely for water carriage!!! What will the result of exasperating the Indians cost? What will the claims of the case. A murder of the most atrocious character has been committed within the walls of the Boston Tragedy.—It but seldom fails to the dury of the Press to record the commitment of the crime of murder by a person not only of high rank in society, but one whose education and literary attainments gained for him the position of Professor in a Medical College. Yet such is now the case. A murder of the most atrocious character has been committed within the walls of the Boston Medical College, Company be, in case a jury decide that the Government have and had no title to the lands? So far, every thing appears to be done as far as the Indians and the Messrs. Mcnell are concerned, with the most sedulous anxiety to avoid every species, of force or violence which was not necessary to bring the question of right to a speedy decision; and as the occupation of Mica Bay will inevitably be looked upon by the Indians as a hostile proceeding, and as the troops may be exposed to very serious annoyance by their remaining ere through the winter, we hope that no time will be lost in bringing them back, more particularly as no possible good can be derived from retaining them there. Our acute Crown lawyers were rather puzzled when they heard that that Mr. Angus McDonnell had arrived in Toronto, and have been pursuing a vacillating shilly-shally course ever since in re-

A prominent feature in his plans is, that those placed under his roof, be not allowed, even during the hours of relaxation, to be without proper surveillance, thus preventing those fatal practices which but too often have their origin when boys ought to be engaged in such healthy recreations as will refit them for study; and thus, too, uniting, what indeed can never be separated without inflicting incalculable injury on youth—moral and intellectual training.

The advantages offered at Picton, beautifully situated as it is amid the picturesque scenery of the Bay of Quinte, easy of access both by Land and Water, and remote from the frequent excitement of more populous Towns, appear, in every respect favourable to this design.

Besides half-yearly public examinations, there will be weekly recitations, and frequent lectures on scientific subjects, illustrated by diagrams and suitable apparatus.

The comfort and health of Boarders will receive from MRS, PHIL-LIPPS peculiar and unremitted maternal care.

Dear Sir,—The ravages of the Cholera in every part of our country impels me as a duty I owe to homanity, to make known what your Forest Pills and Wine have done in this He then made a voyage to Europe, hoping by tracation. He then made a voyage to Europe, noping by travel and change of scenery, to invigorate his sinking frame. But in this he was doomed to disappointment; for after to recover several months of suffering among strangers, pidated than when he had left them. He came to this place some months ago, and during almost the entire period which has elapsed from that time till his death, he was confined to a bed of languishing and pain, which he bore with a degree of patient fortitude and calm resignation, which it has rarely fallen to my lot to witness.

He was not one of those who make loud pretensions dreadful disorder on board of my vessel. On the 10th of June while on my way from new Orleans to Lewisville, as master while on my way from new Orleans to Lewisville, as master of the Steamer Swifture, the Cholera broke out on board with great severity. On the first appearance of it three per sons were attacked; being no physician present I gave them such medicines from my medicine chest as I thought best. Two out of the three, however, died. On the following day even more was taken, and great alarm prevailed among the passengers. I was then informed that a quantity of your medicines were on board the Steamer, belonging to one of the passengers, Mr. J. M. Prime of New Orleans. How many of the young men who are now running the giddy round of sin and folly, will remember when they read this notice, that they too must die, and that they know known to be on board the boat. TWe have extracted the above obituary, from a Paper published in the United States. The estimable young man whose death is recorded in it, with a well merited tribute to his memory, was the brother of Mrs. M. C. Crombie, in this City. During his residence in Toronto, a few years ago, he filled the situation of Assistant Master in the Home District Grammar School; and, after he had relinquished this post, obtained an appointment in the High School Montreal. He remained connected with that Institution during the administration of the former Principal, the Rev. J. T. Simpson, A. M.; and, upon the retirement of that gentleman, he resigned his situation in consequence of declining health. To many friends both in this City and Montreal, in addition to his sorrowing relatives his decease will be a source of sincere effect. His many excellent qualities madelhim very dear to those who knew him, whose confidence and affection were gained by his am. able temper, and disposition, and strict integrity, patience, and faithfulness in the performance of his duties. The remembrance of these attractive features of his character is no disparagement to give my signature in evidence of the excellent qualities of your medicines.

My sister, from her youth, had been in very delicate health, complaining frequently of weakness of the chest, attended with a cough. About the age of eighteen she began to get much worse. For six months previous to commencing with your medicines she had not been able to go out of the house. Her countenance was greatly emmaciated, yellow, and sickly. Her face and neck was covered with disagreeable pustules, eyes very much sunken, and her cough increasing. In fine she hore every appearance of soon becoming an unhappy victim to consumption. At this time I procured for her some of your Every Wine and Pills, which she commenced using according
