It Didn't Matter Which Side

A NEGRO boatman in charge of a ferry in one of the Southern States of America was accosted by a stranger who wanted to cross, but had not the money to pay. Old Sambo scratched his woolly head perplexedly, then asked: "Doan' yo' got no money at all?" "No," was the dejected reply. "But it doan' cost yo' but three cents to cross," insisted Sambo. "I know, but I ain't got three cents." "I done tell you what," said Sambo after a pause; "a man what ain't got three cents am jes' as well off on this side ob de rebber as on de odder."

Answered

PROFESSOR (discussing organic and inorganic kingdoms)—Now, if I should shut my eyes—so—and turn my head—so—and remain perfectly still, you would say I was a clod. But I move, I leap. Then what do you call me?

Bright Pupil—a clodhopper, sir.

His Difficulty

GOING to plant potatoes in your garden this spring?"

"I thought I would, but when I looked up the way to do it I found that potatoes have to be planted in hills, and our yard is perfectly flat."

We Don't Think

"How is it you've increased the price of bread again?"
"Well, you see Ma'am, we reduced the size of the loaf, so that makes it just the same."

Wanted-Helpful Prayer

TUST before the conclusion of the weekly J prayer-meeting in a country town one evening the parson arose and glanced over the congregation.

"Is there anybody present," said he,

"who wishes the prayers of the congrega-tion for a relative or friend?"
"Yes, parson," answered a tall, angu-lar woman, rising to her feet. "I want the

"Why, Sister Martha," exclaimed the parson with a surprised expression, "you have no husband!"

"I know I haven't," was the calm rejoinder of Sister Martha. "I want all hands to pitch in and help me pray for

Bright Pupil

"WHAT is the meaning of 'alter ego'?" asked the teacher of the beginners' class in Latin.

"It means the 'other I," responded a pupil.

"Give me a sentence containing the phrase."

"He winked his alter ego."
