Traffic Regulations

The German Road Traffic Ordinance includes some rules of the road which differ from those observed in Canada. It is absolutely essential for safety's sake to know the rules and to be familiar with the international road signs used in Germany. A few points to remember are:

Drive on the right, pass on the left – including on the Autobahn.

Right-of-way (Vorfahrt) must be yielded to vehicles (including bicycles) coming from your right at all intersections not otherwise marked.

Pedestrians have complete right-of-way when they step onto the black-and-white zebra crosswalks. Be especially alert for persons wearing yellow armbands, as this signifies blindness.
