

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY OF CANADA'S PUBLICATIONS.

Forest, Stream and Seashore.

A book of over 250 pages, giving a complete description of the country contiguous to the lines of railway in Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Beautifully illustrated in color and half tone. Worthy a place in any library.

Storied Halifax

Tells of the Nova Scotia Capital in the good old days when grim warfare raged and prize money flowed in streams of golden guineas, also of its hopes and aspirations for the future; its ideal location and glorious summer climate.

The City of the Loyalists

The story of St. John, N. B. and some of the romance associated with its founding by the United Empire Loyalists in 1783. The vicissitudes of the early settlers who labored to build a city that is destined to become one of Canada's greatest shipping ports.

The Ancient Capital

Quebec, the Niobe of the New world, unique among the cities of America, because of its past and present so strangely interwoven. A graphic chapter of its romantic past and its most interesting present.

The Garden of the Gulf

Prince Edward Island blessed by nature with most fertile soil and balmy summer climate. Something of its past and highly prosperous present. Its fine farms and substantial homes. A part of Canada no one can afford to miss.

Fishing and Hunting

A pamphlet that contains practical and reliable information for the sportsmen, concerning the splendid opportunities, for big game hunting, salmon and trout fishing etc, in Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Industrial Opportunities

The Maritime Provinces as a field for investment. "New Capital" and "New Blood" needed to exploit the rich resources that are awaiting development. This booklet deals with this subject in a manner most practical and interesting.
