Attractions Booked.

A partial list of the attractions that will follow in the course of the season, includes—Verona Jarbeau; Dan McCarty; Ida Van Cortland; Lillian Lewis; E. S. Willard, (the great English actor); Fast Mail; Said Pasha; Storm Beaten; Kate Emmett; Robert Lowning; Under the Lion's Paw; Rhea; C. B. Hanford, in a grand spectacular production of Julius Caesar; Primrose and West's Minstrels; Bostonians in Robin Hood (the latest New York comic opera success); Private Secretary; Good Old Times; Guy Brothers' Minstrels; Ramsey Morris; The Stowaway; Gus Hills' World of Novelties; Rosina Vokes; After Dark; Margaret Mather; Katharine Rober; Tar and Tartar; Ezra Kundall; and many others of the strongest attractions on the road.

Between the Acts.

Be good—and you will be a curiosity.
A word in mind is worth two in the dictionary.
The silver question—"Can you lend me a quarter?"
The line that tailors hang clothes on—Masculine.
Edmund Yates, the distinguished London journalist, who thought going to jail was a joke, has come to realize that it is a yoke.
Dan Manning eats one meal early in the morning and another at night. He was once an editor, but lately has taken to eating an extra meal.
"Reading maketh a man full," says Bacon, but a man who gives to a judge that excuse for his unsteady condition will receive a sentence not found in any of Bacon's philosophy.
Young ladies at a certain Western college are taught how to make bread. When they graduate they are known as college-bread women, and are in great demand with housekeepers.
"Do you know," said a sly youth to his sweetheart, "do you know that Englishmen believe that American girls do not know what to do with their arms?" "Oh, don't they, eh?" she said. "Well, I'll show you." And, suiting the action to the word, made him think he was in a cider press.
A news item gives an account of a young man attempting to commit suicide with a corkscrew. No doubt he found the bottle before he got hold of the corkscrew. A great many men succeed in committing suicide with a corkscrew, by the way, but in some cases years elapse before death results.
"What makes you think you saw your husband's ghost last night?" "He came into my room and I called on him to stop, but he passed on as if he didn't hear me."
"Perhaps it was really your husband." "No, I am sure it wasn't. John, poor John, would not have dared to go on without stopping."
"You look dreadfully tired," said the sleigh to the wheel. "That's because I go round with the feloes, I suppose," said the wheel. I get awfully slewed myself, sometimes," remarked the sleigh. "I am always pretty full when I go to a funeral, said the carriage," sticking out its tongue. Then the wheel spoke again and said: "Stop the hub-bub! Here is a couple of awful cross roads ahead."
