THIS little work has been undertaken by the Compiler at the repeated solicitation of many members of his Congregation, by permission of his venerated Diocesan, and with the approbation and advice of a number of his brethren of the Clergy.

The Hymns are intended chiefly as a Supplement to the Version of Psalms in common use in the Church of England. But a hope is entertained that they will also be found useful in Sunday and other Schools, and at the seasons of Family and Private Devotion.

In the arrangement of the Hymns, it will be perceived that attention has been paid to the order of Services prescribed in the Book
