

Boîte aux lettres.
Box for the letters.

Deux roues.
Carriage.

Compartiments.
Partments.

Noires.

De bois. (20)
Den leg.

Al forms. When in language, they witness is termed ment is termed a powder is termed

Espagnol.
Al hymn.

S.
Agree with it in
al. This posiize the second

ug for the milk,

second noun.

ADDENDUM

i

Quel chapeau voulez-vous? Le petit. Celui de soie.
Which hat do you want? The little one. The silk one.

Quelle rose? La plus belle Celle de Marie.
Which rose? The prettiest (one). Mary's

Voici un chapeau de paille et un de soie.
Here is a hat of straw and a silk one.

Voici des chapeaux de paille et en voici de soie. (21)
Here are some straw hats and some silk ones.

COMMON PHRASES

To be learned by heart

Il a la bouche petite.	His mouth is small.
Elle a la voix douce.	She has a sweet voice.
Vous avez les yeux noirs.	You have black eyes.
Il m'a donné la main.	He gave me the hand (his hand).
Vous lui avez ouvert les yeux.	You opened his eyes.
Vous lui avez marché sur le pied.	You have walked him on the foot.

(22)

Il a mal à la tête,	He has a head ache,
aux dents,	a tooth ache,
au ventre,	a stomach (belly) ache
aux oreilles.	an ear ache.
Il a mal aux yeux,	He has sore eyes,
au nez,	a sore nose,
à la gorge,	a sore throat,
aux pieds,	sore feet,
à la jambe,	a sore leg,
à l'estomac (à la poitrine)	a sore chest,
au cœur.	He is sick at the stomach. (23)

(21) EN cannot be used without a verb, hence VOICI is used with it. Otherwise it would be necessary to repeat the words DES CHAPEAUX.

(22) Notice how we avoid using the possessive adjectives when referring to the attributes of the body.

(23) The heart and stomach being intimately connected, CŒUR is often used for ESTOMAC. On the other hand ESTOMAC is often used for POITRINE (chest or breast).