Hamilton, April 18.—(Special.)—Justice MacMahon closed the Assize Court late this afternoon, leaving eight non-jury cases untouched. This morning he tried Day v the Dominion Loan and Building Association, in which Mrs. Day, this city, sued to recover $600. She claimed that she gave $1600 for 32 of the association's shares to John Wright, its Hamilton agent, year before last, but was credited with only before last, but was credited with only $1000. The defence was that the association was not liable for the acts of its agents beyond $1 a month for each share. This proviso was on the agreement signed by the plaintiff. Wright left the country shortly after the transaction. The judge found for the association without costs.

The suits of JA. Turner, A. Zimmerman, W. A. Wood and J. J. Scott against the Hotel Braft Company were then taken up. Plaintiffs asked that their names he removed from the company's stock list, and the Whiding-up of the company will be gone on with.

pelled in Self-Defence to Shoot.

Innisfail, N.W.T., April 18 .- (Special.)-The inquest on the body of David Karr took place here last night.

Mrs. Annie Letitia Karr, wife of Karr said: "We lived in a house belonging to Mr. Wade. I went to bed about 10 p.m.; the baby was crying and my husband went downstairs quietly, and half-way down he stopped, and I heard a rap on the door. He asked who was there, and no answer came. He said, 'Is that you, Pete?' meaning a neighbor. There was an answer, but I did not catch it. He went to the door and opened it. I heard my brother, whose voice I knew, ask my husband what he wanted him for. I heard them talking, but could, not distinguish what they said. My brother asked to see me. I did not near what they said before that. My brother said, 'Let me see the girl.' My husband said, 'No, you can't see her.' He said then, 'Wait till I get on my clothes.' He came up and put them on, and while he was dressing I begged him to tell me wanted, but he would not tell me. I though he acted very strange. I asked him to let me see my brother, but he said, 'No, you cannot see him,' and said the receipts of the corrections was goild. This is the largest sholling of gold in the history of the correction of the charitable in principle, and will inevitably cause the overthrow of the Government.''

Altogether, altho the Government organs have little but praise for the budget, they fain would admit that if the near future were to bring bye-elections the results might be unfavorable for Government candidates.

The said then, 'Wait till I get on my clothes.' He came up and put them on, and while he was dressing I begged him to tell me what was wrong, or what was wanted, but he would not tell me.
