To Work New Twifles.

Quincy will be here tomorrow night to meet the St. Peter's in a regular league game and, as this contest is an important one if the locals intend to retain their grip on the lead, it is expected that Manager McCormick will start either Twigg or Stafford as King and Hansen are still suffering from sore arms. Manager Ford's team upset the league leaders last evening in the Capital and the locals are determined that they will not repeat the trick here.

Eliminates Shadow Boxing Rounds. Because of the fact that quite a little of his time was taken up by posing for a battery of photographers, Wilde eliminated his usual two rounds of shadow boxing from one afternoon session and had a round each with the pulleys and horizontal bar.

Wilde showed a snappy right cross that carries a wealth of power behind it. He fights with his guard low and is very shifty on his feet and is clever at blocking. He works very fast when he is in close and seems to be tireless. There is no question regarding his condition. He almost is in fighting trim right now and expects to reach the top of his form by the end of the week.

WILDE WORKS HARD FOR VILLA MATCH

Champion Shows Speed and Sparring Partner Quits at End of Third Round.

New York, June 12.—Jimmy Wilde, the world's flyweight champion, last week engaged in his hardest training for his fifteen-round championship bout with Rancho Villa to be held at the Polo Grounds on Monday night, June 18. The little Welshman was feeling in fine fettle, and he cut loose in his work at the People's Palace in Jersey City.

Wilde is in his second week of training since arriving in this country. He did some work on the boat on the way over from England and already has attained excellent physical condition. He has been boxing since Monday a week ago. His greatest difficulty is in securing sparring partners.

He refuses to pull his punches in his training bouts, with the result that he has used up three of his staff thus far. His handlers are hard pressed to find bantamweights and featherweights who are willing to work out with him. Eliminates Shadow Boxing Rounds.

Because of the fact that quite a little of his time was taken up by posing for a battery of photographers, Wilde eliminated his usual two rounds of shadow boxing from one afternoon session and had a round each with the pulleys and horizontal bar. But he more than made up for this when he started boxing.

Taylor landed frequently with the left hook and a right swing to the head, but the blows did not faze Wilde and he retaliated with vicious blows to the body and head that shook Taylor considerably.
