The vast audience which filled St. Andrew's Rink last evening, nearly twice as great in numbers as that which attended the meeting addressed by Mr. Ames and Prof. Leacock, heard the case for reciprocity stated with clearness and force, by men who are under no delusions concerning this important question, and who are able to give sound reasons for their advocacy of the measure now before parliament.

The vast audience which filled St. Andrew are ability and success impressed upon his colleagues and upon parliament the importance of developing this national port. The subject was viewed from every standpoint. The arguments that had been presented by Dr. Daniel, Mr. Ames and presented by Dr. Daniel, Mr. Ames and who is devoted to the welfare of his converse.

For example, Mr. Ames had stated that New Brunswick imported $2.000,000 worth of American products, and he left it to be inferred that this was competition with the New Brunswick farmer, petition with the New Brunswick farmer, peti when as a matter of fact cotton, corn, early fruits and vegetables which do not compete at all, made up the great bulk of the total. Then Dr. Daniel asserted that if the agreement were made it could not be abrogated. Mr. Guthrie pointed out last night that it

Mr. Guthrie pointed out last night that it could be terminated at will by either party. If anyone doubts Mr. Guthrie, here is what President Taft said yesterday in Washing-Earl Grey to the mayor of Ottawa, and turns out that it does produce the injury that you anticipate, it can be repealed by a single congress. It does not last longer than either side desires. I am convinced he gave the citizens of St. John a word that after it has been given one year's trial of counsel last evening. He said: that after it has been given one year's trial neither side will think of reversing it. Dr. Neely, Mr. Guthrie and Dr. Clark took up every phase of the question last night, and made it clear to every thoughtful listener that there is no danger but great advantage to Canada in the proposed agreement. Mr. Guthrie and Dr. Clark made perfectly clear the reason why certain large vested interests in Toronto and Montreal oppose reciprocity. So far as the port of St. John is concerned, the speakers were very emphatic. Not only would its winter trade increase, but there would not be a revival of the coasting trade. It was very gratilying to hear the men from the west declare that when money was needed for the development of facilities at this port there would not be a voice from the week declare that when growth in east and west trade as well as in trade north and south.

Glasgow Street Railway

(Toronto World.)

On the street railway system of Glasgow a distance of a little over half a mile costs one cent while for two cents a passenger can travel about two and a third miles. Some time ago an experiment was made in the way of issuing tickets, enabling passengers to travel two-cent stages for one cent and a half. In order to avoid the necessity of conductors carrying farthings passengers paid three cents for the original ticket, which they retained and could present in payment of a second two-cent stage journey on any part of the system. As the fares are based on the two-cent stage, the experiment was made tem. As the fares are based on the twocent stage, the experiment was made temporarily in order to ascertain what effect it would have on the returns. The manager, James Dalrymple, recently reported that while the isuse of these tickets has considerably reduced the number of penny fares, on the other hand many more passengers, who formerly took only cent tickets, are using the two-cent stage tickets. Not only so, but the concession has had the effect of increasing the number of travelers over short distances. As a net result the revenue will not be rea net result the revenue will not be reduced and the change introduced as an experiment has now been confirmed. The World quotes this as evidence both of the principle that a public service consider the general advantage and of careful bus ness management.
