ARBUCKLE CASE IN COURT TODAY

Men are Excluded from the Hearing.

Six Witnesses Summoned to Testify in Preliminary on a Charge of Murder—Arbuckle Held Cellar Key, Says His Housekeeper.

San Francisco, Sept. 22.—The preliminary hearing of Roscoe Arbuckle, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, before Police Judge Lazarus, occupied the attention of all connected with the case today.

The prosecution will endeavor to prove at the hearing, District Attorney Matthew Brady has announced, that Arbuckle attacked Miss Rappe in his suite of rooms in the Hotel St. Francis, Sept. 5, and caused injuries which resulted in her death four days later.

The witnesses subpoenaed for today's hearing are: Dr. S. Strange, acting autopsy surgeon, who performed the autopsy on the body of Miss Rappe; Dr. Wm. Ophelia, who performed an autopsy in company with Dr. Wm. Rummell, Miss Rappe's physician; Mrs. B. M. Delmont, complainant witness against the comedian and friend of the dead girl; Miss Alice Blake, one of those who attended the Arbuckle party; Miss Prevost, former moving picture actress and one of those who performed an autopsy on Arbuckle's guest; Miss Grace Halston, who attended Miss Rappe up to the time of her death.

The preliminary hearing will be held on a charge of murder, but it is within the discretion of Judge Lazarus to fix the degree of crime under the evidence. Arrangements were made to open the hearing at one p. m.

Only Arbuckle himself had the key to the cellar of his residence in Los Angeles, according to Miss Katherine Fitzgerald, housekeeper for Arbuckle, in testimony given to Ralph Caranillo, assistant district attorney.

Paris in Court Is Confronted With Little Levine Girl

Says He Looks Like the Man But for the Mustache—Prisoner Has Counsel, and There is Tilt—Other Evidence Given Today.

The introduction of evidence seeking to establish the identity of John Paris as the man in the Sadie McAuley murder case, and a lively tilt between the magistrate and G. H. Vernon, of Truro, N. S., counsel for the accused, marked this morning's hearing of the case of John Paris, charged on suspicion of causing the death of Sadie McAuley on or about August 2. Five witnesses were examined and the court adjourned until this afternoon. The court room was crowded to capacity.

The evidence of Dr. H. L. Abramson, who on August 9 performed an autopsy on the body of the murdered child, was taken. The doctor read the result of his findings and he had come to the conclusion that the child had been criminally assaulted and strangled to death.

There was a dramatic moment when little Hattie Levine, who was with Sadie McAuley on the day she met her death, was asked if the prisoner was the man she had seen with Sadie on that day. Paris stood up in the dock and faced the child boldly. She said he looked like the man, was about the same size, but his mustache made him look differently. Robert Elliott, gave evidence of seeing the two little girls come to Douglas avenue on the day of the disappearance of the McAuley girl and of the Levine girl. Mrs. Robert Craft testified that she had seen the accused on August 2 and August 3 and told of Walter Humphrey coming to get her husband's boat to row Paris across the river. Robert Craft said he had let Humphrey have his boat, but did not remember the date. He had not seen Humphrey and Paris together in the boat.

During the taking of Craft's evidence Mr. Vernon of Truro, counsel for Paris, arose several times to take objections to questions asked by the witness by Sergeant-Detective Power, who conducted the prosecution. He was ordered by the magistrate to sit down, but persisted in attempting to speak. He maintained that when a man's life was at stake he had the right to object to improper questions. The magistrate scouted the idea that a man's life was at stake in a preliminary hearing and reminded Mr. Vernon that he had a means of dealing with him if he refused to sit down. Mr. Vernon took his seat, remarking that he would object every time an improper question was asked. Soon after, the examination of this witness was concluded.

Mr. Vernon waived cross-examination of Dr. Abramson. To the magistrate he said there was evidence of rape. Hattie Levine, 30 Clarence street, said: "On the second of August I went down the avenue with my daddy's dinner. Sadie McAuley went with me. I gave papa his dinner and then we were going to get the hill we met two girls coming up and we walked along with them. We met a man and he started to pick some foot on it and Sadie went through. I called to her two or three times. I heard her say 'what', and then I saw I was going home and I never heard of her again. I came up the hill. I met a man named Bob and told him Sadie had stayed to pick berries. I asked him where was papa and he said papa was gone to the station."

"I then sat down to eat some cake papa had left in his can, and went down again to see if she was coming, but she wasn't. I came home and told mama. She sent me right back and her and her sister went all over through them bushes but we didn't see her. We came home and Sadie McAuley's sister and her brother went down."

"Looks Like Hun." Sergeant Power asked the accused to stand up. "He is the same size as the man I saw that day," said the girl, "and he looks like him, but his mustache makes him look a little different. On that day," she said, "the man had khaki pants, a brown coat and a gray cap. He did not have puttees on."

To Mr. Vernon she said: "I don't remember being brought to this man to recognize him as the man I saw that day. I saw a man down where we went to get berries. This man looks like him, and is about the same size as him. His mustache makes him look a little different. He was brought in to see different people who were arrested but I don't remember about this man. I don't know if I was with him or not. I was with the United States man half an hour or an hour. I was close to him a lot of the time. I was talking to Sadie. Sadie was a stranger from here. I did not hear any girl crying out for help. Sadie was nine years old. I am eleven. She was shown from the maritime provinces some of the men and I think I was shown one of this man. It didn't look like this man on his pictures. He had a mustache in the pictures."

To Sergeant-Detective Power she said the man she saw down where the hill did not have a mustache. To the magistrate she said: "The man that came up the hill gave me an hour and a half. I had seen Paris in the morning of August 2. I don't remember seeing him on August 4. The day was fixed in my mind because August 2 was the night of the fire. The different clothes he was wearing were fixed in my mind because he was all dressed up that day. On August 2 he had on a light shirt and soft hat and long khaki pants, in the evening. "On Tuesday, August 2, I saw him only once or twice. He did not seem to be excited about anything. My son lives in Milltown, N. B., and I thought I would rather for him to be married and where he is than home in such company. I was lonely. I don't know about Humphrey taking Paris over before. Humphrey often got the boat. I have talked this over with my husband and the detectives about the dates, have never had trouble in court. Humphrey boarded at Mrs. Walter Cook's. On the morning of August 2, Paris was just coming up the yard into his own door." F. C. Craft.

Frank C. Craft said "Humphrey borrowed my boat sometime in August. It was in the middle I think, but I don't know. I remember the night of the Woodman fire. It was in August. Humphrey went from my slip. My wife was present when he asked for the boat. I went away fishing." To Mr. Vernon he said "I didn't see the boat go. I did not see Paris then at all. I know this was sometime in August. I remember my son's birthday but I wouldn't say this took place on my son's birthday. I had not seen him the day before. I have talked this over with my wife."

As Hiram Sees It

"Look-a- here," said Mr. Hiram Hornbean to the Times reporter, "I want you to put in the paper for me that I got a man-eatin' dog on a license to keep a shotgun."

"My word!" said the reporter. "Does Mrs. Hornbean approve?" "She don't know about the license," said Hiram, "an' she aint seen the dog in action. But if any o' them orchard thieves comes out to the Settlement there won't be no action for trespass. We don't mind a lawsuit now an' agin when we got nothin' else to do, but when it comes to goin' out with an ottonobol an' robbin' a hull orchard we want somethin' more excitin'—yes, sir. An' we'll hev it—too. I aint no gunnan, but I callate me an' the dog kin make an impression. I got that old musket loaded up with course salt—an' I got a few slugs if I need 'em. You might jist say that I been hev'in' some target practice lately an' the dog aint heeled a spell. It may be great fun to rob a bushman, but that ain't a patch to the good time me an' the dog is aimin' to hev—By Hea!"

ONLY ONE POINT BETWEEN TEAMS

Yankees and Cleveland in a Sensational Struggle.

Giants Now Four Games to Good Over Pittsburgh—Reg. Hart Halifax Harbor Rowing Champion—The Fredericton Races—Late Sport News.

New York, Sept. 22.—The New York Americans, still holding first place in the thrilling struggle for supremacy in the American League, today found the Cleveland club close to them, a single point separating the two teams.

The Yankees, idle yesterday because rain damped the Polo Grounds, were obliged to confine their activities to reading the score from Boston, where the Indians turned the tables on the Red Sox and defeated them. Today originally was an open date for the New York team but, weather permitting, they were to play Detroit a game postponed from yesterday. Cleveland was to conclude its series in Boston.

The results in the National League were favorable to the Giants, whose lead over Pittsburgh today amounted to four full games. The Giants defeated Chicago in an old fashioned slugfest match, and Brooklyn, with Clarence Mitchell, a lefthander, in the box, won from the Pirates, two to nothing, in seven innings.

By twice defeating the Chicago White Sox, Washington went into fourth place in the American League. After seven straight victories the St. Louis Cardinals were stopped by the Boston Braves, who won in the ninth.

Right hitters were the only home run hitters yesterday, Nicholson of the Braves sitting his fifth of the season, and Goslyn of Washington making his first.

Second Baseman Harris of Washington handled seventeen fielding chances without error in the double-header with Chicago. In the first game he made six put outs and four assists and in the second four put outs and three assists. Hart Champion.

Halifax, Sept. 22.—Reg. Hart of the Northwest Arm Rowing Club won the single shell harbor championship yesterday, noting out Alfred Scallan of St. Mary's Club, by a quarter length. The time was 10:19.2.

Hart rowed Hilton Belyea at the Renforth regatta but was not a match for the St. John man.

Holmes, rector of the parish, assisted by the Rev. Bernard Waddington, rector of Hammond River. After the ceremony, a dainty supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Milne will reside at 9 Gooderich street.
