POLITICS

The present fight in Toronto is a political one for the workingman. We find him called upon to vote without having a single representative in the field representing his ideas in their broadest sense.

He is the underdog and the underdog party, the party of which is something favorably, but mostly unfavorably.

Toronto had four representatives in the last House, one of whom returns in the next most defeat for in this constituency there are only two candidates which are considered safe.

But look for a moment at his background, factory man, and a few years ago the volume of business must be enormously increased.

In West Toronto the workingmen are in the unfortunate position of having to vote for a supporter of the Grand Trunk Pacific

What good would he be likely to do for them if he should be returned to Parliament and his party be returned to Parliament and his party be returned to Parliament?

So much for our enemies. Now as to our whole policy in the House has always been favorable to the cause of labor. We desire to say that E. F. Clarke has upon every occasion within our knowledge, in the House, put up a fair fight for our cause.

So much for our enemies. Now as to our whole policy in the House has always been favorable to the cause of labor.

"FREE" OPEN SHOP COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Is Neither Free Nor Open, and Members of Unions are Always Discriminated Against.

Effort of Corporations to Oppress Labor is Only Hastening Their Own Doom

Following is an exposition of the "free" open shop collective bargaining system, which is neither free nor open, and members of unions are always discriminated against.

Another card, evidently designed for the use of the agency, required the call of the applicant's eyes and hair, his weight, height, complexion and other interesting information.

In order to test the truth of this assertion, he left the employment bureau, that of the National Metal Trades Association, and made an attempt to secure a position in several shops which were said to be controlled by this organization.

One employer, who evidently desired his services, volunteered the information that he would like to hire, but was forced to abide by the laws of the association.

And this is the open shop system. This is the institution guaranteed to "free" the American workman from the domination of unions.

North Toronto HON. GEO. E. FOSTER

Will address the electors as follows: Broadway Hall, 450 Spadina Av. Friday, Oct. 28

McBean's Hall, cor. College St. and Brunswick Av. Saturday, Oct. 29.

Major Urquhart is invited to attend these meetings and explain his opposition to the G. T. P. being owned and operated as a Government road.

To the Electors of South Toronto:

Your votes and influence are solicited for the election of Claude Macdonell, the Liberal-Conservative Candidate for the House of Commons.

Mr. Macdonell is a supporter of Public Ownership and is in accord with the extension of the Intercolonial Railway, rather than the construction of a competing line therewith, as well as in favor of adequate protection for our Canadian industries.

Election on 3rd November, 1904
