CHATHAM, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1877.

(From Providence Journal, Nov. 21.)

A short time since Dr. Snow, the Super intendent of Health, received information from the Rev. Father Hughes, of St. Patrick's Church, of the existence of a genuine case of Eastern leprosy in this city, and took measures to relieve the community from the danger of its presence here. The victim of the disease was a girl of French extraction, 19 years of age, and who came here from a French village called Tracadie, in the northern part of New Brunswick. The girl has lived in the city two or three years, living as a servant in several dfferent families, during which time the disease has rapidly developed, until it has reached a very advanced stage. Her family are well known as subjects of the disease in $2,625,977, showing a balance of trade the place from which she came, and the largely against the Province, and which clergyman of the village, Father Babineau, kindly furnished information concerning her to Father Hughes, and advised that thus making our apparently prosperous she be sent back as soon as possible. Arshe be sent back as soon as possible. Arrangements were accordingly made, with the assistance of Father Hughes, to send the latest accordingly made, with the habit of Father Hughes, to send the latest accordingly made, with the latest according AS Barrels and half Barrels of good FALL her back. She was provided with warm clothing, and under the charge of a careful officer was sent to her home last week and delivered to the authorities there. The officer has returned, and has brought the following letter, which explains the case, and shows the danger that existed from her presence in the city: TRACADIE, Nov. 9. 1877. Rev. C. Hughes, St. Patrick's Church, Providence:

REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:—I received REVEREND AND DEAR SIR:—I received in due time your favor of the 20th ult., to which I intended to reply to-day. The officer, Mr. R., arrived here this morning with Miss Caroline Brideau, who I have introduced into the hospital. She is certainly one of our most advanced cases in the hospital now. She persists in saying that she will not remain, but will go again. We will endeavor to keep her here by force if no other way will do. Mr. R's mission is, therefore, fulfilled and well done. I hope he will arrive home safe. It was well to send this girl home, as she could not stay anywhere without exposing much those with whom she lived, unless certain precautions were taken. I have the honor to be yours, most respectfully, certain precautions were taken. I have the honor to be yours, most respectfully,
