Cameron Discharged on Bail—True Bill in Nelson Case.

At the circuit court this morning the case of the King v. William Cameron was again taken up. Attorney General Fuglestad stated that he had consulted with Mr. McKewen, and with the approval of his honor, moved that the prisoner be admitted to bail. Cameron was then discharged on entering in his recognizance for $250, with Charles Irons as surety for a similar amount, to appear at the next session of the circuit court for trial. Cameron then walked out of the court.

The case of the King v. Harry Nelson was then taken up. Judge McLeod in addressing the grand jury briefly ran over the case. He stated there were two charges, one for obtaining from Capt. Brannan a money letter for Dr. J. Purdy, and the other for obtaining a money letter from Capt. Brannan for P. Nae & Son. There are two counts in each indictment, one for receiving money under false pretences and the other for theft.

The grand jury were out about an hour and a half and brought in a true bill on both counts. The grand jury were then allowed to go until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, when the Nixon case will come up.

DOG SHOT IN THE PARK.

A dog was shot in the park on Sunday evening under somewhat peculiar circumstances. A gentleman from the park, who was accompanied by his wife and family, and a pet cocker spaniel, clipped in imitation of a lion. When near the coffee house the head of the family alighted to pick some lilacs, contrary to the rules of the park, and at the same time the spaniel in violation of the same rules gave chase to a rabbit.

This drew the attention of Keeper Henry, who immediately appeared on the scene armed with a double-barrelled shot-gun. Being unable to get a chance at the dog he chased it, and the animal fled for refuge under its owner's carriage, where the keeper found it. On the approach of the keeper the gentleman, fearing that he would get into trouble on account of the lilacs, failed to notice the dog, and in spite of the sorrow felt but not shown by the family it was killed at once.

TONIGHT'S EXCURSION.

If the night is fine, the policemen's moonlight excursion on the river this evening will be a delightful affair. It goes without saying that everything will be conducted in a first class manner, and that the comfort of all will be looked after. The City Cornet band will attend. POLICE COURT.

Nixon Committed for Trial—That Fire Alarm—Two Drunks.

Frank Cassidy came to this city on a steamer two days ago. He had never been here before, and consequently there may be some truth in the statement he made in court this morning, that "this was the first time I'd ever been drunk in Saint John." Cassidy is the man who was holding himself up along with Peter Foley on Main street yesterday when the latter fell and had his head injured. The prisoner, after the first sharp pang of grief at his friend's misfortune had worn off, by good luck managed to avoid the police until evening, when he was taken in charge by Officers White and Lee on the Government wharf. He was fined four dollars or ten days, and appeared very much put out to think he had to take the day.

George McQuillan had also overdone the thing yesterday and this morning was sentenced to a fine of eight dollars or thirty days.

Dennis McGowan, a cab driver, was reported by the I. C. R. police for violating the rules by going beyond the limit provided at the depot. Officer Stevens explained that since that fall, owing to the bad condition of the platform, the hackmen were allowed to come nearer the entrance than usual, but the place has recently been repaired and the drivers notified that they must not come beyond the notice. McGowan failed to obey the notice and was fined two dollars.

In the case against William Britney, Daniel Mullin appeared for the defendant, and stated that Britney had pulled the alarm because his mother, who is a cripple, was in bed and the water in the room was rising rapidly. He understood that in cases where life was in danger it was permissible to pull in an alarm and he considered that in his case the circumstances would warrant his act. Chief Kerr explained that he did not wish Britney to be severely punished for what had occurred, but thought that three fine engines, one hook and ladder truck, one salvage corps wagon, three hose carts and a crowd of men were a little too much to prevent a bed from being washed away. The firemen did not enjoy the run very much, nor did the slight shower in progress at the time add greatly to their pleasure. He wanted a stop put to the habit of ringing in an alarm for every little accident. He stated that Britney was fined forty dollars, the punishment being allowed to stand against him.

The Nixon case was again taken up at eleven o'clock. John Ross appeared on the stand and gave evidence to practically the same effect as on the previous occasion. On the charge of adultery Nixon was formally committed for trial, and the charge against him was committed to the grand jury to leave Canada for the purpose of entering a brothel in the United States is being continued this afternoon.

THE GYPSY'S WARNING.

The four queens of palmists are still creating a furor at the store 207 Union street. A widely known young lady called on the palmists the past week to have the curtains of the future revealed. The eyes of the dark pigment Bohemian appeared as she unravelled for her young client actual facts which none but herself knew about; she gave her timely warning, and the young lady was so grateful that she reached over the table and tenderly kissed the palmist for what she had told her. They do marvellous things every day in the line of fortune telling. At the request of many who were unable to gain a hearing during the past three weeks the manager has decided to remain one more week, closing the engagement Tuesday, July 2nd.

CURRAN AND O'NEILL.

What Halifax Thinks of Two Former St. John Ball Players.

(Halifax Recorder.)
The Standards tried a new pitcher on Saturday, in Curran, formerly of St. John, who carried them to victory and gave them a lead in the series. When they secured him early in the season he was to play in the infield, although they knew he could pitch a little; he had been a change pitcher for the St. John Roses, but it was not expected he would be required to go in the box except in an emergency, they decided to test his abilities on Saturday, and he not only proved a winner, but held his opponents down to a half dozen hits. He pitched principally a straight ball, with a varying curve, and not only fooled the local batters but some of the imported men. Curran is a very quiet, easy going player, having no need to say, just the style of man to suit a Halifax audience, and the many friends he has made were quite pleased with his success.

The crowd had a great laugh at Gallagher's expense, and Tip O'Neill had the pleasure of being cheered again and again. It was after Gallagher had made his drive for two bases in the seventh; as the ball was thrown in from centre, O'Neill stopped it with one hand, and the leather dropped some seven or eight feet from second base; Gallagher was not contented with remaining on the base, but in a tantalizing mood patterned towards the ball; O'Neill quickly moved towards the base, which was lying on the ground, and quickly grabbed the sphere; as he did, Gallagher darted back for the base, but O'Neill made a jump as though taking the ball in his right hand, and before Gallagher had touched the base O'Neill had tagged him. The crowd simply stood up and yelled with the surprising turn of affairs, and O'Neill was cheered to the echo for his cleverness. Gallagher was mad, and made all sorts of protests, which only brought on him geyling from the gathering, who recognized that he had no right to leave his base in such a manner.

The funeral of the late Terence E. Collins took place this morning at eight o'clock from his late residence at Fairville. The body was taken to St. Rose church, where high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Charles Collins. The relatives of the deceased acted as pall bearers and interment was made in Sand Cove burying ground.
