He was dressed in blue overalls, a white shirt, and wore no coat or vest. He wore a bicycle cap and a pair of rough shoes. He had one rifle and two revolvers. SPOKANE, Wn, Aug. 7.—When the sheriff with the body of Tracy drove through Davenport hundreds of per-sons crowded about the wagon. By the time the wagon reached Stone's morgue the streets were crowded and from every corner could be heard "Three shouts for Lincoin County." The town was wild. The morgue doors had to be closed and the crowd was asked to stand back. Several persons were al-towed to see the body and then trouble began. Every one wanted a reke, and in a short time nothing was left but the body. Some one even picked up the blood-stained handkerchief which had been used by Tracy to keep from bleeding to death. Many locks of the desparado's hair were carried away, and in some places his head had been made bald. His trousers were cut in-to stups, and before they were divided they were cut into smaller pieces: redays at 12.00 noon: eight received up to 5.00 p. m. N. G. LEF, Acent, St. John, N. B. N. G. a life of crime. His deeds have been bold and daring, and partly on that ac-count he often eluded capture and ter-rorized entire neighborhoods. In many respects he equalled and even sur-passed Jesse James and other noted bandits, whose lives have been hand-ed down, published in books, with fnaming colors and in lurid language for the edification and instruction of the youth of the land. There is, of course, a certain picturesqueness in the life history of these scoundrels, yet a life of crime. His deeds have been

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of Charles Hersey, Metcalf street, when his sec-ond daughter, Miss Queena, was unlt-ed in marriage by Harry Paul Trifts, electrician of Mill street. The cere-mony was performed in the presence of a number of nvitted gueens by Rev. R. P. McKim, rector of St. Luke's church, of which the bride was a very popular member. Gertrude Hersey attended the bride, while Wm. Trifts, the groom's brother, acted as best man. A sumptuous supper was served after the ceremony. The popularity of the young couple was evinced by the large number of presents received. Mr. and Mrs. Trifts will reside on Metcalf street.

of his fields. While engaging him in conversation they saw a man issuing from the barn door. "Is that Tracy?" asked one of the party. "It surely is," replied Eddy. The party separated, Lanter and Smith accompanying Eddy in the di-rection of the barn, while the other two men swung around to the other side. Two of the hunters stepped behind the barn on a slight eminence, from which they could watch everything that went on, and Eddy continued on up to the door. Tracy came from the barn and began helping his host unhitch the horses. He carried no rifle, although he had his revolvers in place. The fugitive finally saw the men carrying rifles and turned charping to Eddy and said: "Who are those men?" brous law breakers. Just what effect his death will have upon the party of which he was the recognized head is uncertain, but he has shown that with fearless officers much can be done.
