

PARLIAMENT.

London Times Voices British Sentiment on Yukon Scandals.

Even Laurier Dared Not Defend the Acts of Preston and His Other Healers.

The Senate and the Railway Steals—Sir Charles Tupper Denounces the Redistribution Bill as Unconstitutional.

OTTAWA, July 4.—Hon. Mr. Fielding announced that progress had been made in preparing the supplementary estimate for the current year, and he hoped it would be ready this week.

Mr. Foster repeated the statement of a government organ, that this estimate would ask for seven millions. He said it seemed to him rather late in the session for such a measure.

Mr. Fielding did not admit or deny the amount. Mr. Fielding then explained that the new financial year had begun, and that the public service might be embarrassed if some part of the estimate were not voted at once.

Mr. Foster repeated the statement of a government organ, that this estimate would ask for seven millions. He said it seemed to him rather late in the session for such a measure.

The redistribution bill was then taken up. Gladstone resumed the debate, and paid a good deal of attention to Mr. Patterson, minister of customs.

The discussion was continued by Mr. Maclean on the government side, and Mr. Clancy was speaking at recess.

The redistribution debate was continued in the evening by Clancy and Bell of P. E. Island.

Robt. Robinson, independent conservative, and Heyd, liberal, were the other speakers, and Mr. McNeill moved an adjournment of the debate.

The house adjourned at 12.30 a. m.

THE SENATE. Senator Wood took the floor shortly before adjournment to discuss the Grand Trunk bill.

In the public accounts committee this morning Mr. Powell said he had reason to believe that money voted for fishery bounties had been improperly paid to people who were not fishermen.

NOTES. In the public accounts committee this morning Mr. Powell said he had reason to believe that money voted for fishery bounties had been improperly paid to people who were not fishermen.

OTTAWA, July 6.—After routine Mr. Gordon of Halifax proposed his motion calling for inquiry into the conduct of the returning officers and deputy returning officers in the West Huron and Brockville by-elections.

Mr. Gordon proposed his motion calling for inquiry into the conduct of the returning officers and deputy returning officers in the West Huron and Brockville by-elections.

Mr. Gordon proposed his motion calling for inquiry into the conduct of the returning officers and deputy returning officers in the West Huron and Brockville by-elections.

Mr. Gordon proposed his motion calling for inquiry into the conduct of the returning officers and deputy returning officers in the West Huron and Brockville by-elections.

years, and due provision will be made for the future, and that a searching inquiry is here.

OTTAWA, July 6.—On orders of the day, Mr. Davin read the London Times article condemning the course of the government in refusing a judicial inquiry into the Yukon scandals.

WHAT THE LONDON TIMES SAID. LONDON, July 4.—The Times, after acknowledging Sir Wilfrid Laurier's services in the past, proceeds: "We have much hesitation in expressing regret at the rather serious mistake which the Canadian government seems to have committed within the last few days."

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Davin said he was now convinced that he was right in bringing the matter up. The Premier had quibbled just as Mr. Sifton had done.

Mr. Haggart and Dr. Sproule had left the house before the vote was taken. This enabled both members to explain that they had not expected a vote so early.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

Mr. Sifton said he saw no reason for the government changing its policy in regard to an investigation because of the opinions expressed by an English newspaper.

BRITAIN SCORES.

Her Demands Regarding the Transvaal Will be Accepted.

Meeting of the Volksraad at Pretoria in Secret Session, With President Kruger in its Midst.

Pending What May Happen, the War Office is Energetically Strengthening the Forces at the Cape.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, July 6.—The Volksraad met in secret session today. President Kruger and the negotiators from the Orange Free State being present. It is understood that an agreement was reached to grant the franchise immediately to all settlers prior to 1880, and to other classes of residents within seven years.

Although Sir Alfred Milner, on behalf of Great Britain, demanded at the Bloemfontein conference that residence of five years should be a qualification for the franchise, it is believed that the terms said to have been agreed upon today in the Volksraad might be acceptable to the Outlanders.

LONDON, July 7.—The Times announces that several officers, including Brevet Col. Robert Stephenson Smith, Baden-Powell, commanding the 5th Dragoon Guards, Captain Lord Edward Cecil (fifth son of the Marquis of Salisbury), of the Grenadiers, and Lieut. the Hon. Algernon Henry Charles Hanbury-Tracy (second son of Baron Sudeley), of the Royal Horse Guards, have been ordered to proceed to South Africa to organize the residents, as well as the police and local forces, at various points on the frontier.

Additional special service officers, says the Times, are likely to be sent out during the next few days, and the commander-in-chief has been engaged in completing the organization of a larger force, which it will be necessary to despatch should the negotiations with the Transvaal fail.

FREDERICTON.

Child Poisoned by Drinking Embalming Fluid—Gover Once More a Free Man.

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 6.—Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

Walter Boyne, the two year old son of the late James Boyne of St. Mary's, accidentally poisoned himself last night. After the funeral of Mr. Boyne, which took place yesterday afternoon, a bottle containing embalming fluid, a poisonous mixture used by the undertaker, was left in one of the rooms.

CHAMBERLAIN EXPLAINS.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies Defines His Position as to the Niger Company.

LONDON, July 6.—Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, made a personal statement in the house of commons today with reference to the comment which has been aroused by the fact that, though a shareholder in the Niger Company, he had voted in favor of the transfer of that corporation's territory to the British government.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

Mr. Chamberlain said, in effect, that his interest in the Niger Company was under £3,000, and that when the question of divestiture of the company's charter arose he asked the Marquis of Salisbury and his colleagues in the government to relieve him of any participation in the negotiations.

CARAQUET.

PARADE. Caraquet, N. B., July 6.—Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

Louis Parise, aged 70 years, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor yesterday morning. The man had been in bad health for about three months.

TURNED DOWN.

HALIFAX, July 6.—The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

The teachers of the Halifax County Academy asked the school board tonight to give them nine weeks' summer vacation instead of eight. The board refused, on the ground that it would be an unnecessarily long period of idleness.

NEWFOUNDLAND PROSPERING.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 6.—Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.

Mr. Morine, the minister of finance, will tomorrow present the budget to the colonial legislature. The revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the largest in the history of the colony, except in 1883, when the increase was due to imports designed to replace the property destroyed in the '91 John's fire.