

NEW EVIDENCE IN CASE OF DR. DUDLEY

Efforts Still Being Made to Have Man Responsible for Houlton Girl's Death Pardoned.

It is stated that new evidence of a highly important character has been discovered in the case of Dr. Lionel E. Dudley, the Presque Isle physician who in November, 1914, was sent to the state prison for fifteen years for having caused the death by a criminal operation, of Mildred Sullivan, a sixteen-year-old Houlton school girl. The nature of this evidence cannot be revealed at this time, but it will have, it is said, an important bearing on a phase of the case which probably had most to do with his conviction.

In the event of a conditional pardon, Dr. Dudley will immediately leave the state, beginning a new career in Southwestern Alaska, where the government is soon to develop new railroad interests, and where there will be a busy field for surgery.

That he will incidentally turn a new leaf is the sincere belief of all who have had an opportunity of studying his personality since his incarceration. When officials refer to him as a model prisoner they have in mind not only his excellent behavior but his valued services in connection with the hospital work.

Since he has performed all sorts of operations, ranging from minor surgery to abdominal operations, and does daily from 15 to 20 surgical dressings. A boy in the broom shop had a finger torn off at the first joint. Dr. Dudley gave first aid pending the arrival of the prison physician. Another convict while playing baseball had the misfortune to crack one of his knee caps. Dr. Dudley applied the splints, gave the case his personal attention and today the convict walks without the use of a crutch.

His correct diagnosis and a difficult operation are conceded to have been the means of saving the life of a tubercular convict.

The prison officials cite many such cases and tell with apparent pleasure how the doctor has continued his medical studies, through the aid of the books which he brought to the prison, medical magazines to which he subscribes, and others which are sent to him by loyal friends in the medical profession.

With the second anniversary of his imprisonment close at hand Dr. Dudley finds himself upon the verge of becoming a nervous wreck. Always a fine specimen of physical manhood, Dr. Dudley has been careful to continue his athletic exercise in prison so far as the rules permitted it. He has not known a sick moment, and he has had every privilege that it is possible to accord a convict, yet 20 pounds of flesh have dropped from his athletic frame, and prison life has made even sadder inroads upon his nerves.

"I have taken the very best care of myself," said Dr. Dudley today, "but I feel that imprisonment has taken ten years of my best health. I hope for a full pardon, but if there are conditions attached to it, I shall meet them faithfully. When I was committed I said that I would take my medicine, and nobody can accuse me of not having done so."

If the pardon is conditional upon his leaving the state or county the chief pang which it will cost Dr. Dudley is through separation from his father, now 70 years of age, and his two daughters, aged 5 and 7.

Dr. Dudley's attorney in the pardon proceedings is F. W. Clair of Waterville.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Brush Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound through your hair, taking one strand at a time,

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GIANT INDIAN TOTEM POLE FOR JASPER PARK-ALBERTA

Through the efforts of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway there has been preserved for Canada one of the most magnificent specimens of the Totem Pole in existence. This was obtained on the North Pacific Coast, the scenic territory served by the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamships, and has now been erected at Jasper Park Station in the centre of the Dominion's largest National Playground in the Rockies. This Totem Pole was for generations the pride of the important tribe of Alaskan Indians known as "Canada Clan." The Totem presents the Raven as symbolic of the powerful and mystical beings who watched over the tribe. It is indeed an heraldic shield; which carries the Indian's mind back to the dim past, and to the very foundation of the tribes.

This Jasper Park Totem is read from the top to the bottom; and it tells a story of how the first Indian Chief obtained the help of the spirit power of the Raven. It is estimated that this Totem took the tribe some three years to carve; it being fashioned out of a large cedar tree. In accordance with Indian custom; when the Pole was finished a great Pow Wow and Potlatch, with extensive feasting, rewarded the workers. The head and beak of the Raven at the top of the Pole can easily be recognised. Immediately beneath, protected by the wings of the bird, is the figure of a man, which indicates that the Raven with the power of a God could change itself into human form and move among men, controlling the destinies of the tribe through supernatural insight and intelligence. The Raven, according to the tradition of the Indians; taught man how to live, and how to make war; also demonstrating to him the various primitive arts, and the season of the Potlatch. One of the stories of Indian Mythology tells of the overwhelming flood which submerged the good land and spread death and destruction all around. At the time of the flood, the Raven is credited with flying above the clouds, with his mother in his arms, and by sticking his bill into the sky remained there until the flood subsided. This is given as a reason why the Raven's beak is bent or crooked.

In addition to being one of the very best Totems carved by the Indians this Jasper Park Totem is one of great age. The carving of the Totem Poles became a lost art many years ago, although Indians still manufacture miniature Totems for sale to curious hunters. With Christian Missions active among the Indians, Totemism is becoming extinct, and the poles that are left standing in some of the native villages are sinking into decay. Care has been taken to guard this fine specimen from damage through climatic action, and it will be undoubtedly a source of interest to the thousands of passengers using the Grand Trunk's Transcontinental Line in the future.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.) New York, Nov. 8.—Germany will pay for steamer Lango sunk by submarine on October 28, if it is shown that the vessel was legally sailing under American flag.

New Haven has been obliged to declare a freight embargo.

New York legislature safely Republican.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be a little while until the roars begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

BRUSILOFF MAY BE GEN. MACDONALD

Strange Story Regarding Sir
Hector of Boer War Fame
Supposed to have Committed Suicide in Paris.

According to the story told by a Mrs. Taylor, of New York, a relative of hers, Sir Hector Macdonald, who is generally supposed to have committed suicide in Paris after the Boer war, is now figuring before the world in the person of General Brusiloff, the famous Russian commander. If this lady is to be credited Sir Hector is still alive and the fact is well known to cousins of his living in London, New York, Canada and Australia, the reports set afoot at the time of his alleged suicide in Paris and burial at Edinburgh were all make-believe, and that General Brusiloff, whose previous history is dark and upon the extraordinary circumstances connected with whose sudden rise to supreme Russian command there is a good deal of comment, is no other than Sir Hector in the flesh.

Under Charges in Ceylon.

It will be recalled that in 1903, Sir Hector, who was then a brigadier-general of the British Army and had greatly distinguished himself in South Africa, was charged with immoral conduct in Ceylon. He pleaded his entire innocence, but was ordered back to Ceylon to face his court-martial. He started on the journey, but no farther than Paris, where he was reported to have shot himself.

On the contrary, it is now claimed that all the story of his suicide and burial was pure fiction and that, instead of going to Ceylon, he went to Japan, and, during the Russo-Japanese war, was recognized as the daring leader of the Japanese at Port Arthur.

At all events, according to the report circulated, all Sir Hector's relatives are now certain that, under a new name, he is the man who is today known as General Brusiloff in the Russian service. Moreover, it is said that the photographs of Brusiloff and Sir Hector show a strong resemblance and that they are both small, stockily built men.

Truth is often stranger than fiction.

Germany Gets None of Belgian Relief

Conditions of Agreement with Neutral
Relief Commission respected by Germany

When the Belgian Relief Commission was organized, Britain insisted that Germany guarantee not to touch a particle of the food imported by the Commission for the Belgians. This guarantee, given to the American business men who are the executive heads of the Commission, has been respected—probably because its violation would be reported at once and would result in the whole neutral world.

So each contributor to the Belgian Relief Fund may feel perfectly sure that every pound of food which his money has helped to purchase, has gone directly to the Belgians.

No Dollars in the world are needed more—will be handled better—will do more vital good—than the dollars which it is your privilege to give to the Belgian Relief Fund.
