

I have been asked to write a word of approbation of this tractate, by way of "imprimatur." It is carefully written and temperately argued, and if the author here does service by his pen to as many as he has served elsewhere by his word of mouth it will be of great value. Many may be helped, some misund~~er~~standing may be removed, and some may be strengthened in their views.

I hope that a blessing may attend its publication.
