

Was So Bad With Heart and Nerves Could Not Sleep At Night.

Many men and women toss night after night upon a sleepless bed. Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the heart and nervous system that they cannot enjoy the refreshing sleep which comes to those whose heart and nerves are right.

Mrs. John Gray, Lime Lake, Ont., writes:—"Last summer I was so bad with my heart and nerves that I couldn't sleep at night. There was such a pain and heavy feeling in my chest that I could not stoop, and at times I would become dizzy and have to grasp something to keep from falling. I tried different things but never got anything to do me any good until I tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I can now recommend them to all troubled as I was."

Milburn's Heart & Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct by "The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

CURING PORK.

Give a recipe for pickling and curing pork, and how to arrange same.

J. R.

Ans.—Several methods of curing pork are recommended. Choice can be made of two that are given here: (1) Take 9 lbs. salt, 3 lbs. sugar, 1 pint molasses, 3 ounces saltpetre, 1 ounce soda, 5 to 6 gallons water. Heat slowly till salt is dissolved. Boil and skim, and cover meat in five or six weeks. Then smoke every day for a week. (2) To salt pork dry, take a mixture of 4 lbs. good fine salt, 1½ lbs. brown sugar, and 2 ounces saltpetre for every 100 lbs. of meat. Apply three times for hams and shoulders, and twice for bacon, rubbing in well, at intervals of about a week.

See article on "Curing and Keeping Pork," in April 27th issue.

SEEDING DOWN SWAMPY LAND.

Kindly advise how to get a piece of swampy land seeded down with grass seed so as to get a good catch. What kind of grain should it be sown with in spring or fall? I have tried it often, but never succeeded. Would it be best to summer-fallow it? The land is well drained, but the water stands on it in spring for a few days, then it dries off.

F. S.

Ans.—It seems strange that it should be so difficult to get a catch of grass seed on this drained swamp land. We should try again, sowing it with thin seeding of barley, and as early as the ground is fit to work. Would cover the seed somewhat more deeply than is necessary on ordinary soil. Would also advise sowing about 200 or 300 lbs. of salt per acre, after the grain is up. It would likely help the grain crop, and, possibly, might be of some benefit to the young grass by tending to keep the surface soil somewhat moist.

COAL ASHES FOR FLOOR—AFTERBIRTH RETAINED.

1. I have hogpen 24x46 feet, in which I have a gangway about ten feet wide along the side, and partitioned off. This gangway is right along behind my cows, where the water comes from a tank. I will have pipe leading right in for the hogs, and the ten-foot gangway will be for calves, and for sows farrowing. I will have two half-gates, so as to make a box stall at any time when needed. Now, I was thinking of putting coal ashes, mixed with salt, for a bottom to be watered and tramped down solid. Do you think that will be a good plan or not? I thought it would save cement. Please tell me how thick you would put the ashes.

2. I have two cows that freshened, and the afterbirth had to be taken away. Could you tell me what caused the difficulty, and what the remedy is?

A DUNDAS FARMER.

Ans.—1. The plan you suggest of using coal ashes for bottom of box stalls would make, we believe, a firm floor. The question with us would be whether it would be water-tight, and save the liquid manure. We are not in possession of facts regarding that, and, on the whole, would advise going to the expense of using cement. If ashes are put in, would have a depth of six inches.

2. Retention of afterbirth occurs under varying conditions. Veterinarians say there is no known remedy, but many dairymen have faith in the feeding of flax seed or even oil cake for a few days before calving. Several letters on the troubles incident to calving time, written by practical men, have lately appeared in "The Farmer's Advocate." They are worthy of careful reading.

Wm. Smith, Columbus, Ont., writes: "I have sold all my bulls, with the exception of one Wedding Gift calf, ten months old. This calf is red, and is one of the good kind we like to see. I have had Royal Clare =66772= at the head of my herd for over three years, and, as I have purchased another to take his place, and a great number of his heifers are ready to breed, I have no further use for him, but it is a shame to sell him for beef as he is one of the best sires I ever had and is sure. Also have a number of fine growthy heifers, all ages, that I will sell worth the money."

No More Sore Shoulders

Ventiplex is as soft and comfortable to the horses' shoulders as the best ordinary collar pad made—but it is a great deal more besides. It is the only pad that absolutely prevents galls and sore shoulders. Every other collar pad made is close and non-absorbent, so that sweat forms and accumulates under the collar, scalding the flesh and causing sore necks and shoulders. Ventiplex, the new collar pad, is made of a new, patented fabric which absorbs the sweat and moisture and carries it to the outer surface, where it evaporates.

Thus the horse's neck and shoulders are always kept dry, comfortable, and free from galls and sores.

See the Ventiplex Collar Pad at your dealer's. If he cannot supply you, write us. Booklet free.
