THE SITUATION

German counter attacks do not score as they once did. The intensity of them has not been lessened in any sense but the Allies, who were outmatched in many departments during the earlier stages of hostilities have become much strongger in men and material alike. For many hours the Huns sought to wrest from the British the ground recently take by them on the western front but without avail. General Haig in his official report states that the fighting was "particularly fierce" but that not one inch of added territory was yielded to the foe. The number of prisoners taken has now reached a total of over 7,000, and it is related that large numbers of guns and machine guns lie buried under the debris caused by the destructive work of the British

They penetrated them to a depth of more than half a mile on a two mile front, secured valuable information and returned with quite a haul of prisoners.

During the tremendous fighting of Thursday last, further details show that the British airplanes did marvellous work and completely smothered the Hun aviators. Fourteen of the Royal Flying Corps failed to return but the Hun casualties were much greater than that and the value of the services rendered cannot be over estimated.

On the Italian front there is comparative quiet after the previous President Wilson, in a note sen to the Provisional Government of Russia expresses "the deep friendship of the American people" and discusses "the best and most practical means of co-operation between the two peoples in carrying the present struggle for the freedom of all people to a successful consummation.

Referring to the fact that German agents now talk of the restoration of things as before the struggle he affirms that the status must be altered in such fashion as to prevent such a hideous thing from ever again happening.

"No people must be forced under sovereignty under which it does not change hands except for the purpose of securing those who inhabit it a fair chance of life and liberty. indemnities must be insisted on except those that constitute payment for manifest wrongs done. A GOOD MOVE

The appointment by the Dominion Government of a Commission in connection with grain prices, is in line with what Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M. P., urged in the House two years Tuesday and Thursday mornings, at $1 ago, and again more recently in a notable speech which received Dominion-wide approval.

Paris Yesterday Afternoon Paid Last Tribute to Dead Official

Paris, June 11.—(From our own Correspondent—The funeral of the late Chief Felker took place yesterday afternoon and was of a public character, and a large gathering of citizens bore evidence of the high esem in which he was held. A private service was held at the ho remains then being taken to the Presbyterian Church, where a pub-ic service was observed. Rev. Mr and made feeling reference to the deceased and the loss the community had sustained through his death. Revs. Adamson, Langton, Wells, Williams and Armstrong assisted. The hymn, "Rock of Ages" was sung, while the male choir feelingly rendered, "Sleep on Beloved." The organist then rendered the "Dead March," while all reverently stood with bowed heads during same. we are to have a revival of the back closthis means a little more difficulty in getting into one's clothes, still such a good looking dress as No. 8308 is ample compensation for the extra trouble. The waist is rather a simple model, closing at centre back and having a long shawl collar which ends under the girdle in front. It is divided at the back to facilitate closing. The set-in vest is cut out at the throat in a comfortable and becoming V-shape. The fronts are gathered to the back at the shoulders. The styles of short sleeves are with turn back cuff and the three tuck style to correspond with the skirt. Eight sections make the skirt, four straight panels and four gathered pieces with three deep tucks in each one. The skirt has the regulation waist line and the fancy belt is separate.

The dress pattern, No. 8308, is cut in five sizes-34 to 42 inches bust measure. Width at the lower edge of skirt is 25% yards. As on the figure, the 36 inch size requires 734 yards 36 inch material, 34 yard 18 inch allover lace and 21/4 yards picot edging.
