Waterdown High School William McMonies

A news item in a Hamilton paper announces the marriage of William Brownie Forbes, B. A., who has been engaged as Principal of our High School, and Miss Fanny Moore, a nurse of New York City.

Mr. Forbes has two sons by a former marriage. Both he and his present wife are Ontario people, having been raised in the same school section.

Principal Forbes comes very highly recommended, as may be seen from the following testimonials with examination records in possession of the High School Board, and we believe that a bright future is in store for our school during the coming year.

Georgetown, May 7th, 1919.

This certifies that Wm. B. Forbes, B. A., taught successfully in the Georgetown High School during the 1917-1918 term, taking the Science Department. The following record of his work will prove the above statement.

Upper School—Part II Science (Faculty Entrance). 11 candidates passed, 2 taking honors. The entire class was successful.

Honor Matriculation—Two candidates wrote and were successful.

Middle School—9 candidates passed Entrance to Normal.

Matriculation (Junior)—2 passed, 2 took partial.

Lower School—8 candidates passed.

Ralph Ross, B. A.

H. S. Principal.

Markham, Oct. 14th, 1914.

To whom it may concern:
Mr. Wm. B. Forbes has taught Science in the Markham High School for three years ending mid-summer 1914, and has been very much appreciated both in the school and the town. During the years referred to the school has made a fine record as follows:

1913

9 passed Lower School Examination
8 passed Faculty of Education
18 passed Normal Entrance
11 passed Junior Matriculation
6 passed Partial Matriculation

1914

13 passed Lower School Examination
21 passed Faculty of Education, 22 wrote.
11 passed Normal Entrance
6 passed Junior Matriculation
2 passed Honor Matriculation, 2 wrote.

We recommend him to any Board who need a teacher in his line.

Signed on behalf of the Markham High School Board,

Jas. Ley G. W. Reeson

Miss Agnes Clark is spending her vacation in Muskoka.

Miss Alma Gumbert has returned from a visit with her cousins in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rayner spent Sunday in Troy.

Mr. Stanley Surerus motored to Elmerson on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Betzner and family spent the holiday at Stouffville.

Christ Church Sunday School held their picnic at the Beach on Tuesday of this week.

The Holiday

Waterdown was certainly akin to Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" last Tuesday. Fully ninety per cent of the population journeyed to Wabasso Park to attend the Union Sunday School picnic. The committees had made excellent arrangements for the event, which was certainly a decided success. Tables were laid on the lawn in front of the pavilion and fairly teemed with good things, which were done justice to by the kiddies and also the older people.

After the inner man had been fully satisfied an adjournment was made to the lawn where an excellent program of sports were conducted by the committee in charge, consisting of races, ball games, etc. The different events were keenly contested, especially the soft ball game between two teams of lady players, and the way they lambasted the pellet was a sight to behold. The services of male friends was secured to do the hurling and back stopping. Messrs. W. Drummond and E. Sparks were in the box while "Foxy" Griffin was at the receiving end. Foxy, naturally bashful, blushed as compliments were hurled at him by fair admirers. The score, we are told, was 50 to 10.

The running races were exciting and resulted in some hair raising finishes. But the event of the day was the hard ball game between the married men and the Waterdown Juniors, and much to the discomfort of the latter, the aspirants for Junior honors were defeated by a score of 16 to 9. This is conclusive evidence that it is the duty of all unmarried men to get busy and secure a life partner. For the married men, Newsted pitched, Torrance catcher and Bell on 1st base, certainly played a National League caliber game of ball, the rest of the team playing a perfect game in the field. For the Juniors Featherston pitched excellent and was ably supported by Gordon Foster whose only fault was that he could not keep his eyes off the girls, a number of the other members of the team being afflicted with the same disease, hence the disastrous result. The game was umpired by Mr. Ash, Gordon of the National League, and all his decisions were un-disputed.

The roller coaster, merry-go-round and ice cream parlors were well patronized, as was also the boat trips on the Bay. The day was an ideal one and everything off smoothly. It is safe to say everyone thoroughly enjoyed the outing, which was the most successful Union Sunday School picnic ever held by the Waterdown churches.

The Waterdown Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon last in the Parish hall of Grace church. The matter of having boys collect waste paper again was discussed, and it was decided to start in September.

The following choice program was rendered. Paper by Miss Iva Langton on "Work at McDonald College" A paper by Mrs. W. G. Spence on "Woman's Work on the Farm", and piano duets by the Misses Everitt, and Mrs. R. J. Vance and Mrs. P. H. Davidson.

At the conclusion of the Institute meeting, the members of the Community League met and discussed the transferring to the village the property recently purchased on Dundas street. It was decided that the building committee meet the council.

William McMonies, East Flamboro's oldest resident, passed away at his home here on Wednesday morning, July 28th.

Deceased was the second son of the late James McMonies, M. P., and was born in Nottingham, England on December 14th, 1832, coming to Canada with his parents at an early age. They settled near Waterdown on the 4th concession of East Flamboro, and the father with the boys help cleared 200 acres of land and erected a saw-mill on the farm from which a large lumber trade was carried on for a number of years. After the father entered Parliament the business was left in charge of his son William, which he successfully carried on for a long time.

In 1867 he married Miss S. J. Horning, daughter of the late Wm. G. Horning, and started in business for himself, eventually buying a farm on the Port Flamboro road, where he carried on the farming and fruit growing industry until about 15 years ago, when on account of failing sight he retired, and had since made his home with his son, Mr. G. McMonies.

The late Mr. McMonies joined the church at an early age and for a time was a faithful worker in the Union Sunday School here, and a life-long worker in the different churches in Waterdown.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Friday afternoon last from his late residence to Waterdown cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Poole of the Methodist church conducting the services at the home and grave. The pallbearers were six nephews of deceased; Thos. Allen, Wm. G. Horning, Ollie Horning, Blake Binkley, W. A. Ryckman and Watson Hamilton.

The Old Home Paper

When I read the city papers with their headlines flaring out, I'm so proud of modern things I could dance and shout; they are clever, wise and witty, and they give me all the news and a little dash of science and the rambling of the muse; but the thing that sets me smiling and that will not let me frown is to get the weekly paper from the old home town. There's the good old Millgrove items and the happenings at Carlisle and the news that Hiram Wiggins is in bed with a chill, that Jim Jones is stepping these days because he is a dad, that Miss Jenkins gave a party and a pleasant time was had—oh, I feel that life means something more than money and renown when I get the weekly paper from the old home town. It's a long and lonesome distance that my weary steps have strayed, but the town has its memories that never, never fade. I can see the wooden buildings and the quaint uncrowded street, and shady loading corners where the neighbors used to meet, and it seems to me that life puts on its brightest glory crown, when I get the weekly paper from dear Old Waterdown.
