DISEASE THAT WORKS OVERTIME

Dyspepsia Once Started Never Quits Till Stopped—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the One Sure Way to Stop It.

Some diseases have peculiar seasons in which to do their deadly work, but there is one that works all the time and overtime at that. It is almost needless to say that disease is indigestion or Dyspepsia. Once started Dyspepsia never quits till it is stopped and there is only one sure way to stop it and that is by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is abundant proof that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets always stop Dyspepsia, thousands of Canadians who speak as does Mrs. John F. Selars, of Western Bay, Newfoundland, She says:
"It gives me great pleasure to say I have been cured of Dyspepsia by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for seven years. I could not eat without suffering intense agony, and had given up to die before using the Tablets. I felt relief from the first and after the use of five boxes am well and strong."

Dynamite Intended For Loubet.
Paris, Oct. 18.—A despatch to The Gil Blas from Madrid yesterday announced that the police of Barcelona have found a number of packages of dynamite concealed in flowers. The investigations made indicate that there was a plot to use dynamite during President Loubet's approaching visit to King Alfonso. Several arrests have been made.

Old Man Drowns.

According to Scripture.
A certain tailor of very strict principles was in the habit of excusing the faults of his assistants only in they could justify themselves by Scripture. One day a woman entered his shop and asked to see some material, but refused to buy it because it was too cheap. After showing her some other goods, the assistant brought back the same material, this time asking a higher price, whereupon the customer bought it. Afterward, the proprietor, who had witnessed the transaction, reproved his assistant severely. The latter, remembering the rules of the establishment, replied: "Oh, it's according to Scripture all right. She was a stranger and I took her in."

NO SATISFACTION IN EATING.

Food does you no good. You can't digest—consequently you're afraid to eat; tongue is coated, mouth tastes bad, stomach is bloated. Pretty soon you'll be overcome by weakness and nervous prostration.
Best prescription for your condition is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. For dyspepsia and indigestion it is doubtful if a better remedy will ever be devised. These pills bring new strength and vitality to the stomach and digestive organs; they build up the general health and instill such vim and resisting power into the system that sickness is impossible; try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Has Lost His Eyesight.

HEAT AND LIGHT.

The Difference in the Penetrating Ability of Their Rays.

The rays of heat and light are quite independent of each other in their ability to penetrate different substances. For illustration, glass allows the sun's heat to pass through as readily as it does the rays of light, and that without heating the glass too. If the glass be coated with lampblack, however, the rays of light are arrested, but the heat passes through as before, not a single degree's difference in the latter phenomenon being noticeable. Then, again, both heat and light pass through water, provided it is clear. One of the oddities in this connection is this: Although the heat and light pass through water in its normal state, the addition of a little powdered alum, which readily dissolves without leaving the least murkiness, will arrest the rays of heat to such an extent as to almost immediately raise the temperature of the water to a perceptible degree, yet the light continues to pass through as before.

Ice, like glass, also transmits both heat and light. Dr. Sutherland in "Observations Upon the Icebergs of Baffin's Bay" says: "Several pieces of granite were found deeply imbedded in ice without any communications with outside air. These were all surrounded with what might be termed an atmosphere of water." The explanation of such an oddity is this: The heat passing through the ice had been absorbed by the stones until their temperature had been raised to a degree sufficient to melt the ice around them.

A WEST AFRICAN CITY.

The Capital of Liberia Was Named After President Monroe.

Monrovia was named after the celebrated president of the United States, Monroe, who is responsible for that doctrine which inhibits any European nation from further conquests in the new world. The capital of Liberia is divided into two parts, the low and shoreward sections being given over to large settlements of Kru boys and indigenous negroes, while the upper part of the town is inhabited by American-Liberians and European consuls and traders. This civilized part of the town is composed of broad grass grown streets and substantial, well built, cleanly looking houses, churches, offices and public buildings.

This smart appearance of the houses is in somewhat striking contrast to the neglected condition of the roads. These have never been made and are simply the unweeded rock of more or less flat surface. Consequently at the present time they are absolutely unsuited to any vehicle, though I have seen an enterprising Liberian negotiate them with a bicycle. They are generally covered with a very short, close turf of thickly growing plants, which is kept in the condition of turf by the constant nibbling of the pretty little cattle that frequent the streets of Monrovia. A less agreeable feature are the pigs, which exist in great numbers and perform the office of scavengers.—Sir Harry Johnston.

A Whistler Retort.

James MacNeill Whistler, the artist, was appreciated among his friends as much for his trenchant wit and sarcastic sayings as for his genius. A young lady on one occasion, her first meeting with Whistler, was giving vent to her appreciation of the "artistic" impression that she possessed of the opinion that she possessed that requisite herself.

"It is wonderful," she said in conclusion, "what a difference there is between people."

"Yes," replied Whistler, "there is a great deal of difference between matches, too, if you only look close enough, but they all make about the same blaze."

London Beggars in 1700.

In the year 1700 John Cary had this to say about London and its beggars: "He that walks the streets and observes the fatigues used by the beggars to make themselves seem objects of charity must conclude that they take more pains than an honest man doth at his trade. Beggary is now become an art of mystery, to which children are brought up from their cradles. Anything that may move compassion is made a livelihood, a sore leg or arm ok, for want thereof, a pretended one."

Cheerfulness.

Cheerfulness is one of the great miracle workers of the world. It reinforces the whole man, doubles and triples his power and gives new meaning to his life. No man is a failure until he has lost his cheerfulness, his optimistic outlook. The man who carries a smiling face and keeps cheerful in the midst of discouragements, when things go wrong, when the way is dark and doubtful, is sure to win.—Success Magazine.

Gave Her Away.

"Did the father give the bride away?"
"I should say he did. He got rattled, and what do you think he said as he handed her over to the bridegroom? 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

A Friend.

A new definition of "friend" was given by an English schoolboy the other day in an essay: "A friend is a person who knows all about you, and likes you just the same."

A Burmese Saying.

Who aims at perfection will be above mediocrity; who aims at mediocrity will be far short of it.

People who claim to be blunt generally have the sharpest tongues.—Boston Transcript.

They will be the guests of the Pittsburg schools and will be entertained at the new Fort Pitt Hotel. The party from Canada will return home Sunday morning.

TO STOP A CRYING BABY.

Babies cry because they are sick. It may be a pain in the stomach, colic, or cramps,—but in any case a few drops of Nerviline soothes away the distress and allows the baby to sleep peacefully. Where there are young children there should also be Nerviline. It cures all the minor ailments just as promptly as the doctor and not so expensive. For nearly fifty years Polson's Nerviline has been the great household remedy of Canada. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

Bryan in Tokio.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—William F. Bryan of Nebraska arrived here yesterday. He was warmly welcomed by members of the Japanese-American Society and was given a dinner at the Maple Club by the same society. Mr. Bryan will speak this morning at the Waseda Club. It is expected he will be granted an audience by the Mikado within the next few days.

IS YOUR CATARRH ANY BETTER?

Probably getting worse all the time. Why not give up that stuff and stop dosing your stomach? The sure treatment is Catarrhazine. It cures by its action on the mucous membrane. It is certain to cure in your case because it has restored tens of thousands worse than you are. Catarrhazine is a thorough cure because it destroys the causes as well as the effects of the disease. Relief is instant, cure is quick with this powerful remedy, which is guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any part of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or lungs.

Rosebery's Son in Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Hon. Neil Primrose son of Lord Rosebery, visited the law faculty of Laval University yesterday, in company with Judge Mathieu, the dean, and addressed the students in French, speaking of their chosen profession, which was also his. Afterwards he visited the law courts.

Hanged To a Tree.

London, Ky., Oct. 18.—Virgil Bowers, a negro, was taken out of the county jail here by a mob Monday night and hanged to a tree. Bowers killed George Harris, a Knox County lumber dealer, on the night of Aug. 26. He was serving a life sentence.

"It is the little rift within the lute which, ever widening, makes the music mate." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice.

Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the timely help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded questions, the obnoxious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician. There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. Women are astonished at the results of the use of this medicine. It not only makes weak women "robust and rosy checked," but it gives them back the vigor and vitality of youth.

Free! Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing and customers. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DREAMLESS SLEEP.

There is No Such Thing, According to an English Scientist.

According to Sir Arthur Mitchell of English fame, there is no such thing as dreamless sleep; that thinking is involuntary—to the extent at least that we cannot cease to think under any order of the will; that thinking never ceases during life and is essential to the continuance of life; that dream thinking is uncontrolled and undirected by the will, is never coherent and concentrated, is more or less of the same character as thinking in delirium and constitutes a state of mental disorder which is not a state of disease; that thinking under awake is always to some extent under the control of the will by which it is directed to a subject and kept there; that there are many degrees of sleep and wakefulness and as many degrees of efficiency in the controlling power of the will; that thinking, like breathing or the beating of the heart, does not cause a sense of weariness, though all three have a wearing effect on all the organs concerned; that the will's inhibiting and directing work brings fatigue and a demand for rest; that the will finds this rest and refreshment in sleep and that the frequent occurrence of a state of disordered mind in sleep does not do us harm, but on the contrary does us good.

A BABOON HUNT.

Horribly Suggestive of Slaughter of Human Beings.

A traveler writing from South Africa describes a baboon hunt as follows: "Very slowly we spread out round about the base of the kopje and began a crawling ascent through the thick scrub. Kaffirs and farmers together, we formed something of a loose circle around the kopje. Daylight found us drawing near the higher spurs of the kopje and the Kaffirs were busy beating. "Then the sport began, and pretty uncanny it was. A good many baboons broke through our circle, for we only mustered seven guns, but as we neared the top of the kopje I could tell by the noises all about me that some execution was being done. My first kill gave me a most uncomfortable thrill. It was horribly like picking off a human. The baboons were great big, man looking brutes, quite capable of picking up a lamb in their hands and running off with it. As a fact, they generally content themselves with ripping the beast open to get at the curdled milk within. But their cries were the most horribly human thing about them and the gestures of their waving arms. When we all met a careful count was made. Thirty baboons had been bagged. Seven had fallen to my gun."

HAARLEM IN HOLLAND.

An Old Description of the Bustling Dutch Town.

There may not be many points of resemblance between Harlem in New York as it is at present and Haarlem in Holland as it stood more than a century ago. The following translation from an old description of the European Haarlem shows, however, that it was quite a bustling place: "Haarlem, that wonderful grotesque, with its canal, where the blue water trembles, and the church where the golden glass windows flame, and the stone balcony where the linen dries in the sun, and the roofs green as hops, and the storks that flap their wings round the town clock, stretching out their necks high in the air and catching the drops of rain in their beaks, and the heedless burgomaster who strokes his double chin with his hand, and the infatuated florist who grows thin, his eyes fixed on a tulip, and the Bohemienne who falls fainting on her mandolin, and the old man who plays the remuepot, and the child who blows out a bladder, and the drinkers who smooch in the dingy wine shop, and the maid servant at the bostery who hangs up a pheasant at the window."

The Teacher.

The teacher must get away from his work for awhile if he wants to regain freshness of life. The weariness of Friday afternoons, when relaxation makes him conscious of the strain of the week's work, is nature's call to the need of rest. If he does not heed this call his efficiency will decline. A jaded teacher cannot arouse interest, and without interest instruction is devoid of value. Dull teaching is a fraud upon humanity.

A Mystery Explained.

"It's strange that you should always be so gaunt," remarked the bear to the wolf.
"Well, you see," replied the wolf, "it's all because of the part I'm compelled to play in life. You see, I'm always obliged to keep from the door until there's not a thing left in the house to eat."

An Also Ran.

Clara—Did the papers notice your father at the great banquet? Johnny—Yes. Clara—Well, mamma said he could not see his name on the list. Johnny—No, but the list ends up with "and others." That means papa. They always mention him that way.

Customary Proficiency.

"How is your son getting on in his new position?"
"First rate," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "He knows more about the business now than the boss does. All he has to do is to convince the boss."

The responsibility to tolerance lies with those who have the wider vision.—Elliot.

Pinching a Pickpocket.

It happened on a race course in Russia. Among the spectators was a tall, powerfully built man, no longer young, and he was leaning back against a railing when he suddenly felt a hand slipped into his pocket in search, no doubt, of a silver snuffbox which he habitually carried. He said not a word, but raising himself on tiptoe for a moment he sat down on top of the rail and on top of the hand in his pocket. The thief struggled in vain to release himself, while his captor showed no sign of knowing that there was anything amiss until at length the pain became too great for endurance, and the pickpocket called out in agony. Then the old gentleman got up and said to the wretched man behind him: "Another time you will keep your fingers from other people's pockets."

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system—which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

Some people conjure up trouble and then imagine that they are bearing
