AT THE OPERA HOUSE NEW EPOCH IN

INDIAN HISTORY
The new epoch in Indian history is being presented at the Opera House in the form of a play, "The Last of the Mohicans." The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art, and is being presented by a company of the highest quality. The play is a story of the life of a young Indian, who is captured by a party of white men, and is taken to a settlement. The play is a story of love, of loyalty, and of the struggle between the two races. The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art, and is being presented by a company of the highest quality.

A DANGEROUS CROSSING

On Sunday afternoon a cow was killed in the vicinity of the "church crossing" so called. We do not wonder at the accident. We are rather surprised that human beings have escaped so well. This spot, so public, has always been regarded as most dangerous to traffic. Approaching from the Millstream side, East-bound trains are hidden by the hills until the traveller is almost at the crossing and the train but a couple of hundred yards away. Trains not infrequently come down this grade at a tremendous rate of speed, and it often becomes a race for life between the pedestrian and the train. The railroad management has frequently been warned of the danger, but up to the present nothing has been done by way of safeguarding the public. It is time the matter was taken in hand by the Town before human life is sacrificed.

LIKE TEARING THE HEART STRINGS

It is not within the conception of man to measure his great sufferings from heart disease. For years he endured almost constant cutting and tearing pains about my heart, and many a time would have welcomed death. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart has worked a veritable miracle. —Thos. REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Every manly man is a boyish one. Nothing helps a man sometimes so much as a hindrance. A man may manage to get a woman without lying, but he can't keep her long without it. The funniest thing in the world is the woman who thinks she is. The marriage of convenience has no love in it, but the love is generally waiting just around the corner. A woman generally keeps her ideals till she makes up her mind that she doesn't want to wait till she gets to heaven to get married.

TWO PICTURES.

The sun was shining calm and bright, The meadow grass was deep; The daisies and the buttercups Were napping half asleep; And overhead the sparrow sat And dozed upon the bough, For all the world was sleepy then, When Johnny drove the cow.

The sun was like a flaming beast! The field was like the sea! The grass, like angry snakes, did hiss And wriggle at his knee; The sparrows turned to goblin mops That yelled and fluttered on, As through a world gone raving mad; The cow was driving John.

The women who were threatened with a search on a steamer between Sandusky and Windsor and made to pay duty on their purchases have gained a world of wisdom on the problem: "Who pays the duty?" In future they will be more alert to learn in advance who collects the duty.

Rural Phones Solve These Every-Day Problems

Problem I. Bad Roads:—The old way was to curse nature and idly await sun's return. The new way is to telephone for what you want, and smile because you get the information in a thousand part of the time.

Problem II. Weather Forecasts:—The old way was to work on belated information, and to excuse the losses with "That's what the farmer has to put up with." The new way is to telephone every morning to the weather man and overcome much of the needless hustle and bustle of the old way.

Problem III. Prices Current:—The old way was to ask a neighbor or trust to the newspapers. The new way is to get information in the nick of time over the phone, thus knowing when to sell and when to hold.

Problem IV. Emergencies:—The old way of procedure when someone took sick, was to harness up the "doctor" and waste all haste for the doctor. Effort in this direction often proved as its only result the information: "doctor is out." The new way is to call up the doctor on the phone, and know instantly what can be done pending the medical man's arrival.

Problem V. Help:—The old way was to allow men to go on boys' errands, waste half a morning walking to Smith's, only to find that his harrow was already loaned. The new way is to make the phone your errand boy—buy, borrow, beg by means of the "silent partner."

We have prepared a Booklet describing fully a rural phone system. Had it you better instruct us to send you this interesting bit of information, seeing it costs you nothing. Ask for Booklet 3116.
