In the afternoon at 2.45 the Sunday School service was largely attended, a crowd of happy children and scores of young men and women joined in hymns of praise. Mr. J. Weeks presided; Mr. P. Bennett offered the opening prayer; the Primary Department followed with a nice exercise "God is Love;" a recitation, "The Comrade in White," was a beautiful selection, and remarkably well spoken by Olive Weeks, the little daughter of the chairman. After a bright chorus by the little tots, novelty, indeed something unique, was the reading of the first twenty verses of the 14th chapter, of St. John's Gospel by a young Chinaman, attending the school. The pronunciation and correctness was surprising to all present.
