Unveiling of Placentia's War Memorial.

Impressive Ceremony at Ancient Capital by Archbishop Roche.

Placentia, the ancient capital of Terra Nova, witnessed an impressive ceremony on Thursday, the King's Birthday, when the War Memorial, erected in honor and respect to the memory of her fallen heroes in battle was unveiled by His Grace Archbishop Roche. The event was strictly military, and military etiquette marked the proceedings.

On the arrival of the morning train the Archbishop and Clergy were met by Right Rev. Mons. Reardon, Magistrate O'Reilly, Mr. Ignatius Collins, President of the Star of the Sea Association, Sergt. Mat. Collins, M.M., Sergt. Bird, Head Constable Kent, T. Kemp, and many other prominent citizens.

At almost every home flags of welcome were flown and also on the ferry boat which brought the Archbishop and Priests from the Jersey Side to the Town Side.

Early Thursday morning the C.C.C. Old Comrades' excursion, numbering more than 200, arrived and were met by the Star of the Sea Members, who had so arranged matters that all were conveyed across in less than half an hour. Mrs. Phippard's, Mrs. Capt. Fitzpatrick's, Mrs. O'Reilly's and the other hotels accommodated all, and most satisfactorily.

Thursday morning at 10.30 solemn Military Mass was sung in the beautiful Church of the Sacred Heart. Right Rev. Monsignor McDermott was celebrant, Very Rev. J. J. McGrath, P.P., Bell Island, Deacon, and Very Rev. F. Ryan, P.P., St. Bride's, sub-deacon. His Grace the Archbishop was attended on the Throne by Right Rev. Mons. Reardon.

Previous to Mass procession took place from the Presbytery, Cross Bearer, Thruiter and Acolytes preceding the Archbishop and Clergy, the Star of the Sea Society, C.C.C. Old Comrades' Committee, C.C.C. Officers following in order. The Presbytery grounds and the Church square were filled with a devout people, and as the procession passed the reverence due His Grace was acknowledged by bowed heads.

On the Altar while Military Mass was celebrated, a gathering of soldiers from Placentia and St. John's was present. Capt. McGrath served the Mass. At the elevation the drum was "rolled" by Private O'Connell of the C.C.C. The "O Salutaris" was sung by Captain Augustus Summers.

After the celebration of Holy Mass, there was procession from the Church to where the monument was, and to be unveiled. His Grace the Archbishop ascending a platform, which had been erected for the occasion, and attended by his Priests, awaited the moment that the monument would be uncovered. Just before Right Rev. Mons. Reardon read the names of those who had "gone over," and whose names were chiselled on the stone, which was to perpetuate their memory as the men who had fought for the Empire from Placentia.

His Grace the Archbishop, before the honors to the dead has been given by a firing squad, of Placentia's own sons, in charge of Sergt. M. Collins, M.M., and the bugle call at each round of firing had been sounded, gave an address, part of which we quote.

"While the question of a National Memorial has engaged public consideration," said His Grace, "the people of Placentia have industriously considered the erection of one which would honor the memory of those of her sons who had died." It was a source of great pride to have to be asked to perform this ceremony. Placentia, which herself had in days past witnessed bloody scenes, very appropriately leads in remembering the dead. It was unnecessary for him to remind his audience—Catholic as it was—that the dead commanded respect. The lapse of years could not sever the ties that bind the living with the dead. The memories of dear ones gone would ever be cherished. The Memorial which all had then assembled to witness unveiled, had been placed there for the reason. It would be a lasting memorial to the gallant and noble men who had died that others might live. In the thousands who left Newfoundland and rallied forth Placentia was well represented. As Placentian after Placentian fell, others left the ancient town and filled the gap. They knew what they had to face. They laid down their lives in the cause of honor. Their graves were for the most part unmarked. That was still another reason for building this Memorial. As long as the graceful monument stood within the shadow of Placentia's Parish Church it would be an inspiration to the living.

His Grace congratulated Monsignor Reardon, the venerable Pastor of Placentia, who had taken such interest in the work.

At night at the Sacred Heart Church, His Grace Archbishop Roche imparted Benediction and Major O'Grady, O.B.E., sang the "Tantum Ergo," to a violin accompaniment by Right Rev. Mons. Reardon.

An official record of the proceedings in book form, fully illustrated, will be published within a few weeks.

Silly Women.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Women, who said they were sympathizers with the cause of Irish freedom, burned a British flag in front of the treasury yesterday, and paraded with banners calling on the United States to force Great Britain to pay interest on its debt to America. The women were not molested.

"We Will Praise Tanlac as Long as We Live," He Says

Johnson Says His Wife Was Only a Shadow of Her Former Self.

"My wife and I will praise Tanlac as long as we live, for it is nothing less than wonderful the way it has restored her to good health again," recently declared A. J. Johnson, of 49 Cornwallis St., Halifax, N.S.

"For about a year before she started taking Tanlac she was in such a run-down condition that she could hardly drag around. She had no appetite and often took nothing but a cup of tea at a meal. In fact she was afraid to eat very much because of the hours of misery that she suffered afterwards. Her stomach was in such bad shape that whatever she ate would sour and ferment and bloat her up something awful. She was also troubled with terrible headaches and dizzy spells, and when the tummy came on she just had to lie down and rest. Her nerves were in such a bad state that if anybody slammed a door or made a sudden noise she would nearly jump out of her chair and be all of a tremble afterwards. She lost weight until she was a mere shadow of her former self and became so weak towards the last that she couldn't remain up long each day. All her friends were telling her how bad she looked and I was very worried about her, for although she had tried just about everything in the way of medicines, none of them seemed to do her any good.

"We heard of so many people being helped by Tanlac that my wife decided to give it a trial, and I must say that the way it went after her troubles and fixed her up was wonderful. The first bottle did her so much good that she kept on with it until now after taking three bottles she is as well as ever she was in her life. She has a fine appetite all the time, and her digestion is so good that she can eat anything she fancies without having the least trouble afterwards. She has gained at least ten pounds in weight and is stronger in every way. She is never bothered with headaches or dizzy spells now and her nerves are so steady that she can stand any amount of noise. She sleeps soundly all night and gets up in the morning feeling fine and able to do the day's work. She often says that since taking Tanlac she feels like a child again. We both think Tanlac is the best medicine ever put into a bottle, and are glad of the chance to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv.

If at First—

The fat man decided to try golf as a weight-reducer. Armed with four sticks, a ball, and a caddy, he marched off to the links.

The caddy placed the ball upon the tee. Then, with a terrific swing, the fat man whirled his club through the air.

Alas! club No. 2 shared the fate of club No. 1, club No. 3 emulated the evolutions of club No. 2, and club No. 4 flew into a hedge.

And still the little white ball smiled on.

"What would you do now?" asked the golfer, wiping his forehead, as he turned in desperation to the caddy.

But the little white ball still stayed on its tee, while the club meeting Mother Earth, broke into splinters.

"Give me another club, boy!" said the fat man.

Holding out the empty bag, the caddy replied:

"Don't give in, guv'nor! Give it a swipe with this!"

Glencoe's Report.

The S.S. Glencoe, which arrived at the Straits, sent the following report: "Humbermouth yesterday morning from the trip to the Reid Co."

"Made all ports of call going and returning to West St. Modeste. Fine weather most of the trip. Little drift ice west of Bonne Esperance. Steady clear to East St. Modeste, north of there solid jam of heavy sheet ice. Seals plentiful at Blanc Sablon and Flower's Cove; 300 taken at the latter place last week; good sign of codfish between Point Riche and Trout River."

Not a Patent Food.

(From Tit-Bits.)

"Give me a dozen bananas for children," said the red-faced man to the fruiterer's assistant.

The young man put them in a parcel.

"And give me some of the other stuff as well—the grocer says he doesn't keep it in stock."

"The other stuff?" said the assistant, with a puzzled look.

"Yes, I ain't good at pronouncing big words, an' I suppose I must have made a mistake with it, for the grocer laughed at me. But it's that there stuff as you say can be given to the kiddies with bananas."

"I'm afraid I don't understand," said the mystified assistant.

"Well, you're a nice man, you are, to be a fruiterer. 'Ere, come outside, an' I'll show you the placard in your window."

So he hauled the young man outside and pointed to the bill, which proclaimed that:

"Bananas may be given to children with impunity."

Damages Aplenty.

A lawyer tells of a visit he received from a Mrs. Delehanty, accompanied by Mr. Delehanty, the day after Mrs. Delehanty and a Mrs. Cassidy had indulged in a little difference of opinion.

When he had listened to the recital of Mrs. Delehanty's troubles the lawyer said:—

"You want to get damages, I suppose?"

"Damages! Damages!" came in shrill tones from Mrs. Delehanty. "Damages! No, indeed, I've got damages enough. What I want is satisfaction."
