"Mies Flora M'Gregor! This is a pleasant surprise. I did not expect to find you here."

"Neither did I expect to be here," replied the young lady; "but the storm overtook us, and after wandering about for hours we know not whither, we at length stumbled upon your hut here, and—""Not mine, indeed," interuptedian. "I, too, am only sheltering myself from the storm through the kindness of our friend hers." And as he spoke Ian directed a significant glance at Angus.

"But permit me to introduce you gentlemen to each other," said the young lady, presenting her companion to Ian.

"This is Mr. Hector M'Leod; Mr. Ranald Murray."

For an instant Ian stood transfixed, and could not stir. With a mighty effort, however, he recovered himself, and stepping forward extended his hand to the other. Then he turned rapid'y round and flung himself into a corner.

"If feel a little knocked up," he gasped, and then he buried his face in his hands.

The lady who seemed not to have deltated Ian's confusion, was meanwhile taking off her outer garments, from which the strong heat of the fire was already causing the steam to rise in clouds.
Angus placed the old, high-backed chair close to the fire, and motioned to the lady to sit down, which she at once did, smilling a grateful acknowledgement.

"And rest ye upon this—I cannot offer you better," said Angus, addressing the gentleman, and pointing to the stool.

"Thank you, it will do very well," was the reply. "We seem to be entirely monopolizing your premises, my good man, but perhaps this fearful storm may abate in a short time, and we shall be able to resume our journey."

"I dengat in Highland hospitality," was the reply, "and no one comes seeking shelter without finding such as I can give. I had little food to give you, and what is of it is coarse—much coarser than this lady must have been accustomed to; but you shall have it."

And without saying more he turned to go to the other end of the hut.

HEFFERNAN BROTHERS

Beg to announce that their stock of goods for the Fall and Winter Trade is now complete in every Department. Our importations which are unusually heavy this season, have been carefully selected by Mr. Thomas Heffernac, who has just returned from Europe, where he has purchased extensively from the leading manufacturers of Great Britain and Ireland, France and Germany. DRESS GOODS — We direct particular attention to our display of Dress Goods, which for quantity, quality, and price surpasses anything ever before seen in Guelph. Over one thousand SHAWLS—We are prepared to show over one thousand Shawls of every variety, pattern and color. English Cloths, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds, Gents Furnishings. We show more goods in this department than any three houses in Guelph, and we sell a better Tweed at 75c. per yard than can be had at any other establishment at one dollar. In Ready-Made Clothing, Carpets, Blankets and General House Furnishings, our stock is simply immense, completely overshadowing the pretensions of other houses. MILLINERY & MANTLES—Our Show Rooms will be open during the week of the Exhibition.

Everything that is novel and fashionable can be seen. Pattern Bonnets, Hats and Jackets direct from Paris, London and New York.

Noted for Cheap Dry Goods.
