"FLORENCE AUTOMATIC" OIL COOK STOVES

THE blue flame from the Florence wickless burner is always steady, always under perfect control. A special jacket holds it directly under the cooking utensils—giving a quicker, more economical heat.

Used with McClary's Success oven, the Florence Automatic is a wonderful baker.

There are no wicks to clean, no odors, no trouble. Let us give you a demonstration of the Florence Automatic in actual operation.

INQUEST INTO THE DEATH OF WM. LOCKE AGAIN ADJOURNED

Archie Hare was Chief Witness
Heard Monday Evening

After hearing the evidence of several witnesses the jury, impanelled to inquire into the death of William Locke who was killed when struck by an automobile on the Port Stanley Road Sunday evening, May 18, adjourned at a late hour Monday evening until Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

The small schoolhouse on the gravel road, Yarmouth, where the inquest is being held, was simply packed and even standing room was all taken up, while the yard around the schoolhouse was more than filled with automobiles.

The chief witness heard was Archie Hare, owner of the Chevrolet car which struck William Locke, and who was riding in the back seat of the automobile at the time of the accident. Mr. Hare, who is 21 years old is a farmer residing at Aylmer. He stated that on the night in question they had left the Central Methodist church, St. Thomas, in his automobile about 8.30 and had driven down Talbot street and then directly out on the Gravel Road. To Mr. Leitch he said that Miss Verna Jefferson was driving at the time of the accident but could not state when she took the wheel. When they were on Talbot street the dimmer had been turned on and the lights had been that way at the time of the accident.

In his evidence the witness testified that they were proceeding south about 12 miles an hour and that they passed a car a short time before the accident. Miss Jefferson, who was driving sounded the horn twice, he stated that when she saw the man walking south on the road ahead of them. The man took a short step to the right as if to crouch and run and he, the witness, noticed the man turn his head and look over his left shoulder and as the car was about to pass him he took a step towards the east, and directly in front of the car. Had he not taken the step to the east the witness stated that the car would not have hit him. When the car hit the man Miss Verna Jefferson fainted. L. Jones was in the front seat with her and Miss Mary Jefferson and Mrs. Jefferson in the back seat with the witness. The witness said that he got out of the car and went back to the man. He found the body lying in the centre of the road with the head towards the south and the feet towards the northwest.

To Mr. Leitch he said that Miss Verna Jefferson had driven the car about 12 miles, the first time being about two months ago, when she drove to Aylmer at night. Miss Jefferson told him (the witness) that she had driven a car before.

He could not say how far they were away from the man when he first saw him, nor how far they were away from him when Miss Jefferson blew the horn. The man had been walking down the right wheel track but was nearly in the centre of the road when struck.

The witness admitted that when he judged the speed to be about 12 or 15 miles per hour it was not from any observations of the speedometer but from his general knowledge of the speed.

When questioned by Mr. Barnum the witness said that he believed Mr. Locke to have fallen in his tracks.

Death Due to Shock.

Dr. F. O. Lawrence, who conducted the post mortem upon the remains said, that an examination showed the skull to have been broken and the left side of the head was cut and scraped. He believed death to have been caused by shock and hemorrhage due to the fracture at the base of the skull. Mr. Locke was dead when he arrived at the scene of the accident. He would think that the deceased had been lifted up in the air and that when he struck the ground his skull was fractured.

E. A. Smith, one of the first to reach the spot after the accident said that he noticed that the driver in the car, a lady, had fainted. The body of the man was lying on the west side of the road, near Winder's gate. The man was still living.

Wilbur Mulligan who was driving a car and who had arrived at the scene shortly after the accident, said that he had counted thirty paces between the spot where Mr. Locke was lying and the back end of the car which struck him. Other witnesses called Monday evening were: James Todd, C. Locke, Earl King, William Armstrong, Lewis Hall, Mrs. Lewis Ballah, Mrs. Lewis Hall, Stanley Wickett, Clifford Randall, Frank McPhail and Charles Overholt. They could throw no further light on the accident.

W. Barnum, of Aylmer, appeared for Miss Verna Jefferson and Archie Hare and Colin St. Clair Leitch for the Locke family. M. D. McCrimmon represented the crown and Coroner Dr. D. C. Ewin presided.
