John Alexander, a middle-aged Indian from the Caradoc reserve, appeared before Squire Edwards at London on Monday on a charge of breaking into and robbing the store and post office at Middlemiss. The accused was remanded for a week.

A cable from Demerara to the Rev. E. E. McCurdy, agent of the Presbyterian Church, brings the intelligence that the Rev. J. D. McKay, Presbyterian missionary to the Coolies of Demerara, had been drowned. Mr. McKay was born in Easttown, thirty-eight years ago, and was appointed to the mission field three years ago.

The Raymond & Poore company played (or attempted to play) East Lynne at the Glencoe opera house on Tuesday evening of last week. A manager who would come before the people with the quality of performance given by this company must have more than his share of nerve. It was noted that the ladies of the audience did not even remove their hats, presumably through disgust for the show.

An old inhabitant, with some reputation as a weather prophet, predicts an open and comparatively mild winter, with frequent thaws, abbreviated cold snaps, and uncertain winter roads. He advises those who have teaming to do not to neglect the opportunity to rush things when the roads are good. His prediction is based on late thunder, green grass, croaking frogs, and a dozen other signs familiar to the weather-wise.

Julia Wankosh, widow of the late Sam Plain, of the Caradoc Reserve for Indians, has been committed for trial charged with arson. It is alleged that Julia deliberately burned down a house for the sake of revenge. After the death of Sam Plain, Julia lived in one of his houses. Recently the executor had reason to expel Mrs. Wankosh from the house. It is said that she declared that she would burn the place down. Several Indians saw Julia driving to the house, dragging with her a sheet soaked in coal oil.

At the manse, Glencoe, at high noon on Wednesday, Dec. 13th, the Rev. George Weir united in marriage Mr. George James Chisholm and Miss Mary Jane Howe, daughter of Thomas Howe, of Caradoc. The bridesmaid was Miss Jeanette Macfie, of Appleton, and the groomsmen Mr. Levi Howe, brother of the bride. The bride was neatly and becomingly attired in ladies' blue cloth, with white silk blouse trimmed with chiffon and lace. Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm left on a trip to Detroit and other points west.

On Friday, while driving a colt belonging to R. F. Howard & Son, with whom he is employed, Mr. Oley Depew was seriously injured. The colt was going along main street nicely until it came opposite the butter factory, where it became frightened at a pile of brick and began to kick, breaking the cross bar of the buggy, allowing the seat to fall, and Depew was thrown directly under the animal's heels. His shoulders were hurt and his face was badly disfigured, the nose being crushed flat. He is doing well under Dr. Walker's care.

Miss Elliott's Recital.

The London Advertiser says:—The graduating recital given by Miss Tena Elliott, A. L. S. E., at the Auditorium Monday night was a decided success from an artistic standpoint. It was one of the most enjoyable evenings of this kind given this season. Miss Elliott, who is a graduate of Miss Jessica Hamby, of the London Conservatory of Music, gave five numbers in the programme, covering a wide range of selections. The programme was very exacting, testing her versatility to the utmost. In each of them she scored with her audience. Her heaviest number was the letter scene from "McBeth." This selection was very pleasing, and found much favor. Her dialect selections were very fine, notably "The Examination," from "Glengarry School Days." Miss Elliott has a pleasing presence, a good voice, and an attractive personality. She is a promising young artist. Miss Gertrude Huntly and Mr. Oliver Gellinas assisted Miss Elliott. Miss Huntly never appeared to better advantage, her violin number, Seventh Concerto, by De Beriot, being received in great favor. Her other numbers were well received also. She had to respond to encores. Mr. Gellinas sang well, and his solos were appreciated. His best effort was "The Song of the Bow."

Your friend, Mrs. —, is looking much improved in health. "Yes," we persuaded her to try Miller's Compound Iron Pills, with the result you observe." Sold by Jas. A. Scott, druggist.

HOW TO TAKE THEM

FOR

CONSTIPATION BILIOUSNESS INDIGESTION TORPID LIVER IMPURE BLOOD DYSPPEPSIA HEADACHES RHEUMATISM IRRITATED HEART NERVOUSNESS BAD COMPLEXION

Begin treatment by taking one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet three times a day and two at bedtime—for 3 or 4 days.

Take the tablets twenty minutes before meals, and always drink half a tumblerful of cold water (not iced) with each tablet.

Then take two tablets every night for a week—and then one every night for a month.

Be careful about the diet—eat regularly—avoid veal, pork, dark meat fowls, and never drink milk with meals.

Bathe frequently—dress warmly—exercise sensibly—take "Fruit-a-tives" faithfully—and see how much better you are at the end of the month.

At all druggists.
