Till that is done any prosecution of the intermediaries must be regarded as of small account.

BE FAIR TO ALL PARTIES.

Every time that the members of the com-bines and their dependants meet in solemn conclave, they pass resolutions in favor of trade restriction, and talk as if the country compare the progress of the country would go to the dogs if the taxes were Middlesex in the decades 1871-81 and 1881trade restriction, and talk as if the country when a company of farmers assemble, as did the Central Farmers' Institute the far short of its promises the National other day, and discuss the great trade question, and the influence of high taxation center of the most favored portion of imports on their industry-the grea staple industry of the Dominion-they are promptly pounced upon by the newspaper apologists for the combines, and told that they are traiters to their class and to their country. Surely, there should be fairness on both sides. If the trade question must be ignored by the farmer gatherings, why should it not be prohibited at the meeting of men engaged in cotton spinning, oil re-fining, or rubber manufacture?

EAST MIDDLESEX ELECTION. On Thursday next, the election of fill the recency caused by the unscating of Mr. Marshall takes place in East Middlesex. There are but two candidates: Mr. Marshall, who supports the combines, and Mr. Taylor, an independent candidate, who is in favor of the greatest possible freedom of trade and the combatting of the combines by every means possible.

Many Liberals would have preferred the on of an out-and-out member of their party to oppose Mr. Marshall, and there seems no reason to doubt that if such a one had come forward, and both candidates had remained in the field, he would have been elected. But no one was disposed to take that stand, and the two co tants of last March are left to fight i

The great question in this contest is the trade issue, and it is in regard to it that the two candidates differ most. Mr. Marshall still sticks to the side at Ottawa which is tied to the combinea Ms. Taylor pledges himself to vote for the reduction of duties on all necessaries of life, As be tween the two platforms, we can see po reason why any intelligent voter in the riding should support that of Mr. Marshall. ere is no one better capable to judge the condition of the farmers of this country than the farmers themselves. They know whether their bank accounts are growing or not, whether their mortgages are being paid off or not, whether store accounts and other floating debts are burden ing them or not. How they feel was very clearly shown by the discussion which took place at the meeting of the Central Farmers Institute at Toronto the other day. An officer of the Dominion Government was present to address them on the subject o markets, and it was natural enough that he hould advise them to cultivate the British markets, seeing that the Government whos servant he is will take no steps to get fo them a better one at their own doors-nay has taken a course to close that marke against them by a challenge to higher protection.

No greater folly could have been commit ted by the Government of a country situat ed as Canada is than to provoke retaliation as was done in the case of Mr. Foster tariff of 1890. The gauntlet he cast down was promptly taken up by Mr. McKinley and as a consequence we have a tariff which taxes Canadian beans going into the United States 40 cents per bushel, Canadian barle 30 cents per bushel, and Canadian horses of the poorest sort $50 per head, with othe products and animals in proportion. The farmers of Ontario know what this means to them better than any officer in the ser ice of Mr. Carling can instruct them; and they know very well, moreover, that there no prospect of their finding a market for barley, beans or horses in Great Britain At the same time they recognize how help less they are as long as the Government Canada will obstinately refuse to make terms for a trade treaty with the United States, and circumstances impel them to selves. Many other citizens were traduced in the same "bill of particulars," as the Free Press characteristically calls it, by "an error." Even ministers of the Gospel were charged with participating in bribery. It is needless to say that there was no truth in the indictment, but the fact that such methods were resorted to is but a proof of the desperation of the petitioners.

If further testimony of the fairness with which Mr. Hyman's responsible supporters conducted the election were needed, it would be found in the declaration of the Toronto Telegram, an independent Conservative newspaper, which, after reviewing the evidence, rumarked that the London contest "was fought as fairly as such contests ever are." The same Conservative paper further added:
