The free library board of 1905 have made a splendid showing; one that we believe can be emulated by all the other departments, and we believe that all its members should be reappointed for their good work. If we expect to compete with Hamilton, Brantford, and numerous other places, we believe the tax rate to be the key of the situation. We therefore trust that your honorable body will give this matter their seri-

According to the statements of Controller Hubbard, reported in the Globe, Toronto expects to get down below 17 mills this year. This, the controller ontends, is the best inducement any ity can give to industries. The Toronto rate last year was 19 mills. It may be noted that Toronto last year added new assessments almost equal to the total assessment of this city.

The real estaters think that with a lower tax rate London will be in a position to offer greater inducements than either Hamilton or Brantford.

A Fine Array of Talent for the Season's Musical Event.

The annual Scotch concert at the Grand on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18. promises to be a musical festival of the highest order. St. Andrew's Society has the reputation of never disappointing its patrons, and has made a special effort this year to provide the best talent. Months ago the committee opened negotiations with Watkin Mills, the great basso cantante, then in Austra-Ma, and was so fortunate as to arrange terms with him. He and his company are now appearing in the larger American cities, after filling enragements on the Pacific coast, en route from Australia to Great Britain, ship. An additional attraction will be the gifted young Scottish soprano, Mary Jardine-Thomson. On Wednesday morning, Detective Northgreaves received word from Crown Attorney McCrimmon, of St. Thomas, informing him of the robbery at Lawrence Station, and asking him to arrest the guilty parties. Northgreaves immediately got in touch with Miller, and a plan was formed for the capture of the men. Miller and several citizens started out, and got hold of a cousin of Delarey, who knew where the men were. A neighbor told him that the officers were after the boys to arrest them. He asked him where they were. The cousin exofficers, concealed, cut across country, cousin arrived to inform them of their danger.
