Sarnia Man Drowns in St. Clair

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, July 21.—Joseph Lawrence, 19 years old, of Sarnia, was drowned in the St. Clair River six miles from Sarnia yesterday afternoon. He was riding on a log and it overturned. His head struck it and he did not resurface. Lawrence was picking up logs in the river for the Reid Wrecking Company. Another employee, doing similar work, dove for him. The first time he reached the body, but he could not bring it to the surface till he tried again. Although Lawrence was in the water only seven minutes, attempts at resuscitation were futile. He was the son of John Lawrence.

THE POLICE AT SEA IN ENOS MURDER CASE

No Clue as to Whereabouts of the Badly Wanted Jackson.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, July 22.—It is now four days since Jacob Enos was murdered, and the police appear to be no nearer the solution of the mystery than they were at the beginning. No arrests have been made, except that of the colored man, Griffin, who was arrested Monday night. They are still looking for Jackson, the man who is supposed to have had the revolver at the time of the shooting.

The two clues that the police are working on are the stories of Mrs. Beaver and other King street residents, who claim to have heard the shot fired on Monday night, and the fact that a negro purchased a revolver on the night of the murder.

Just before closing time on Monday night a negro entered George Stevens' hardware store and bought ten 32-calibre revolver cartridges. The shells were for a rim-fire gun. It was a 32-calibre bullet that was found in Enos' brain. The man who made the purchase was about six feet tall, and answers somewhat to the description of Jackson. The clerk, who sold him the shells thought he was a stranger in the city, and says he would know him again if he met him. He was accompanied to the store by another negro.

Revolver cartridges of 32 calibre were also bought by a negro in Cunningham's store Monday afternoon. There were centre-fire cartridges. It may have been the same man who made both purchases.

Mrs. Beaver's story of the shooting has been corroborated by others, who claim to have heard the shot fired and seen men running. All the stories are to the effect that four men were together, and that three were seen running away.

BERRY ASKS MABEE TO EXAMINE CREWS

Says Unqualified Men Are Running Trains—Several Strike Breakers Assaulted.

Toronto, July 21.—S. F. Berry, vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors, has written to Chairman Mabey, of the Dominion railway commission, complaining that the Grand Trunk train running into New Hampshire, and also trains insufficiently manned.

Detroit, July 21.—A. B. Atwater, assistant to President Hays, states that strike-breakers were all being examined by an old dispatcher, and that he does not think the trains now moving are manned by any incompetent men. On the contrary, the union men say that half the train crews running out of Detroit are not even equipped with watches.

Assault at Windsor.
Chicago, July 21.—Robert McMurray, a Windsor train conductor on the G. T. R. between Detroit and Chicago, was assaulted by sympathizers here while sticking to his run. He is now in a hospital here in a serious condition.

Violence at Vermont.
Burlington, Vt., July 21.—Violence shown a strike-breaker here today frightened away ten other men who had been imported to run trains.

Yesterday a crowd of strike-breakers was brought into Burlington. Another load of strike-breakers, 11 in all, came today, and among them was one of the men who left yesterday. As this man was crossing the station platform with a railroad detective he was greeted with epithets from the crowd. The strike-breaker struck one of the reporters. Within a few seconds the strike-breaker was beaten, kicked and dragged about by the hair. At length he freed himself and dashed across the Connecticut River bridge into New Hampshire. The other strike-breakers left on the next train, leaving no one to operate the trains at this point.

The West River branch of the Central Vermont remained tied up as tight as ever today, not a train having moved on that 36-mile stretch of track since the strike began. Passenger trains are moving about as usual.

CONFESSES KILLING OF FIVE CHILDREN

Rag-Picker Guilty of Crime for Which Father Died in Prison.

Tours, France, July 22.—A ragpicker named Joseph today confessed to the assassination on April 21, 1901, of five children of a farmer named Briere in the vicinity of Chartres. The father of the children was found guilty of the murders and sentenced to life imprisonment. He died in prison.

The trial of Briere attracted the attention of the whole of France. Four of his daughters, aged respectively 14, 11, 5 and 4, and his son, 7 years of age, were found in bed one morning stabbed and beaten to death. According to a theory advanced by the police to provide a motive for the crime, Briere, who owned a small farm near Chartres, wished to marry a woman of considerable wealth. Circumstantial evidence led to the conviction that the farmer, considering his family an encumbrance, killed his five children to carry out his wishes.

Briere stoutly maintained his innocence. During the trial the judge got down from the bench and gave loud expression to his opinion of the guilt of the prisoner, while the spectators yelled with fury: "Kill him! kill him!"

Briere's surviving daughter, who, the police declared, only escaped the fate of the other children by not responding to Briere's invitation to go to see him, went on the witness stand, sobbingly protesting that her father was innocent.

BIGGER WAGES

HEAVIER RATES

Montreal, July 22.—Mr. George L. Cains, president of the Montreal Board of Trade, stated yesterday morning that the board had not made any move in regard to the Grand Trunk strike, and was not likely to do so.

"We consider that President Hays is the best qualified judge whether the company is in a position to pay the increase to the men," he observed. "If wages are forced beyond a certain point we will find the company going veal."

to Ottawa for permission to increase their freight tariff, and in the end the public will have to bear the additional cost of running the road."

EWART MADE A HIT

London, July 22.—A letter from The Hague, where the fisheries dispute is being heard, says:

"After the great and strong wind earthquake, and fire of Counsel Warren of the United States, we have been listening to the still small voice of J. S. Ewart, of Toronto, and there has been something infinitely refreshing to those on whom the prolonged experience in the home too hygienic condition in July hotel life in The Hague was beginning to tell, in the calm after the storm. At the same time it must be admitted that in the desire to avoid exaggerating, Mr. Ewart maintained so uniform a delivery that the subtler points of his argument and its full, neat, ingenious points sometimes seemed to require greater emphasis laid upon them in order to bring out orally the importance which perusal of the shorthand record will reveal.
