Fall Wheat Is Classed As Better Than Average Yield

This Year.

Fodder Supplies Are the Heaviest in Some Years-A Poor Fruit Season.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Nov. 17.—The following statement of crop conditions in Ontario on the 1st of November, based upon the returns of a large number of correspondents, has been issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is the final crop bulletin for the year.
Fall Wheat—While a number of correspondents speak of the yield and quality of fall wheat as being the best for years, others complain of the grain being less plump than usual, owing to dry weather at the time of filling. Taken as a whole, however, fall wheat may be classed as better than the average crop. Spring Wheat—Less spring wheat is being grown than formerly, goose wheat LABOR ORGANIZATIONS being grown than formerly goose wheat being the variety chiefly raised. The crop was fully up to the standard this year in every respect.

The New Fall Wheat—An increased acreage of wheat has been sown this fall, and as most favorable conditions existed at seeding, and since that time, the cro is now looking more promising. In fact some correspondents express a fear tha the young fall wheat may have too much top for entering the winter. Only scat-tering mention was made of injury to tering mention was made of injury to the crop by Hessian fly, wire-worm, or other insects. Sowing ranged from the last week of August to the first week of October, the bulk of the crop being put in during the first and second week of September. Dawson's Golden Chaff is still the favorite variety of fall wheat, Red Clawson and over forty other vari-eties following

Red Clawson and eties following.

The Grain Crop. Barley has turned out well, taking the province over. The sample was generally plump, and while some discoloration was reported, that is not now considered a serious drawback, as most of the barley raised in this province is fed to live stock.

Oats—Oats were rather short in the straw, but the heads were well filled straw, but the heads were well filled with grain of good weight, and where the crop was not knocked down by rainstorms just before cutting, it was an unusually good one. On account of wet weather when harvesting, oats were harder to gather than in the case of the other spring grains.

Rye—This grain is not largely raised in Ontario, but where grown it is classed this season as from fair to good. Peas—This crop has been somewhat The vines suffered from drouth, and a green aphis also affected them, and as a result the pods were but poorly filled in most cases. The pea weevil was also reported in several localities.

Mixed Grains—Correspondents are hardly as enthusiastic over the growths. Editor McDougall, of Moncton, N. S., hardly as enthusiastic over the growing of mixed grains as they were a year ago. It is claimed by some that it is difficult ton, N. S., Vindicator, fell down stairs It is calmed by some that it is difficult to get the various grains to properly ripen together; but others still point to the advantage of a greater production by the combination. Mandscheuri barley and Daubeney oats are still the favorite mix-ture, while some prefer to add peas. Peas and oats, and oats, barley and peas, Peas and oats, and oats, barley and peas, also have their advocates.

Corn—While spring conditions were unfavorable for this crop, the summer and fall were ideal for its growth, and the term "splendid" is sometimes used by correspondents in describing the result. Corn escaped fall frosts almost entirely, was well cobbed, and matured in excellent condition both for hysking and the when on his way to the train he was lent condition both for husking and the Satisfactory Agreement Made by the Beans—Beans may be described as a medium crop, the early planted fields doing better than those put in late, were caught by rainy weather at Buckwheat—Some fields were caught between Grand Trunk officials and by early frost, and there was also injury from rain at the time of cutting; but the crop generally may be classed as an excellent one, as to both yield and quality. rangement in regard to wages has been made. The price of wheat is such that owners are holding back for a rise, or else will feed a good share of it later if present values of live-stock continue. Most of the barley is now fed on the farm, and less of the now led on the larm, and less of the oat crop is sent to market than formerly. Fall Plowing—Reports as to the progress of fall plowing vary greatly, even in same localities; but as a whole the work was fairly advanced when correspondents reported, with prospects of completion in good time. The land early in the fall was considered, rather days in the fall was considered rather dry and hard, but timely rains came and put it in splendid condition for plowing. Silo ling of plowing teams by many of the newer class of farm laborers, are the artee on the footrail, you have bought wisely. For "Ideal" Metal beds are made to satisfy, not merely to sell.

IDEAL REDDING CO. are high, and many farmers are now studying feeding equivalents. There has been a brisk demand for beef cattle, sheep and hogs all the season, and this has left less live stock on hand than usual. There is also the important fact that Ontario farmers, after the hard lesson of two or three years ago, have learned to feed more wisely, and there is now but little waste of fodder.

You cannot see the difference he-tween one metal bed and another— except in externals. Nor need you see, if you look for the "Ideal" Guar-antee. It is put on beds you can safely buy with eyes shut.
