SPENDID HORSES AT THE WINTER SHOW

Federal Grant May Be Obtained to Aid Fine Fair Annually.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Dec. 11.—One of the most successful days in the history of the fair was the verdict of those who are in close touch with the innumerable activities of the big winter show at the end of today's program. The day throughout was a busy one, and filled with interest every moment. There was something highly important and of practical value for everyone in the splendidly varied list of events.

The outstanding feature of the day's events was the horse show, which attracted a large company to the arena this afternoon. The two-year-old open class of Clydesdale stallions brought out an exceptionally fine string, and the winner "Prince of Aden" provoked great admiration.

Dairy Resolutions. At a largely-attended meeting of the Dairyman's Association, unanimously passed a resolution to establish a definite standard of temperature for cream sent to creameries, which was fixed at 55 degrees. Another resolution, based on statistics specifically compiled this year, showed that at least 85 per cent of hand separators used by farmers are washed only once a day. The association wants farmers to sell their milk according to test.

Alleging irregularities on the part of Robert Miller, of Stouffville, one of the judges of beef cattle at the winter fair, John Lowe, of Elora, protested today against the awarding yesterday of the grand championship to "Michef E," the pure Scottish Shorthorn heifer, bred by W. R. Elliott, of Guelph.

Mr. Lowe claimed that Mr. Miller had purchased the heifer from Mr. Elliott previous to awarding to it the premier honor, and that his decision was influenced. Today the cattle were judged. Prof. George E. Davis, president of the judges' stand, the same decision was reached as when first judged.

At the public meeting held in the city hall this evening an array of speakers entertained the audience. The chair was taken by the Hon. Jas. Duff, minister of agriculture, and with him on the platform were Hon. W. H. Hearst, Mayor Thorpe, H. C. Scholfield, M. P. E., and many others. A splendid musical program was provided, in which Captain Thomas Robinson and C. J. Pink, of London, took part.

Wm. Smith, M. P., vice-president of the fair, responded in behalf of the visitors. Mr. Smith referred to the great success of Canadian exhibitors at the great International Stock Show in Chicago. "I am told that the man who won the great successes with his Clydesdale horses came from this county," said Mr. Smith. He characterized the winter fair as probably the greatest educational factor in the sphere of agriculture, and in this account it was worthy of more creditable buildings and position.

The Hon. W. H. Hearst, in a fine address, dwelt upon the great resources and possibilities of the province of Ontario, both new and old parts, so-called. He expressed it as his opinion as a cabinet minister that when the board of the winter fair held their case before the Ontario Government they would receive every consideration from the members and ministers.

Interesting Addresses. In the lecture room, John Bright, live stock commissioner for the Dominion, and others, discussed the new law regarding the inspection and enrolment of stallions. Much criticism was voiced respecting the system of inspection, cases being cited where the horses had to be taken fifteen miles for the

BORDEN PEEVISH UNDER SHARP QUIZ BY LIB. LEADER

Sir Wilfrid Points Out That Naval Statement Indicates Secret Pact With Britain.

PREMIER REFUSES AN EXPLANATION

Declares That He Will Not Amplify Remarks—Wednesday in the Commons.

Ottawa, Dec. 11.—In spite of studied courtesy on both sides, there was unmistakably a flash of fire as the words of the Prime Minister and Sir Wilfrid Laurier crossed this afternoon in anticipation of the naval debate which the latter will open tomorrow. Sir Wilfrid called attention to a Canadian press cable from London which appeared in yesterday's papers, declaring that Mr. Asquith had stated in the House of Commons "that certain arrangements of a general character had been agreed upon between the admiralty and the Dominion Government with regard to the transfer of certain warships of the royal Canadian navy after sufficient notice had been given to allow of their being replaced by "placing in Canada of an order for some light cruisers."

The leader of the Opposition desired to know what this meant. Had there been an agreement between the British and Canadian Governments not disclosed to the Canadian Parliament?

Mr. Borden said that Mr. Asquith doubtless referred to what Mr. Borden himself had referred to in his speech last Thursday, namely, the likelihood of the admiralty having oil tank vessels, auxiliary cruisers and small ships built in Canada.

Sir Wilfrid's Suspicion. This reply did not altogether satisfy Sir Wilfrid. Laurier, said that upon reading over the speech of the Premier, he had found intimations of agreements of one kind or another. For example, the British admiralty was to build certain ships in Canada and the Canadian Government was to pay the extra cost of such construction and Canadians were to officer the Canadian Dreadnaughts. Was this an agreement, or did it relate to conversations Mr. Borden has had with some members of the Government or other officials in England?

The Prime Minister answered that he had made no statement in the House which was not justified by the facts. He was sure that whatever Mr. Asquith had said was precisely true, but he could not vouch for the accuracy of the cable report.

Premier nettled. Sir Wilfrid protested that his question had not been entirely answered. If there was any agreement between the British and Canadian Governments not heretofore disclosed it should be laid on the table of the House before the naval debate began.

Mr. Borden repeated his statement that he had spoken with authority on these subjects. Sir Wilfrid Laurier protested that he was entitled to know if there was any written agreement and what were its terms.

"The right hon. gentleman must accept my statement that I was authorized to make whatever statements I made to the House upon this subject," rejoined the Prime Minister, and Speaker Sproule abruptly brought the engagement to a close by calling the next item upon the order paper.

Highways Bill Up Again. Hon. Mr. Cochrane introduced his

Could Not Digest His Food

Suffered For Years From Indigestion Until Cured By Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett.

If you suffer from chronic indigestion, forget about the stomach and pay attention to the condition of the liver and bowels. Ten to one that is where the real trouble lies.

The liver gets sluggish and fails to filter the bile from the blood, the bowels become constipated and the whole digestive system is upset.

As to cure, you cannot do better than to read of Mr. Barrett's experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt and thoroughly effective.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes: "For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until in 1908 I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured. Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

CLERGYMAN INJURED. Toronto, Dec. 12.—Rev. William P. He was on his way to the Union Station to board a train for home, when he was struck by a Bathurst car, receiving a fracture of the base of the skull and injuries about the face and shoulder.
