Hopes to Escape.

Now it is understood the Government hopes to escape responsibility by doing its utmost to have the Senate reject the measure on the ground that it is establishing a dangerous prece-dent. One Liberal senator told The Advertiser tonight that certain of his Conservative colleagues in the Upper Chamber were quietly counselling the Brisk Demand for Other Lines rejection of the proposal. In this connection rumor mentions the names of Senator George Taylor, of Leeds, who was appointed to the Upper Chamber to create a "seat" for Hon. W. T. White, when the latter was taken into the Borden Cabinet to represent the "noble eighteen," Senator LaRiviere, of Provencher, and other Conservative members of the Upper House.

Conservative Senators Silent.
The purpose is believed to be to secure the co-operation of a sufficient number of Liberal senators to secure the rejection of the bill and the escape of the Government from what it regards as an embarrassing position. Senator Taylor had not returned to Ottawa tonight, and Senator La-Riviere declined to be interviewed by The Advertiser beyond stating that the bill created a dangerous precedent. Other Conservative senators would neither affirm nor deny their prospec-ive opposition to the measure. Meanwhile, the rumor is persistent that the Government is placating those of its followers who are protesting against the proposed bill by a quiet assurance that it is "merely playing politics," and that it will be prudently put to rest by the men- of the Red

Toronto, May 12.—Edward Cronyn & Co., members of the Toronto Stock Exchange, report fluctuations in Cobalt stocks for The Advertiser as follows:

Carpenters Expect to Secure Agreement with Master Builders.

> London carpenters are getting ready for the presentation of their claims for higher wages after June 1. Last evening there was a big meeting of the carpenters in St. George's Hall, when fifteen new members of the local union were initiated.

The union indorsed the action of the forty men who, yesterday, walked out of the new McCormick factory when a number of Italian laborers were set laying flooring with them. Members of the brotherhood declared that it was not right or fair that carpentery work should be given to laborers who can work nearly, or quite, all the year round, while the carpenters are compelled to lose a great deal of time due to weather conditions. The question was asked why the carpenters should be considered disgruntled because they see nothing fair in giving mechanical work, upon which they have depend for a living, to laborers. It was decided to hold a mass meeting in Hyman Hall next Wednesday evening when an effort will be made to have all carpenters of the city present. Members of the union are confident that they will be able to secure an agreement with the master builders for recognition of the union as well as the granting of an increased minimum wage and the regulation of work. They expect that before June 1, the agreement, draft copies of which have been in the hands of the master builders for some time, will have been signed by both the union representatives and
