Hon. Maurice Gifford, director of the B. C. Electric company, and R. H. Sperling, general manager of the company, were interviewed last evening with regard to the matter by a Colonist reporter. Mr. Gifford stated that he believed that the situation which had arisen in the last few days would accelerate the action of the London board of directors with regard to the development of the Shawnigan water records which have been approved by the lieutenant-governor in council. The cost of the development would amount to from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 and the result would be far more satisfactory than that derived from the Esquimalt Water company's Goldstream source of supply. Mr. Bell states that he has recently visited Chilcotin and had heard nothing of the Indians in that district trespassing upon the territory of the Shuswaps. There was a shortage of grouse, squirrel and chipmunk, but to counterbalance this, the supplies of deer and rabbit are abundant and there is no apparent danger of starvation.

The Indians have suffered somewhat from the lack of salmon but it is not likely that they will have any difficulty in providing a supply of food sufficient.
