A Fashionable Wedding Yesterday Mr. Chas. S. Wilbur of Rochester and Miss Aida King of Toronto.

The flutter among the ladies and the co sequent bustle among the milliners of the city, both of which usually precede some has py event, culminated last night on Jar vis street, and particularly at the Unitarian church. The inter sting ceremony was the marriage of Mr. Charles S. Wilbur, barrister at law, of Rochester, N.Y., and Miss Aida C. King, eldest daughter of Mr. J. D. King, of this city. Long before 8 o'clock, the appointed hour, that portion of the church left open to the public was packed by a great number, chi fly of course of the tair sex, who were no doubt at were they disappointed. Precisely at 8 c'clock the white ribbons were drawn and o'clock the white ribbons were drawn and the ushers, Messrs. P. B. Ball, Fred. F. Manley and John L. Davison, of Toronto, met the bridgal party. The bride entered on the arm of her father preceded by the bridganaids Misses Mary Wilcox of Rochester; Carrie Cochran of Buffalo; Carrie Walker of Silver Lake and Miss Katte Beatty of Toronto, and followed by the little flower girls the Misses Lizzie King and Maude Pearson, the whole forming a beautiful group.

They were met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. Bert Winlow of London.

During this time music was supplied by the Italian string band which was stationed in the gallery of the church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hillary Bygrave of Toronto, assisted by Rev. Geo. Cutler of Buffalo.

While the service is in progress we may venture to describe the dresses. The bride was elegantly attired in white satinduchesse and satin merveilleux brocade, trimmed with pearls, Honeton lace and water lillies, white veil and diamond nnaments.
The bridesmaids were dressed in white min's veiling and spanish lace and cream veils. All the ladies carried balls of veils. All the ladies carried balls of natural flowers suspended from the wrists by silver cords. Of the groom and groomsmen we may only add that being each about six feet in height they presented quite a military appearance.

After the service and the usual congratulations the party left the church the bride and groom preceded by the flower girls who scattered flowers along the aisle amid the music of the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn, and offerings of boquets tom friends and guests on each side. The party then repaired to the family residence on Jarvis street, where a reception was held by the happy couple and largely attended by the numerous friends of both, the announcements being made by the lined with flowers, a perfect canopy of lillies covering the bride and groom.

After the reception supper was provided in the adjacent rooms, at which the usual trasts were duly honored.

The presents were costly and numerous, that of the groom being a gold horseshee nail crossed by the ingital Wastin diamonds.

The parents of the bride presented a happy combination, viz. a piano and sewing happy combination, viz, a piano and sewing Among the guests and name scattered through the array of presents re re-noticed:

voted on to-day.

THE PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION ave issued a handbill advising ratepay ers to vote down the by-law. They asser ers to vote down the by-law. They assert first that the alleged improvements in the water system are unnecessary, that there is lack of engineering skill in the management of the water works, and that what is required could be done for much less money. One well-known member of the association said: 'The fact of the matter is that certain aldermen have betrayed too much of personal interest in larging on the passage of this by-law that disinterested people begin to think that all is not right in Denmark. Besides the full and clear report of the investigating comand clear report of the investigating committee of the Property-owners association so conclusive in the reasons they put in print for opposing the by-law, that it may turn out to be the fact that the demand, at the present time, partakes more of the nature of a job than a necessity.
