tion. They put no belief in the idea that there was a mysterious and shadowy future state from which an escape could be made by a bloket-of-leave paid for by friends. He summed up Protestantism as the Bible, faith and Christ. They should be on their guard against Papal claims for supremacy. He thought it a pity that a bachelor like the Pope is not sasisfied with a palace containing 8000 rooms. He declared that the children of all should be educated allike with no sectarian barriers. He denounced the Jesuits as men who have stirred up strife from the beginning. No sect should be granted special privileges. He warned them to stand for their right; in the words of the text; "Quis you like men, be strong."

Free Will and Responsibility.

Before commencing his lecture at Science Hall on free will and responsibility last night Charles Watts referred to M. Bradlaugh as the heroic leader of free thought in England. The lecture expressed regret that Mr. Bradlaugh has had a relapse in the serious attack of filness from which he is suffering.

In his fecture Mr. Watts argued that will or volition is dependent upon matter. This had been proven by experiment, and was no longer a theory. Will was merely a mental condition. There existed, the lecturer asserted, no such thing as freedom of will; the will was the absolute servant and slave of the motive was the master of the will, the will was the absolute servant and slave of the motive. Man possessed no power to choose how he should think as was instanced in the case of the savage, who, owing to the conditions and the savage who, owing to the conditions of the savage of twice months from the date of twelve months from the date of the sample of twelve months from the date of the limit of the condition in dependent upon matter. This had been proven by experiment, and was not regulations in regard to the inspected without the loss and detention to which such boilers constructed in the United Kingdom and inspected by the Imperial Board of Trade or English Lloyds, shall be exempt

Mr. S. C. Finlay of 290 Farley-avenue, an old and well-known citizen, wishes to give his experience with the Medical Institute for the Cure of Catarrh, Dyapensis and Chronic Diseases. located at 198 King-street west.

Mr. Finlay had suffered for months, tad consulted three physicians, one of whom treated him for six months; he continued to grow worse, his appetite failed, had a cough, this liver was inactive and greatly enlarged, the pain in his right lung was hard to bear, the palpitation of his heart prevented him from making but slight exertion, he was generally run down in health and was obliged to give up work, and he had almost given up hope when he was advised to try the physicians of the Medical Institute for the cure of Catarrh, Dyspepaia and Chronic Diseases, located at 198 King-street west, which he did, and in two mouths was a well man and is so to-day, although it is nearly two years since. Mr. Finlay is a good, conscientious and homorable man, and will be glad to talk with anyons who m y wish to call on him.

This institution besides treating Catarrh and Dyspepais, treats all chronic and private diseases, and this testimonial is only one of over six hundred testimonials which can be seen on application. No testimonial published without consent of patient. Office hours, 9 s.m. to 8 p.m., Sundays, 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.
